VOL. LII.—NO. 34 NEWTON MASS., FRIDAY, MAY 2, 1924. TERMS, $3.00 A YEAR

SUCCESSFUL DRIVE

The drive, which has been under way the past few months among the Masonic fraternity to pay off the mortgages on the Masonic Building at Newtonville, was concluded this week, and proved most successful, the entire amount being pledged by the Masonic bodies and by individual members.

On five different occasions, since the Masonic Building was erected, 25 years ago, the Masonic fraternity has unsuccessfully attempted to pay off the mortgages amounting to $83,500 on its property, and great credit is due the Newton Masonic Executive Council for the present successful effort. The officers of the Council are Austin H. Decatur, president; Clifford B. Whitney, vice president; Herbert C. Smith, secretary, and Dr. C. E. A. Ross, treasurer.

On Monday evening there was a mass meeting of Masons in the Masonic building, in charge of Mr. Fred M. Blanchard. There was an organ recital by Kenneth Usher, followed by an address on Scottish Rite Masonry by Rev. Frederic W. Hamilton, of the Supreme Council. Remarks were also made by Mayor Edwin O. Childs and Mr. A. H. Decatur, and a report made of the success of the drive.

Mason School

The program at the regular eighth grade class meeting consisted of recitations and musical selections; the most interesting of which were a monologue by Betty Lotz, a piano selection by Martha Wight, and seven bugle calls finely given by Robert Hayden.

The ping pong pictures and frames seem to be as popular as ever, judging from the numbers ordered and taken by the children this week.

School opened on Monday, after the week's vacation, with nearly every one, who had been quarantined by measles or mumps, back in his grade.

Tuesday afternoon, in a practice game between the Mason try-out team and the Bigelows, the latter won, 13-4.

WINS FIRST GAME

Newton High won its first Suburban League Game last Saturday by defeating Everett High, 2 to 1 on Claflin Field.

It was a long drawn out game, requiring 3 hours and 15 minutes. It was a pitchers' battle between Capt. Howard Whitmore of Newton High and Munroe of Everett High, with the honors about even. The former was touched up for seven hits, walked two and struck out 13, while Munroe allowed six hits, walked one and struck out 15.

Everett High obtained its run in the fourth. Forgione singled to right. Terrio sacrificed and was thrown out, Shaw to Holmes Whitmore. Bond walked. Forgione went to third on an error by O'Donnell, when an attempt was made to catch him at second. Bill Dearing then doubled, scoring Forgione.

Newton High tied the count up in the last of the fourth, Consodine fanned. Dewing reached first on an error by Bond. O'Donnell hit to Mortenson, who tossed Dewing out at second. O'Donnell stole second and scored shortly afterwards when Guy Holbrook singled to right.

Mahoney opened the 13th with a hit to left. Shaw dropped a bunt down and was thrown out, Munroe to Mortensen. Howard Whitmore hit one at the first baseman which was too hot for him to handle and it went into right field. Holmes Whitmore laid down a bunt for a nifty squeeze play and Mahoney scored from third, which gave the Garden City ine the game.

ANNUAL MEETING Y.W.C.A.

The Annual Membership Meeting and Banquet of the Y. W. C. A. was held on Friday, April 25th at the rooms. After an enjoyable supper, during which there was much cheering and singing, the annual reports were read and short addresses were made by Mrs. Louis Stoughton Drake, President, and Mr. Arthur Dunham of the Newton Central Council. The tellers then reported the number of votes cast and the result of the election. Those elected were—Mrs. Louis S. Drake, President; Mrs. H. H. Powers, Vice-President; Miss Helen A. Woodman, Secretary; Mrs. William A. Somerby, Treasurer; Mrs.: G. Albert Aston, Publicity Chairman; Miss Margaret Aubin, Auditor; Mrs. Willard Sampson, Chairman of Finance; Miss Florence White, Girls' Work Chairman and Miss Gertrude Gower. Membership Chairman. After the business of the meeting was over the following program was enjoyed by all. The March of the Roman Soldiers by members of the Children's Gym Class, Demonstration Exercises by the Adult Gym Class, an Initiation Service by the Grade School Girl Reserves, an Indian Pageanette depicting the spirit of the Girl Reserve Movement, by the High School Girl Reserves, and a very enjoyable and humorous one-act comedy by the Blue Triangle Club.

On Monday, April 28th, the Blue Triangle Club, which is composed of business girls, enjoyed a short talk on Christian Citizenship by Mayor Edwin O. Childs. Mr. Childs said the three essentials toward being a good citizen were first, registering at the poles; second, attending the primaries; and third, voting at the election. He said it was a very strange thing that people who considered themselves good people and good citizens were very careless about these three things; they voted if they thought of it and if it happened to be a good day. He said the Christian Citizen was the one who stretched forth a helping hand to others, was loyal to the church and to the pastor. If we keep our eyes open and help when we can, then this is Service and this is what the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. is.

On Tuesday, April 29th, Miss Caroline Peirce, General Secretary, Miss Martha O'Brien, President of the Business Girls' Club and Miss Harriet Broad, left for New York to represent the Newton Young Women's Christian Association at the National Convention in New York City.

WEST NEWTON NEIGHBORHOOD HOUSE

Dr. Keever is the physician, and Miss Elliott the nurse now in attendance at the baby clinic.

Miss Minchin and Miss Moore entertained the mothers of the neighborhood Wednesday evening. About 40 guests were present.

The children at the Neighborhood House are looking forward to two important events, the "Commencement Exercises" of the Nursery School, which are to take place on the morning of Friday, May 23, and "May Day," the afternoon of the following day.

Miss Dorothy Davis of Boston University is the instructor in the new classes in bead making, which will begin Monday. The enrollment is limited to thirty people, and is now almost complete.

On account of rainy weather in the morning, only 19 babies came out to the clinic yesterday afternoon.

LIGHT VOTE CAST

With a total registration of 18,968, there were 2715 Republicans and 397 Democrats who took enough interest in the selection of presidential delegates to vote at the primary held last Tuesday.

With no opposition to the list of delegates and alternates selected by Mr. Thomas W. White of this city as the personal representative of President Coolidge, there was nothing to bring out the Republican vote except the feeling of true citizenship which is sadly lacking in this country.

Governor Cox led the ticket for delegates at large with 2655 votes with Butler second with 2589, followed by Gillett with 2588, Lodge 2584, Bird 2576, Sherburne 2555, and Hall 2508.

The vote for alternate at large was as follows—Thayer 2347, Putnam 2352, Innes 2279, Rogers 2324, Stevens 2334, Browne 2306, and Borden 2316.

For district delegates, Macomber had 2514 while White trailed behind with but 2425. Bremer and Kirwin for district alternates had 2349 and 2281 respectively.

The expected contest for Democratic delegates did not materialize in Newton, only 397 votes being cast. Senator Walsh had 287, Lyman 204, Ely 194, Doherty 204, MacDonald 196, Fitzgerald 198, Herbert 140 and Cole 162.

For alternates at large Caerier had 150, O'Hearn 185, Healy 177, Ginsburg 131, Fry 140, Quincy 132, Heffernan 155, Bacigalupo 104, and Doyle 119.

For district delegates, Taylor had 135, Daley 158, McCarthy 152, Donahue 129, Coakley 160, Heffernan 117, McSweeney 134, Crehan 103, Cauley 39 and McGillicuddy 37.

For district alternates, Sullivan had 183, Clarke 159, O'Hearn 177, O'Gorman 143, Field 66, Bradley 58, Murphy 93 and Leary 90.

The vote was so light that it was reported to City Clerk Grant early in the evening, all precincts reporting before eight o'clock.

"OFFICER 666"

George N. Roberts scored another dramatic success in producing, as his big play of the year at the Waban Neighborhood Club, "Officer 666." This was presented on Friday and Saturday evenings of last week.

The play, which was described as "A Melodramatic Farce" was full of action and the interest was well retained.

The title role was very pleasingly taken by Dr. H. L. Andrews, who so successfully carried the lead in last year's big play, "Mr. Pim Passes By."

Norman B. Clark, a recent comer to Waban, and a very versatile actor, represented the hero, a millionaire art collector, in whose living room the whole action takes place. His intimate friend, as portrayed by Arthur T. Soule, added much of a comedy element, though his characterization seemed overdrawn.

George R. Walker gave a finished portrayal of the villain, and made him appear quite an appealing figure.

The difficult role of Jap boy was very creditably taken by Carl H. Gore, who was, for some time, unrecognized by his closest friends.

George Roberts (himself) presented an imposing appearance as Police Captain, while his Lieutenants, Wm. M. Buffman and Dana M. Dutch caused much laughter by their zeal in fulfilling orders.

Herbert O. Stetson and Herbert S. Good as a plain clothes man and a chauffeur respectively, were very acceptable. Of the three women in the cast, Mrs. Robert W. Moore made a stunning (if distracted) aunt of a would-be eloping niece. The latter, Mrs. G. F. Williams, gave a pleasing representation of a romantic girl, who had no difficulty in transferring her affections from the villain to the hero, when his identity was revealed.

The personel pulchitrude of Dorothy Gormley, as the younger niece, added to the charm of the play.

Large audiences were in attendance on both evenings.

ROTARY CLUB

The Boston Rotary Club held its annual ladies' night at the Woodland Golf Club House on Monday evening. There was a large attendance and dancing and an excellent entertainment followed the banquet.

OLDEST RESIDENT DEAD

Mrs. Caroline Jenison Barker, who died at her home at "The Caroline" in West Newton on Thursday, May 1, 1924, was born in West Newton, February 26, 1827, and has always resided there.

She was the daughter of Elias and Elizabeth Jenison, who were born in Newton in 1797 and 1798. She was the last surviving member of a family of ten children.

She was married to Aaron Barker of West Newton, April 9th, 1846. She was the mother of six children. Two sons survive her, Orrin F. Barker of West Newton, and George J. Barker of Waltham. She leaves four grandchildren, nine great grand children and two great great grandchildren, one being nine years old. She recently entertained the five generations.

She was the oldest member of the Second Church of West Newton, having united with the church March 7, 1852.

Mrs. Barker was the oldest resident of West Newton, who was born and always lived there. She saw the first train on the Boston & Worcester Railroad, and the airship "Shenandoah" on its trip to Boston.

She has passed the summer months for the past sixteen years at her summer home in Wells, Maine.

Funeral services will be held at the Second Church of West Newton, Sunday afternoon at three o'clock.

LODGES

—The Newton Masonic Executive Council will hold a costume party at Temple hall on May 10th.

INTERESTING TALK

Mr. Edward Jones Cox gave on Tuesday evening his entertainment "Curious Happenings on April 19, 1775" in the Universalist Church. A quartet, Miss Sanderson, Mrs. Abbot, Mr. Perry, and Mr. Scarborough sang at appropriate places in the program three songs of Mr. Cox's composition, "Massachusetts Song," "America, My Home," and "Unafraid America," also Mr. Martin Albrecht sang "Brave Hearts," and "There Is No Death," all to organ accompaniment by Miss Lillian West, Mr. Cox's fife, accompanied by the drum of his son, John E. Cox, snare drummer in the 33rd Regiment, Coast Artillery, World War, played "Yankee Doodle," and "The March to Boston." Comrade E. H. Stoddard of the G. A. R., whose service included the Capture of New Orleans, trooped "Old Glory;" Comrade Alvin R. Bailey, whose service included the Battle of Cedar Creek, where Sheridan made his famous ride, trooped the flag of the Sons of the American Revolution; Comrade Newton Lucas, who served in the Newton company of the 5th Regiment in the Spanish American War, trooped the Massachusetts State Flag; and Comrade Reverend Clifford D. Newton, pastor of the church, who served in France in the 305th Infantry, trooped the Betsy Ross flag. Also Captain Breed and Sergeant Cutler of the Lexington Minute Men trooped their flag, which is a reproduction of the "flag to April's breeze unfurled" at Concord Bridge, by the Bedford minutemen. Mr. Cox expressed a strong desire that the Newton Historical Society and the Newton Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution, might be is a problem in large cities.

A friend of ours recently spent thirty-five minutes trying to locate a parking space for his machine in a large city. Another man spoke of being refused permission to park in the vicinity of a safe deposit vault where he wished to deposit some securities.

Because of the above described conditions confronting motorists suburban banking is becoming more and more popular.

Think it over and patronize your local bank.

The ceremony took place at the home of the bride and was performed by the Rev. Fred W. Peakes of the Lincoln Park Baptist Church, West Newton.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by DOROTHY DRAKE

Albert Edgar Angier School

The highest honors in the arithmetic contest going on for the past ten weeks in Mrs. Leavitt's room were warded to Herbert Gordon, 3rd grade and Joseph Godino, 4th grade. Laura Wood, 3rd grade, and Robert Patterson, 4th grade won second honors.

On Monday morning, Mr. John Bush of the Fairmont Creamery Company presented the Angier School two reels of moving pictures, showing how butter is manufactured. Besides butter this company also deals in chickens and eggs. This is the 40th anniversary of the company and the output for 1924 was 60,000,000 pounds. There are 14 creameries throughout the west and 15 sales-houses. The pictures were shown in the following order first the cows in the clover followed by the milking. The cream was then brought to sub-stations and from there shipped to creameries. At the creamery it was first tested, and then skimmed and sterilized. The cream was tested again before churning. The butter milk was then washed off by ice cold water from artesian wells. It was then packed in tubs and kept in the refrigerator until ready to be shipped to the sales-houses. After it was boxed it was tested by tasting. The last pictures showed the Better Butter being served in the home. It takes ten quarts of milk to make a pound of Better Butter.

Every man employed in the Fairmont Creamery is an expert with scrubbing-brush and would make a good husband. This shows that the men have lived up to their excellent motto: first, "Be Clean," and second, "Be Careful."

Wednesday afternoon the Angier School baseball team played the Brooks School from Medford. Up to the eighth the score was 4-1 in favor of Medford. Kilburn Adams, Jr., in the last of the eighth, hit a two-base hit with three men on bases bringing the score to a tie. The ninth inning was played with neither team scoring. Our coach decided not to play another inning so the game was called a draw.

Grace Wyeth, Carol Upham and Arthur Chamberlain had charge of the news for this week.

Underwood School

The Underwood School was used for the first time on Monday. Appropriate exercises began the day, the children marching from the Bigelow School. Ten rooms were occupied.

The ventilation of the school makes use of the latest devices, and the lighting is an attractive feature. The walls are of a dainty color, and the wood work keeps its natural color.

Especially charming is the kindergarten room in the right wing with its many windows and beautiful view of Farlow Park. Under this are to be the sewing room and cooking school.

Off of the Kindergarten room is a doctor's room immaculately white. Over this is the library. There is to be an open air room over the Kindergarten. Everywhere are roomy closets. An emergency room is also noteworthy.

Altogether the new building, although not yet completed, is a most attractive one.

Stearns School

Miss Trask, Miss Stewart and Miss Walker spent the vacation in Washington.

Mr. Winslow and family spent the week at Brewster Park.

Miss Sears and Miss Swan went to the Cape.

Miss Smith went to her home in Skowhegan, Maine.

Stearns School Center

Boys and girls in the community are looking forward to the dress rehearsal that will be Saturday, May 3rd, for the girls in the Reach-a-Point Club who are in the play, "The Mouse Trap" and the artistic dance, "Novelette." On Monday evening, May 5th, both the Boys and Girls' Club will give an entertainment in the school hall at 8 o'clock.

The Mothers' Club election of officers was held on Monday evening, April 28th. After the election plans were made for the Annual banquet that is to be on May 12th, at 7 o'clock.

F. A. Day Junior High School

The Girls' Nutrition Club had charge of the Assembly this week. The play, entitled the "Garden of Hours" has been coached under the direction of Mrs. Jennings from the Food and Dairy Council and the two club leaders, Miss Mason and Mrs. Sandwall. The costumes are donated by the Food and Dairy Council.

The following girls interpreted their parts admirably: Addra Saunders, Father Time; Jane MacDermott, Joy; Dorothy Sharp, May Terrio, two girls seeking a way to spend each hour of the day: Ruth Irwin, Emma Champagne, Happy Girls; Verna Mitchell, Doris Guilford, Listless Girls; Mary Cunniff, the Mother; Mary Dempsey, Teacher; Olivia Vuillemier, Lillian Leach, Winifred Shorton, Greta Purdy, Eleanor Carpenter, Basketball Girls; Lena Jasset, Caroline Schade, the Screen Bearers.

The screen bearers unfolded the screens showing the pantomimes for each hour: Estelle Cyr, Catherine Quinn, Clara Quinn, Barbara Dobyns, Dancers for the Hour; Virginia Brown, Solo Dancer.

The properties were in charge of Eleanor Muray, Anna Cavanaugh, Alice LeFevre, Helen Coakley and Marjorie Treadwell.

Those who were so fortunate as to be invited to the "movies" given in our Assembly Hall Tuesday afternoon under the auspices of the Mathematics Club, enjoyed a peculiarly lucid representation of Einstein's Theory. The importance of a new theory such as this one was correlated very vividly, by means of the pictures, to the history of civilization. Experiments were filmed to show the relativity of measurement, motion, speed and size.

The prizes, which we recently announced would be offered by the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club for the best animal stories were awarded to four of our members: Eleanor Mildram, Marjorie Paige, Albert Yanco, and Annie Antonnellis.

George Custeau appeared upon the stage wearing the school's baseball uniform. Our team meets that of the St. Charles School, Waltham, this week, the first of the fourteen games scheduled for the Junior High Team. Every Friday afternoon the team will play on the Cabot Park field.

Lasell News

Miss L. R. Potter, preceptress of Lasell Seminary, returned Wednesday, April 30, from a weeks western trip, during which time she attended Lasell Club meetings in Chicago, Cleveland, Toledo, and Indianapolis.

The Lasell Glee Club and Mandolin Club will join with the Tufts Glee Club and give a concert at the Auburndale Club House, Wednesday evening.

The regular meeting and dinner of the Boston Friday Evening Club will be held at Lasell Seminary, Auburndale, Mass., May 2, where they will be the guests of Dr. G. M. Winslow, who is a member of the club.

MRS. ANNIE KIMBALL

The funeral of Mrs. Annie Kimball, who died last Monday at the Newton hospital was held Wednesday morning from St. John's Catholic Church, Wellesley, the services being conducted by Rev. Father McLeod. Mrs. Kimball was the widow of the late Joseph Kimball, and had lived in Newton Lower Falls for about fifteen years, making her home on Grove street.

The deceased was very popular with a large circle of friends, and this fact was attested by the large number of beautiful floral pieces sent to her late home.

A very touching incident in this connection was the gift of one of her young friends of a plant which he had received at Easter from one of his Sunday school teachers, and which he requested be placed upon her grave.

In accordance with the boy's wishes the plant was taken by her relations to the Holy Cross Cemetery in Malden, and young Hudson McIntyre will have the satisfaction of knowing that his tender tribute was placed on top of the mound that marks the last resting place of all that was mortal of Mrs. Annie Kimball.

NORUMBEGA DISTRICT

The District Sunday School Convention, held at the Immanuel Church, Waltham, last Monday evening, was the largest attended Convention held in years by the District Association. There were nearly 75 persons for the dinner, and the church was crowded in the evening to listen to Margaret Slattery.

The nominating committee brought in a report for the following officers for the ensuing year: Wm. S. Timbie of West Newton, President; Everett A. Greene, of Newton Centre, 1st Vice-president; Nathan Heard of Newton, 2nd vice president; Royal M. Frye of Waltham, 3rd vice president; Miss H. Bernice Adams, recording secretary; Miss Luliona Barker, Executive Secretary; Mr. C. A. Haskell, Treasurer; and Mr. R. O. Walter, chairman of the finance committee. Mr. Walter reported that a budget of $4500 would be needed for the coming year, $3000 of which should be raised by contributions from individuals in different parts of the District.

Miss Slattery spoke upon the need for religious education in the world, showing how slow, constructive work of this sort is necessary to build up Christian citizenship and world brotherhood. It is the only thing that can answer the pessimism of some of the present day philosophers, who say that the signs of the day point to an overthrow of this thing we call civilization. The work of religious education is like the coming of dawn over a darkened world.

Among the coming events announced by the officers was the Musical Festival, which is the next big event planned by the District. This Festival will take place at Eliot Church, Newton, at 4 p. m., on Sunday, May 18th, as it has for the past five years. The theme of this occasion will be "The Life of Christ in Hymns," and the close of the program will give the missionary emphasis. William Lester Bates, director of the Newton Choral Society, will be the Festival director.

"TWEEDLES"

"TWEEDLES." A comedy in three acts, by Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson, to be given by the Village Players of Newton Centre on the evenings of Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 8th, 9th and 10th, at 8 P. M., in the Parish Play House, Unitarian Church, Newton Centre Square.

Julian, scion of the blue-blooded Castleburys, falls in love in Winsora Tweedle, daughter of the oldest family in a Maine village. The Tweedles esteem the name because it has been rooted in the community for 200 years, and they look down on "summer people" with the vigor that only "summer boarder" communities know.

The Castleburys are aghast at the possibility of a match, and call on the Tweedles to urge how impossible such an alliance would be. Mr. Castlebury laboriously explains the barrier of social caste, and the elder Tweedle takes it that these unimportant summer folk are terrified at the social eminence of the Tweedles.

Tweedle generously agrees to cooperate with the Castleburys to prevent the match. But Winsora brings her father to realize that in reality the Castleburys look upon them as inferiors. The old man is infuriated, and threatens vengeance, but is checkmated when Julian unearths a number of family skeletons and argues that father isn't a Tweedle, since the blood has been so diluted that little remains. Also, Winsora takes the matter into her own hands and outfaces the old man. So the youngsters go forth triumphant. "Tweedles" is Booth Tarkington at his best.

EDITORIAL

We are glad to give space this week to the letter of Mr. George M. Angier in regard to school matters and urge its careful perusal by all our readers. We intend to offer no apology for our attitude toward school expenditures, believing that the tendency of the school committee is to unduly emphasize the importance of education at the expense of other city departments.

Specifically, by Mr. Angier's own statement, it is evident that the $2500 recently appropriated for an investigation of High School conditions and the necessity for enlargement was too large, $250 being paid to Prof. Inglis and $1000 for an architect, leaving an unexpended balance of $1250 as an unnecessary burden on the tax payers of this year, as this balance will not become an asset until the close of the financial year.

—o—

One of our legal friends has called our attention to the fact that a judge must find that a person is operating a motor vehicle "under the influence of liquor" before imposing sentence and that often times, a man who has taken a drink of liquor may not be "under its influence." Some men, for instance can drink almost to excess and yet not be legally "under the influence" while others would be intoxicated after taking but one drink. We grant that there may be a defect in the present law on this point, but, what we protest against, is the light sentence given by some judges after finding that the persons before them are guilty of operating while under the influence. The first requires legislation, the second requires judges who will protect the public.

—o—

The city government ought to take speedy action in passing some kind of a traffic ordinance, as the rapid increase in the number of automobiles and trucks causes more and more congestion and danger. At Newton, the patrons of the Community Theatre are wholly regardless of the rights of the storekeepers of that section and park their cars for two or three hours at a time wherever and whenever they please, making it difficult for customers to reach the stores and at the same time endangering the lives of persons who attempt to cross the street where they are parked.

—o—

The light vote in Newton for presidential delegates should not be taken as an indication of the people toward the nomination and election of President Coolidge. We will show the country where we stand on that issue next November and we have every confidence that Newton will cast the biggest vote in its history at that time.

The attention which has been given to the hearings by the committee on Public Safety on the matter of protecting street traffic shows the interest of the public in this serious matter. And in the face of this almost universal approval of further restrictions on automobile traffic, some of our district court judges continue to coddle drunken operators by the imposition of mere fines for jeopardizing the lives of the people.

—o—

The Masons in this vicinity are to be congratulated on their success in raising money enough to pay off the mortgages on the Masonic Building. This building has been used for Masonic purposes for about 25 years, and it has been a case of "Let George do it" when it came to raising funds for this purpose. Now, "George" has done it.

AN INTERESTING TALK

revived, also that the Eliot Memorial might be completed by the addition of a bas relief of John Eliot preaching to the Indians of the Nonantum tribe.

The following incidents of Newton men's participation on April 19th will give an idea of the character of the entertainment. "In Newton, the minutemen were early in responding to the alarm on the Old Training Field in Newton Centre. None of the company officers appearing, it was voted to choose a captain for the day. Michael Jackson, who had served in the French and Indian War, was chosen by uplifted hands. Without the slightest formality or a word of thanks for the honor, he gave his commands, "Shoulder Arms. Quick Time. Forward March." On arriving at Watertown, they found the officers in consultation in the schoolhouse. This protempore captain accused the officers of wasting time. "Not now the wag of the tongue, but the pull of the trigger." They struck the reinforcements of Lord Percy, and hung on their flank till nightfall. General Warren thanked this company on the field for their bravery, and Jackson later became Colonel and General, and one of Washington's right hand men.

From Newton came also Abraham Fuller, to whom, as a member of the Committee on Supplies was intrusted the exact return of military stores in Massachusetts. Fearful that the British spies might find out how woefully deficient the colonists were in all sorts of supplies, he took the papers containing the returns to his home in Newton, from the committee room of the Provincial Congress in Concord. That this was providential was proven when the British column arrived in Concord, for a British officer broke open the cabinet in which the papers had been kept, and expressed the keenest disappointment at failing to find the coveted papers.

One of Newton's soldiers was a colored slave, Pompey Jackson, who fought all thro the war, and received his freedom. He settled near the Theological Institution in Andover, and I wonder how many of its graduate know for whom is named the beautiful little sheet of water near by, on which they have skated, fished and gathered lilies, while calling it Pomp's Pond.

The Newton Chapter, Sons of the American Revolution, some years ago, had not the slightest difficulty in obtaining from the City Fathers an appropriation sufficient to place on the grave of every Newton soldier of the Revolution which we could locate the S. A. R. marker. Thus Newton ranks up with Sudbury, Bedford and other towns whose "embattled farmers" rallied when they saw that liberty was in danger, in seeing that the last resting places of these determined freemen are suitably remembered on Memorial Day."

NEWTON CLUB

A very attractive luncheon and bridge was held this week Wednesday at the Newton Club, this being the annual luncheon and bridge of the Club.

Mrs. Rupert C. Thompson was chairman of the luncheon and Mrs. Henry R. Nash was chairman of the bridge.

The dining rooms were decorated with festoons of yellow crepe paper, the window being in overdrape style. Colored glass flower bowls containing yellow roses, freesia and jonquils formed a most attractive centerpiece.

Crystal candlesticks, yellow tapers and nut baskets in rose design carried out the color scheme.

Those assisting the chairman of the luncheon were Mrs. Robert Graham, Mrs. W. T. Halliday, and Mrs. C. P. Johnson, who was in charge of the tickets.

Mrs. Curtis Delano assisted by Mrs. K. B. Hastings, Mrs. T. Cushman, Mrs. Gibson, Mrs. F. Tennant, Mrs. Edward Richardson, Mrs. E. P. Hendrick, Mrs. John Moench, Mrs. P. E. Woodward and Mrs. Herbert Peters had charge of the waitresses. The latter were most attractively dressed in white, while yellow crepe aprons and small caps to match carried out the color scheme.

Following the luncheon all adjourned to the Ball Room, where Mrs. Henry Nash with Mrs. H. Sumner assisting, planned a most enjoyable afternoon of bridge and Mah Jong.

There were twenty-four tables in all. Those who won prizes were Mrs. W. Lloyd Allen, Mrs. W. B. Henderson, Mrs. Blake, Mrs. Prescott, Mrs. Edward.

Owing to the bad weather the May Party for the children, which was to have been held in Cabot Park was held in the Club House. Mrs. Arthur LeBaron and Mrs. Joseph Cryan were in charge. About one hundred children enjoyed the festivities. Jeannette Cryan was the May Queen, and Bruce Allen, the King, while Marion Grant was the May Fairy.

MRS. SILLINDA M. KIMBALL

Mrs. Sillinda M. Kimball, wife of William F. Kimball of Newtonville, and daughter of the late Fayette and Lavantia Shaw, died at her home, 230 Walnut street, April 28th. She was born in Detroit, Maine, Dec. 4, 1857, but came to Newtonville when quite young, was educated in the Newton schools, and has spent the greater part of her life here when she has had a large circle of friends. Her sickness being of short duration, her death came as a great shock to all. Mrs. Kimball was always interested in social and charitable activities and her memory will long be cherished.

She was treasurer of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Universalist Parish, was a member of the D. A. R. Lucy Jackson Chapter, Newtonville Women's Club, Massachusetts Daughters of Maine.

She leaves besides her husband, a son, Morton S. Kimball of Cambridge, a daughter, Katharine E. Kimball of Newtonville, a sister, Mrs. Florence E. Curtis, of Abington, and a brother, F. D. Shaw, of Phillips, Wisconsin.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon in Newton Cemetery Chapel. A large number of her relatives and friends were present. There were many floral tributes. Her pastor, Rev. Clifford D. Newton, conducted the service.

DEATH OF OFFICER CONDRIN

William H. Condrin, for over 30 years a member of the Newton Police Department, died suddenly Friday night at his home on Sheridan avenue, West Newton.

Officer Condrin was born in Newton and was 60 years of age. He became a member of the department on January 4, 1892, and has given faithful and valuable service to the city.

He is survived by his widow, three sons, William H. Condrin, Jr., James Condrin, Leo Condrin and one daughter, Miss Margaret J. Condrin.

A high mass of requiem was sung at St. Bernard's Church, West Newton, on Monday, by Rev. John J. Allston. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery. Prayers at the grave were said by Rev. William T. A. O'Brien. The funeral cortege from the house to the church and from the church to the cemetery was led by a detail of 40 police officers, members of the Newton Police Department, in charge of Sergeant Thomas F. Leehan. As the casket was carried from the church to the hearse, the officers lined up on each side of the church steps stood at attention. The pallbearers were brother officers of W. H. Condrin and were as follows Maurice F. Kiley, Daniel McLaughlin, John Davis, Judson Sartwell, Henry Marriner, John J. Foristall, John R. Foristall and Michael Connelly. Mayor Edwin O. Childs, Chief of Police Bernard F. Burke, Captain James Mullen, Lieuts. Desmond and Hughes, Lieut. Robert Harrison, retired; Inspector Fletcher, retired; Sergt. Clay, retired, and many friends of the late officer, attended the funeral.

POLICE COURT

Guiseppe Forto of 201 Chapel street, Newton, was in Court Monday morning charged with operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested Sunday evening at 8.40 by Patrolmen Eliot, Tegan and T. Riley. With Forto were Frank Dellicucchi of 26 Beech street and Luigi Tedesco of 11 Quirk court, Newton. The last two named were fined $5 each for being drunk, while Forto's case was continued until Monday, May 5.

James E. Davidson, a gardener, of Weston, was in Court Thursday morning, charged with perjury, and with him was Louis Giampietro, 40, a gardener, of Sibley road, Weston, charged with subornation of perjury. The men were arrested by Inspector Daniel J. Doyle of the Highway Department and Patrolman Clancy. Giampietro, according to the testimony, applied for a license to operate an automobile, at the Commonwealth Armory, Boston, a week ago, and was turned down on the ground of illiteracy. Wednesday morning he filled out a second application for a license, went to the examining station at Police Station 3, Newton, and filed it. Davidson was with him. Instead of taking the examination, Giampietro had Davidson sit behind the wheel, it is claimed, but when Davidson signed the slip given him by Inspector Doyle the difference in signatures was noted and both men were arrested. Davidson pleaded guilty and Giampietro not guilty. Probable cause was found in each case and they were held in $300 each for the Grand Jury.

Four runaway boys were in court yesterday. Wm. Harvey, 10, and Jos. St. Clair, 11, both of Waverley, were picked up Wednesday night in Nonantum square by Patrolman F. Feeley, and in Newton Upper Falls, Thomas Welsh, 11, at 479 East 6th street, South Boston, and John O'Brien, 10, of 32 Joseph street, South Boston, were found wandering in the dark by Patrolman Dan Crowley. They were turned over to their parents yesterday.

Two other boys were reported lost from the State Temporary Home in Wellesley, Donald Barnes and Stanley Slobowski, and the police are searching for this pair.

SHORTELL-DOHERTY

The wedding of Miss Louise Leonie Doherty, the daughter of Mr. John J. Doherty of Waban street, Newton, and Dr. Joseph H. Shortell of Boston took place yesterday morning at the Church of Our Lady, where Rev. Walter J. Roche, celebrated the nuptial mass in the presence of a large number of friends.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was attended by her sister, Miss Kathleen Doherty as maid of honor. Mr. Daniel Vaughn was the best man and the ushers were Dr. John Foley, Dr. Howard Clute, Dr. Martin Crotty and the bride's brother, Harold Doherty.

The bride wore an imported gown of white crepe embroidered with crystal beads and having a long train of cloth of silver. Her veil was of tulle, with a coronet of princess lace and orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley, arranged as a shower. The maid of honor wore blue chiffon and a blue hat trimmed with pink roses, and she carried roses and larkspur.

A reception at the family home was attended by a large number of guests, to whom was served a wedding breakfast. An orchestra played for dancing. The house was decorated with quantities of forsythia, snapdragon, larkspur and other spring flowers.

ANNUAL LUNCHEON

The Annual Luncheon of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. was held in Y. M. C. A. hall on Thursday, Mrs. Charles D. Kepner, president, presiding.

Mayor Edwin O. Childs, a member of the association since 1884 was the first speaker. Mayor Childs told of his experiences as a charter member of the Newton Boys' Department and of how much such experiences had meant to him.

He then went on to tell why women should support the organization. In the first place, women have certain contributions to make which men need. There is no men's organization which does not have its women's auxiliary. No organization can do without women.

In the second place, women, as citizens, should support the Y. M. C. A., which stands for the highest type of manhood in the community. The boy problem is the biggest problem of the community. Boys are controlled by leaders, and the Y. M. C. A. controls those leaders. The test of the community is its interest in the Y. M. C. A.

In the third place, the Y. M. C. A. is a character builder. It is a well balanced organization, as the triangle, its emblem, indicates. It answers the needs of body, mind, and spirit.

Lastly, the Y. M. C. A. is the best investment possible for a community. Upon it depends the character of the future citizens of the community. It is non-sectarian, and points the boy to the church.

Following Mayor Childs, Mr. Chase Kepner, chairman of the Boys' Department, told of the very excellent work of Mr. Hess, Secretary of the Boys' work of the Y. M. C. A. He spoke of a co-operation with the home as the key note of the work, and told of the importance of dealing with the leisure time of the boy.

In the Newton Y. M. C. A. there are four young men who show the boys what to do in their leisure time and how to do it.

One of its valuable features is the Hi-Y Club, which deals with boys of High School age. The motto of this organization is clean speech, clean sports, and clean scholarship. As a result of the good work in the Boys' Department, that department has increased this year from 250-500 members.

After Mr. Kepner, Mr. Hess told very briefly of Camp Frank A. Day and of the 124 boys and leaders who spend eight weeks every summer there.

The entertainment of the afternoon was furnished by Mr. Pitt Parker, who made a number of clever drawings, political and otherwise, with running comments which were much enjoyed by all present.

Miss Sylvia Lovejoy also gave much pleasure by her piano solos. Especially attractive were the decorations which consisted of streamers of tissue paper in May colors, and wall flowers loaned for the occasion by the Newtonville Woman's Club. Miss Margaret Baker and Miss Ball were in charge of the decorations.

About one hundred people attended the luncheon.

A HISTORY OF NEWTON

I have secured the balance of the edition of the Photographic Reproduction of "History of the Early Settlement of Newton from 1639 to 1800," with a Genealogical Register of its inhabitants prior to 1800, by Francis Jackson. This book was published at $3.00, and my price will be 85 cents a copy as long as they last. This book, at this price, should interest every citizen of Newton. As the supply is limited, copies should be secured at once. The original edition of this book sells for from $6.00 to $10.00, according to condition.

Asked Too Much.

Jones was a lawyer who was not particularly bothered about the ethics of the profession. Most of the cases he brought into court were a bit shady. In fact his enemies did not hesitate to brand him "shyster" and the courts in which Jones practiced were thoroughly disgusted with his practices. In one case in which he was defending a man with a notorious criminal record he made an impassioned plea before the judge, concluding:

"And all I want for my client, your honor, is justice. Plain, simple justice!"

"In that case I am very sorry," the judge told him, "but the law limits me to a 15-year sentence!"

His Wife's Job.

A shiftless specimen of humanity came downtown one morning, and joining a group on a corner, announced that he was going to leave town—said he could not live in it any longer. Some one asked him what was the matter.

"Well," he said, "the town is all right; but it's the hardest place in the world for a woman to get work in."—Everybody's Magazine.

BIRDS FAVOR DUST BATHS

Creatures of the Wild Are Extremely Clean and Well-Groomed Except When Ill.

Creatures of the wild, both birds and beasts, are extremely clean. Feathers and coats are invariably sleek and well-groomed, unless the creature is unwell. It is a sure sign that something is wrong if you see ruffled feathers or a coat that is tangled and dirty.

Birds use both water and dust for cleaning themselves. Some prefer one, some the other. The sparrow likes a dust bath, though when the weather is very warm he may be seen splashing about in the roadside puddles after a thunderstorm.

It is usually the birds that live on the wing that use water for washing. Birds that spend most of their time on the ground like a dust bath, to get rid of the insects and other irritating creatures which are picked up from the ground.

The pheasant and the partridge never go near water except when they are thirsty, and require it for drinking purposes.

Fowls are the same. Give them access to dust, and you can see them enjoying themselves in it. Feathers are ruffled, so the dust can get to the skin, from which the fowl shakes it when the bath is finished. Then comes a great preening with the bill, for the feathers keep the body warm and watertight, and unless each is in its proper place the air penetrates to the skin.

Birds that live in the water never take a dust bath. They splash themselves for cleanliness, shaking their wings and working the water up and down between their feathers.

A cat, of course, keeps itself clean by the aid of its tongue, and never seems to tire of making its toilet, the tongue acting as a sponge, brush and comb.

A dog cleans itself by rolling on grass and then shaking itself. In the summer it will take a dip in a pond or stream. Automatically, its coat remains tidy, though a good brushing will always be appreciated.—London Tit-Bits.

PERFUME MADE FROM FRUIT

Flowers, Herbs and Spices Also Used In Making of Sweet Scents.

Flowers, fruit, herbs and spices are the sources from which perfumes are obtained. Oranges and lemons are the chief fruits used for the purpose; lavender holds first place among the herbs, and cinnamon among the spices. Oils from nuts are also often used, and so is the sap from the cedar tree. Manufacturers extract the perfume by the process of distilling, but there are much simpler ways of preparing small quantities of scent, and it is to these, rather than to the more elaborate methods, that the amateur would turn her attention. Oils, wood and roots may be regarded as beyond the scope of the amateur, but almost all of the flower scents are easy enough to make at home. Any sweet-scented flowers, such as night-scented stock, violets and roses, can be used as a basis. The simplest method of producing liquid scent is to soak the petals of the flowers in hot oil. Allow this to stand until cool and then gently heat again. After doing this several times, pour off the oil and repeat, using fresh flowers. This should be done several times until the scent absorbed by the oil has become sufficiently strong. Some scents, such as eau-de-cologne, are made by mixing a number of different things, and as the amateur makes progress with her hobby she will find great fascination in inventing blends of her own.

All Wrong.

"Where shall you spend your vacation?"

"In the country, where knighthood used to be in flower."

"I see. First merrie England, where Henry VIII prepared to meet King Francis on the field of the cloth of gold. You follow in his footsteps—you reach old Aquitaine, where sang the troubadours. 'Twas the home of fair Queen Eleanor. To win a smile from her many a prince broke a lance. Thence to Spain, the land of romance—"

Remedy for Unrest.

The solemn man in the smoker said never a word for many a mile. Finally, however, he turned to his seat mate and remarked: "There is much unrest in the world just now, my friend; much unrest."

"You're right."

"I hope you are not unmindful of the fact that we each have a duty. We must combat this unrest."

"I'm doing my best," said the other man.

"As to how, my friend, as to how?"

"I manufacture mattresses."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Camels on Russian Farms.

Peasants in some districts of Russia are importing camels to take the place of horses in the regular farm work, according to recent reports. These animals are desired, it is said, because they will eat almost anything and thrive. Difficulty is experienced in transporting them, however, as the desert beasts of burden can be persuaded to enter a freight car only with the greatest difficulty. Some of the farmers are using their cows for draft purposes, but incorrect handling is said to ruin them for milking.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

POPULAR SUMMER COLONY

Maravista-By-The-Sea, now being advertised through the medium of this newspaper, is destined to become one of the most popular Summer Colonies on quaint Cape Cod, adjoining famous Falmouth Heights, almost surrounded by water and cooled by sea breezes, it is a most delightful location for a summer home.

The Town of Falmouth has taken over Maravista avenue for a public highway. Electric lights and telephone service have been installed on a part of the property, and extension of service is planned.

The warm salt water surf bathing in Vineyard Sound cannot be excelled on the New England shore. The temperature of the water being from seventeen to twenty degrees higher. White sandy beach and no undertow makes safe bathing for women and children.

There are shell fish in abundance. A motor trip to Falmouth is a pleasant trip. Good roads and ever changing scenery is a delight to all, and a South Shore dinner is always relished.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor

Bits of news keep coming from California relative to the forthcoming Biennial at Los Angeles, June 3-13. Mrs. Joseph F. Sartori, chairman of the Local Biennial Board, has been prominent in club circles for many years She began her club career as a charter member of the Ruskin Art Club, one of the oldest organizations of California, and later was a charter member of the Friday Morning Club, and it was owing to her initiative that this club achieved the honor of being the third woman's club in the United States to erect its own building. This club has now a membership of 2700, and it has just completed, on the site of its old clubhouse, a beautiful club building representing an investment of $850,000. It is interesting to note that Mrs. Sartori was a member of the first board that established the Juvenile Court of Los Angeles, over which Judge Curtis Wilbur, the new Secretary of the Navy, presided. She also has the distinction of being the only woman on the board of sixten regents of the University of California.

The convention expenses are being financed by the women themselves. Every member of the California Federation is contributing fifty cents as her part of the big fund, and there are 70,000 of them.

For those who go as visiting club women, a visitor's badge will be issued to those who are not delegates, who present their club membership cards to the Local Directory Committee, Auditorium building. "Visitor's" badge will admit to visitor's section of Convention Hall and to any place in the overflow meeting.

Local Happenings

Thursday, April 24, the Newton Community Club held its annual meeting in Hunnewell Club hall. All the reports showed much activity on the part of the officers and the committees. The Americanization committee assisted in a social for foreign women, and contribtued $10 towards the expense of an attendant for the children of the women who were members of the classes learning English. The Civics committee has kept a watchful eye upon the local motion picture houses, has followed up the members to see that they are registered voters with such diligence that the club is very nearly 100% registered. Seventy persons have been interested in the classes arranged by that committee. The club, through its Conservation committee, contributed $10 toward the expenses of Forestry Week in Newton. The Education committee, under the leadership of Mrs. J. Porter Russell, has made an exhaustive study of the junior high school movement, a resumé of which is given in another column. The Home Economics committee has prepared a cook book, which has met with a ready sale, and copies of which may still be procured. The Literature round tables have been well attended, and the study of modern books has been much enjoyed. A resumé of the Legislative work was given by the chairman, Miss Emma D. Coolidge.

Music by the club trio, Mrs. Ernest L. Foley, Mrs. Arthur S. Flinn, and Mrs. Wallace Wales, was interspersed between the reports and added much to the pleasure of the afternoon. In one selection the trio became a quintet with the accession of Mrs. Clara Sexton Crowley and Mrs. B. P. Mansfield, thus was particularly delightful. Mrs. Edwin W. Smith, chairman of the Music committee, accompanied, assisted by Mrs. Leonard.

The club appropriated $295 from the Philanthropic fund raised by the card party for the following objects: West Newton Music School, $50; $25 each, to the Welfare Bureau, Pomroy Home, Newton Hospital, Newton Circle, Stone Institute, District Nursing Association, and Near East Relief; $20 each, to Stearns School Center, Band Concerts and Playground work, Newton Y. W. C. A., and $10 to the Boys' Work of the Y. M. C. A.

The Scholarship Fund now amounts to over $400. These officers will serve the club for the coming year: President, Mrs. Edward H. Keach; First Vice-President, Mrs. Ralph C. Hodgson; Nominating Committee, Miss Helen Hull, Chairman; Mrs. Edward O. Gruener, Mrs. Francis Murdock, Mrs. Frank P. Schofield, Mrs. Edward P. Tuttle.

Following the business meeting the club adjourned to the dining room below where tea was served under the direction of Miss Helen A. Woodman, assisted by a large committe.

Mrs. Frederick E. Waring was chairman of the West Newton Women's Educational Club for the annual meeting and luncheon held on Friday, April 25th at the Masonic Club, 449 Beacon street, Boston. At the head table were seated the president, Mrs. Joseph A. McDonald, and the active officers, together with several of the past presidents and honorary members. There was a large attendance of members and guests. After the luncheon a delightful musical program was rendered by Mrs. Wallace Wales, contralto, Miss Virginia Farmer, 'cellist, and Mr. Walker Chamberlin, baritone, with Mrs. Ruth Furber as accompanist. The annual business meeting followed, with reports of officers and chairmen of committees, which showed excellent work accomplished during the year. Gifts to various worthy causes include Scholarship, $135; West Newton Music School, $35; Conservation and Civics Committees of the Newton Federation, $5 each; Philanthropic Work of Newton Federation, $10; Music Room at General Federation Headquarters, $1; Marion Chase Baker Memorial Fund, $5; District Nursing Association, $10; Christmas Party for children from Peabody Home, $50; Picture for Davis School, West Newton, $50; State Federation Headquarters, $25; and bed at Children's Hospital, $100—an aggregate of $431. The club has made contributions to the West Newton Music School, to the Mothers' Rest, to the Newton Circle, and to the Fathers' and Mothers' Club, as well as knitted afghans to the N. E. Peabody Home for Crippled Children and to the Gov. John A. Andrew Home at Newtonville.

At the meeting of the Monday Club of Newton Highlands this week Mrs. Charles Thompson entertained the members with the reading of "The Servant in the House."

The annual meeting of the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club followed the annual banquet at the Pettee Inn. Much credit and thanks were due the committee in charge of Mrs. James Tully, assisted by Mrs. William Melea, Mrs. William Doane, Mrs. John Shaughnessy, Mrs. Albert Atwell, Mrs. Herbert Child. The repast was excellent and the club color, yellow, predominated in the flowers, candles and favors. Between courses, toasts were given and an original chorus by Mrs. Ernest Cobb, lead by Mrs. Clifford Leighton, created much amusement and brought continued applause.

After the banquet the regular business meeting preceded the annual meeting. Between meetings, solo dances were given by the Misses Frances Warren and Marion Shaughnessy, who were club guests at the banquet. Reports of various committees were given and accepted. The Civics Committee, Mrs. Francis Parsons in charge, gave an excellent report of the Americanization Work and also reported 99 per cent of the eligible members registered as voters. Conservation committee, Mrs. James K. Hemphill presented a report of the City Federation on conservation, recommending the preservation of the trees, flowers and birds and also asked members to interest themselves in fire prevention. She also reported what a small amount of the actual necessities of life were produced in New England.

Mrs. Cobb of the Educational committee reported an increase in school accommodations for the coming year, and much to the gratification of the parents, teachers and members, reported that of ten prizes offered the 7th and 8th grades and junior high pupils for the best original animal story, six went to pupils of our own Emerson school. She also reported on the story hour at the library and expressed her hopes for a corner twilight hour in the near future.

The club philanthropies were appropriated as follows: Donations to 2 community concerts $35; North American Civic League, $10; Newton Federation Philanthropies, $9.50; Xmas party to Armenian Mothers and Babies, $14.50; Marian Chase Baker Memorial, $5.00; Kindergartens in France, $13.05; District Nursing Assn., $10; Story hour in Reading Room, $15; State Federation Endowment Fund, $5; West Newton Music School, $31.50; Peabody Home for Crippled Children, $96.35; total $244.90; also 3 afghans and 12 wash cloths to Rutland Hospital for Ex-Service men.

Mrs. W. F. Stevens, legislative chairman, who had already reported at a previous meeting, took this opportunity to present to Mrs. Child, the president, a sapphire and platinum bar pin from the members of the executive board. Mrs. Child was greatly surprised and responded gracefully, only to be again presented with flowers from the club.

Mrs. Francis Parsons, the newly elected president, was also presented flowers and a host of good wishes for the coming year.

Mrs. Ernest Cobb, past president, and nominee for president of the Newton Federation also received flowers and good wishes for her success and attainment of higher honors in the future.

The members of the Legislative committee presented their chairman, Mrs. Stevens, with a large bouquet of sweet peas.

The Newton Centre Women's Club

The new clubhouse of the Newton Centre Woman's Club has been the center of much interest by many women's clubs who are contemplating building their own homes. One special feature is the Art Gallery, which has given opportunities for exhibitions of arts and crafts under the most favorable conditions. For the first time Art was made a separate department and an art committee appointed with Mrs. Frank H. Stewart, a member of the Art Committee of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, as chairman of the new standing committee.

An illustrated lecture by Professor Albert E. Bailey of Boston University on "How to Study by Picture" opened the season, followed by a series of exhibitions which have been educational and artistic. The Medici prints were a revelation to many of the visitors as to the opportunities available to own good authentic reproductions of the great works of art. Block prints were shown at the same time. The process of making an etching was described and an excellent exhibit of the work of Mr. George C. Wales proved most interesting.

A loan exhibition of arts and crafts by residents of the near vicinity in Newton proved a wealth of talent which few realized. William M. Paxton, Charles Copeland Trecoelli Widger, Elizabeth Paxton, Margaret Wilkins, pictures; Mrs. Comer's and Sidney Callowhill's lustre ware; Dorothy Taylor's hand wrought jewelry; Mrs.

THE FACTOR THAT SWINGS THE SCALES

Looking backward over the years that are gone, many men and women can perceive means to fortune that were never utilized. Opportunities came without advantage because ready money was lacking with which to use them for self-advancement.

Looking forward over the years that are to come, the same or similar means or fortune may be disclosed, vaguely shadowed with perpetual hope. The experience of the ages proves, however, that the utilization of these will depend likewise upon available cash.

GARDEN TRUCK

Editor of the Graphic:—

Having become a resident of Newton I am tninking of a garden, but find I need certain information on some items.

It occurs to me that I may learn something from the column of your esteemed paper.

Kindly allow me to ask the following questions?

Do I String Beans before planting them, and if so shall I use cord or wire?

If Spinach is burned in cooking does it become Chard?

Where can I get some good tips on Asparagus?

Is Corn in the Ear as painful as a corn on the foot?

Does the Water in a Watermelon pass through the meter, thereby adding to the charge for water?

Will Tomato plants set out later Ketchup with those planted earlier in the season?

What kind of horses make the best Horse Radish?

Will Cauliflower make good pastry or bread?

How strong is an Onion. Is a half Onion as powerful as a whole one?

Are Bachellor's Buttons fastened on with Gold Thread, or put on with Snap Dragon?

Can Larkspur be used in horseback riding?

At what age does the Egg Plant begin to lay eggs?

Appreciating any help I may receive I remain

Respectfully,

NEWTON HOSPITAL

For the week ending April 26:—Patients in the Hospital, 132; those paying as much or more than the cost of their care, 66; those paying less than the cost of their care, 38; free patients (including babies), 28; accident cases, 5; babies born, 10; social service calls at Hospital, 28; at homes, 4; patients transported in social service car, 10; in volunteer car, 6.

May 12, being the anniversary of the birth of Florence Nightingale, will be observed by the hospitals throughout the country as Hospital Day. On that day the people of Newton are especially invited to visit the Newton Hospital, and to see for themselves what the hospital is, and something of the work it is doing.

Miss Bertha W. Allen, Superintendent of the Hospital, has been called to Sedgewick, Me., by a death in her family.

The Hospital had another delightful gift this week. This time it was for the staff dining room. A large dining table of rich mahogany, with massive claw feet, which will surely seat all the staff, a charming low buffet having adequate drawer space, a serving table, and a small round table. These will certainly make the dining room look very fresh and inviting.

There were forty-nine cases of tonsil operations at the Hospital last week. The unusual number was due to it being the week of vacation. Such a large number in the already crowded Hospital made quite a problem to be solved. The patients in the men's medical ward were moved into the men's surgical ward, where the beds even filled the aisles. The men's medical ward was then used for the tonsil cases.

The Rev. Earl E. Harper of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Auburndale, gave an address last Sunday night on "The Medical and Nursing Professions," to which the nurses of the Hospital were invited. The people of the church provided their cars for the transportation of the nurses, and about thirty attended.

MAJESTIC THEATRE—"The Highwayman," a sparkling romantic comedy which launches its appeal largely to the feminine theatregoing contingent, will have its initial exhibition at the Majestic Theatre, Boston, Monday night, when Joseph Schildkraut, brilliant young actor, opens an engagement with what is described as a distinguished company.

"The Highwayman" is a vivacious spoken comedy of delightful flavor, wherein there is much that deals with love and plundering of woman's hearts, rather than worldly goods. The stunning Joseph is said to be an adept bandit where love is concerned. Nor does he neglect to demonstrate his ability in outwitting the landed gentry for the "one woman."

CABARET

The Community Service Club of West Newton and the Memorial Library Association are grateful for the splendid interest and response shown for their entertainment to be held at the Armory on the evening of May 10.

Monaghan's orchestra will furnish the music, and a varied and unique program is planned for the entertainment.

COMMUNICATION

28th April, 1924.

To the Editor:

During the last two or three months you have taken occasion to refer editorially to the School Department, generally in a spirit of criticism tinged with sarcasm, and, where you have endeavored to state facts, they have been wrong.

In your last issue, referring editorially to the report of Professor Inglis you say:

"We wonder why it was necessary to employ an expert at $2,500 to show our school authorities what ought to have been done years ago."

May I state the facts as they are? The Board of Aldermen appropriated $2,500 to be expended under the direction of the Mayor to investigate school conditions. The cost of Professor Inglis' investigation and report was $250. On account of his interest in the Newton schools and his close contact with them, his charge was considerably less than it would have been had he gone to some other City. Professor Inglis was probably the leading authority on such matters in this country and his report merely reiterates, emphasizes, and confirms recommendations which the School Committee and the Joint Aldermanic Committee had already made. Professor Inglis' report was especially valuable as it gave us a clearer understanding of the importance of these changes and suggestions as to the necessary machinery to put these recommendations into effect, which, if adopted, would save the City many thousands of dollars. Aside from the cost of this report, the only expenditure authorized from the original appropriation of $2,500 is $1,000 to pay architects' fees for survey and plans at the high school, which would have been necessary whatever was done.

Apparently, for the reason that some things do not meet with your personal approval, you have either intentionally or unintentionally refrained from obtaining the facts and authenitc information which at all times has been at your disposal.

The Newton schools have always and still do stand near the top of the list of schools of Cities and Towns of Masachusetts. Just at the present time there is overcrowding in some of the grade schools and especially so at the high school—due very largely to the fact that for the ten years, from 1910 to 1920, there were no new school building built in Newton. The Board of Aldermen has definitely gone on record as favoring the enlargement of the present high school plant and the building of a new gymnasium, and also the building of a new junior high school in the West Newton-Auburndale district, by resolution dated the 17th of March, 1924, as follows:

"That this Board approves the general school program in so far as it relates to the enlargement of the present High School Plant and the building of a new Junior High School for the Auburndale-West Newton District, within the borrowing capacity of the city, the rest to be applied on the tax rate.

Read and adopted,

FRANK M. GRANT, Clerk."

As it will take two years to carry out the above, those of us who have investigated the matter believe that both projects may be completed without any serious financial burden upon the City.

To carry out the recommendations of the Joint Committee of the Board of Aldermen and the School Committee, and Professor Inglis' report, it is necessary that this building be done. The entire matter is now in the hands of the Board of Aldermen for action. Even though prompt action may be taken, and it should be, it will be two years before these new buildings will be available for occupancy.

The rebuilding of the Froebel school is being used by some who are opposed to the junior high school system as an excuse for the postponement of the West Newton-Auburndale junior high school. The School Committee has always contemplated closing the Froebel School when the new junior high school was built, and accommodations were made available at the Peirce School. Therefore, the School Committee considered the plans for repairs at the Froebel School merely a temporary provision to take care of pupils until the new buildings were finished. As a matter of fact the Froebel pupils can be accommodated as comfortably as pupils in some other sections of the City for one or two years by the use of portable buildings at the Peirce School, which are available. I am referring to the Froebel School matter, for the reason that the impression has got around that by rebuilding the Froebel School the building of the new junior high school should be postponed. This is not so. There are only 53 pupils at the present time in the Froebel School, and the building of the new junior high school has nothing to do with that situation.

I sincerely trust that you will be kind enough to print this letter in the next issue of the Graphic, and I can assure you that the Superintendent of Schools is always willing and glad to give you full information and facts as they are.

Very truly yours,

G. W. Angier.

ST. JAMES THEATRE—That John Golden success, "Thank U", seen earlier this season at the Hollis, where it enjoyed popular favor for several weeks, is the play selected by Managing Director Giles as next week's offering of the Boston Stock Company at the St. James. It was written by Winchell Smith and Tom Cushing, who have depicted ordinary everyday conditions which are duplicated in hundreds of small towns today. From such a setting they have taken their characters and the plot was written around the situation confronting the average country clergyman. So true to life are the lines, that the very person attending the play can probably recall similar situations, where sincere, godly men of the cloth have been put in wrong when the smugness and pettiness of village piety begins to ferment and the town tattle-tale works overtime.

You pay for nothing which cannot be used. There is no chimney loss—no ash, cinder, smoke, soot or other waste product from gas.

A chimney or smoke pipe leads away from your plant and is an offensive waste pipe for your fuel.

A gas service pipe leads into your plant, bringing to you only the amount of fuel that you can use to advantage.

Modern industry requires above all else the elimination of waste and the utilization of every practice which will save time and energy. Our staff of Industrial Engineers is at your service to help you modernize your fuel system. It costs nothing to investigate.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by Leverett D. G. Bentley

CLEAN UP—PAINT UP WEEK

From May the fifth to May the tenth,
But one thought will I hold,
And that to "clean up" all the time,
(The Mayor's wish, I'm told.)
I'll brush my teeth eight times a day,
(I always do it four);
I'll wash my face until it smarts,
No one could ask for more.
At ev'ry bootblack stand I'll stop,
And get another shine,
And I will shave, both morn and night,
As I stroll down the line.
I'll clean my overcoat and hat,
Likewise my old straw lid,
All linen, most immaculate,
No grease spots will be hid;
I'll have my suit both sponged and pressed,
My fingers manicured,
I'll be "the little spotless kid,"
Of that, please be assured.
On soap and water I'll subsist,
And all without complaint,
I'll keep as CLEAN as one could wish,
But hang me if I'll PAINT.

We have been wondering who first thought of a holding a municipal "clean up" week. The fact that Mayor Childs has, with characteristic suavity, suggested Newton citizens tidy up a bit, causes us to puzzle over the origin of the project. We'll bet it was a Yankee notion because we never saw such people as New Englanders for wanting everything spick and span. We know a man whose wife was a glutton for housework. You could eat a meal off any floor from cellar to attic. There was no dust to be seen. In fact dust was not allowed to remain in the house long enough to settle. Who would ask more in a wife than untiring energy of this form? Although proud of his industrious wife the husband was not happy in his home. He was a patient soul and never uttered a complaint or even a cross word. But he felt keenly about it. He did us the honor to confide in us. "I'd like to see a little dirt somewhere,' he sighed, longingly. "Like mother used to have," we suggested. "Just a little for old-times' sake,' replied the patient husband. That is only one of the many cases of which we have heard in our desire to obtain evidence that "clean-up week" started in this neck of the woods. The further suggestion of "paint-up" sounds like a Yankee idea, too. We do not wish to disparage noble sentiments but we wouldn't be surprised if some one convinced us that a Yankee with paint, varnish, white-wash and all kinds of brushes to sell had a hand in it. Painting, with discrimination, is a good thing after the house has been cleaned. We can not quite understand, however, if people obey the Mayor's command and stick to lawns, backyards, rubbish piles, etc., how they are going to have much time for applying a paint brush. The "clean-up" proposition is supposed to cover the period between May 5 and May 10, as we understand it. For one, we will say that if we put in our spare time on cleaning-up those six days we won't have any time for painting. What's more we'll be willing to quit about then.

There is said to be a "drive" on to "get" Frank A. Goodwin, State Registrar of Motor Vehicles. "Get" is a form of roughneck speech that means his enemies would have him lose his job. We have no knowledge of such a scheme, although we would not be in any way amazed to learn the report is true. As a matter of fact we have often wondered, as we have observed the fearlessness and efficiency of Mr. Goodwin, why such a "drive was not started some time ago. We have never seen a man less susceptible to political pressure. We have never asked any favors of him but we have talked with those who have. Men of influence have employed all sorts of tricks to make Mr. Goodwin yield. They have pleaded, blustered and cried, but all to no purpose. He is immovable. We notice that Mr. Goodwin has scented a plot against him in the plan suggested by Mr. Thomas W. White of this city. Mr. White, as a member of the State Commission on Administration and Finance, has suggested to the Public Safety Committee appointed by the Governor that the authority to examine applicants and to grant operators' licenses and registrations be left with Mr. Goodwin and the enforcement of the automobile laws be transferred to the Department of Public Safety. Mr. White is not a man who wastes his time, especially not in the State House. We wonder then what caused him to devote part of an afternoon to the presentation of such an idea to the Public Safety Committee. We are not in the confidence of the committee but we are as certain as we are of anything that Mr. White's proposition will not receive serious consideration by the committee. There are those who charge that Mr. White is interested in behalf of Col. Foote, who would obtain more men for the State Constabulary. And so it goes. All sorts of rumors, guesses and absurd reports. The most laughable is the one that the Public Safety Committee was really appointed to get rid of Mr. Goodwin. That is not true. We believe the public will find the committee among the staunchest of Mr. Goodwin's supporters.

The other day an astute political observer, friendly to Mr. Goodwin, said to us, "I hope Frank Goodwin doesn't talk himself out of a job." It seems to us there is no danger of that. Long ago, Mr. Goodwin's enemies were saying, "He's making a mistake with all the publicity." We used to think so ourselves (several years ago, by the way) until we began to study the details of Mr. Goodwin's department and the results attained by his published articles. His is a new department; he is dealing with a new problem. The only way he can make the people understand what he is seeking to accomplish is through the newspapers. If he doesn't do it that way the people are more than likely to misunderstand him. If you will stop to analyze Mr. Goodwin's public statements you will find they mean something. They are not all apple sauce. And another thing about his newspaper utterances. They are timely. Let a big automobile accident occur and the newspaper's don't have to beg Mr. Goodwin for a statement. As a matter of fact he is more likely to ring up the newspaper offices. At any rate he will meet the reporter half way with an appropriate comment or evidence that he has begun an investigation. We are well aware there is firm public faith in Mr. Goodwin. Based upon our own intimate acquaintance with him and his labors we'll say the public is not making a mistake.

According to "Newton 25 Years Ago" the issue of April 21, 1899, announced, "The Auburndale Village Improvement Society discussed a piggery on Lexington street and establishment of a village reading room." If we read last week's GRAPHIC correctly the quarter-of-a-century-old dream has been surpassed by even a more irresistible combination.

From the Board of Aldermen, via the Mayor's office, comes a new phrase —"The ordinance sought the man."

We have always thought archery not only picturesque but worth while as a sport. It was a surprise to read that the Newton range is the only public range in Massachusetts. However, the situation reflects the good sense and enterprise of our own home town.

May—the month for saving money with which to buy presents for June brides.

During the meeting small children may be properly cared for in the Rice Kindergarten rooms.

AMERICANIZATION WORK

Newton is to be congratulated upon the excellent Americanization work being done at the Newton Hospital by Mrs. M. Estelle Seaver who, with the permission of the officials of the Hospital, is using the X-Ray room in showing the effects of wearing incorrect shoes of the high heeled, narrow-toed type.

Her demonstration also shows correct footwear and its effects. As in Americanization work it is an object lesson of greatest effectiveness, no one can estimate the good Mrs. Seaver is doing. Many who do not belong to the Americanization classes could also be benefited by such demonstrations.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

Allen Hubbard's silver tea service; Mrs. Ward I. Cornell's batiks; Ruth Underhill's painted furniture; W. C. Noetzel's photograph; Mrs. Frank Edmand's Italian needle work and countless others.

Another loan exhibition of antiques brought forth many pieces of beauty and historical interest besides an excellent collection of Sandwich glass. A day was devoted to an exhibition of the art work done in the public schools and high schools. Mr. Peter Holdensen exhibited his paintings for a week.

The final exhibition last Thursday was devoted to pastels by Arthur Spear, Edith R. Scott, drawings by Marion Powers Kirkpatrick, children's portraits by Eleanor Revere Weeden and sculpture by Cyrus Dallin, Richard H. Recchia and Nellie Louise Thompson. An outdoor sketch class under the leadership of Elizabeth Paxton will close the year's activities of this department.

The Newton Centre Woman's Club House was erected upon land given to the club by the Mellen Bray estate. In order to memorialize this gift a bronze tablet with the inscription, "The Mellen Bray Estate gave the land on which this club house stands," has been made and placed in the foyer of the club house, in time to be unveiled at the annual meeting, May 1st.

A corresponding tablet recording the names of the twenty-five charter members is also being made and will be placed in the foyer at an early date.

In view of the earnest work done by these pioneers of the club, for the village and its betterment, it seems to be fitting that their names should have a permanent place on the walls of the club house and should be honored by succeeding generations who use and enjoy its hospitality. Our older citizens will remember that one of the first efforts of the club was to raise and present to the city the sum of $2500 for the purchase of the playground, the club has consistently lived up to the spirit of its charter members, a spirit of helpfulness and co-operation in everything that means a better, happier village.

Newton Circle Holds Annual Meeting

"The reward of a good deed is to have done it," asserted Mayor Childs in his address before the Newton Circle on Friday of last week. This may be said to be the keynote of the work of that organization, as revealed by the reports of officers and committees at the annual meeting held with Mrs. Edwin P. Brown, of Washington street, Newton. In the absence of the Mrs. John T. Lodge, the president, who was called away the night before on account of the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. C. Peter Clark presided. Besides supporting the work of the probation officer, Mrs. Celia Wellman, the Circle has carried on eight band concerts during last summer on the playgrounds, it remembered 50 individuals, wards of the Circle at Christmas, and has performed innumerable other kindnesses for those in need. It oversubscribed its quota for the drive for the new Home, securing $10,200. This new Home, it was reported, will be begun in the near future, as already $160,000 is in cash and pledges. The plan is to build the main building and one cottage as soon as the contract is let. This will provide for fully 50 per cent more than the present Home. Already this year they have had three times as many applications as they were able to accept.

Mayor Childs in his address spoke most appreciatively of the work of the Circle, saying that he considers the work of Mrs. Wellman the most important done in the city. Mrs. Wellman's report was full of interest and of such an intimate nature that it can be but outlined. Of past work of the Circle Mrs. Wellman enumerated:

"Establishing Social Service department at the District Court. Making it possible to keep neglected children from being sent to care of the State. Making it a place where young girls who have made a mistake can get help and, if necessary, pecuniary aid to start life anew. Where misguided boys and girls who have been sent to reform schools are remembered by friends at Christmas time, thus making them see and feel that the world is not all against them; that they still can make another start. Tiding over orphans, or friendless ones, until they can support themselves. Sending children to summer camps, thereby keeping them off the streets. Establishing a woman probation officer in Newton Court and making it possible for Newton to have the joy of showing what can be done to prevent and build up, rather than punish and tear down. To have made of Newton a place of inspiration to other cities, who have not established this branch. To help in forming Florence Crittenton Circles in towns and cities by the example of the Newton Circle."

For future work Mrs. Wellman hopes to see more band concerts and dances, such as have been given for a number of years and which mean so much to our community, with the addition of community singing; a continuance and extension of social service; Sunday care and concerts for our city children. She also emphasized the great need for a natatorium, such as Brookline has, where the poor people may have a place to become clean. She is hoping for a new office to be added to the present court house, that she may have a private place in which to talk with those who come to the court, for under the probation department come up almost all of the domestic relations cases.

At the close of the meeting a delicious luncheon was served by the executive board.

The following officers were elected for next year: President, Mrs. John T. Lodge; vice-presidents, Mrs. C. Peter Clark, Miss Helen Hull; recording secretary, Mrs. William J. Champion; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Harry N. Milliken; treasurer, Mrs. D. Morley Lodge; assistant treasurer Mrs. Job E. Gaskin; directors, Mrs. Frank A. Day, Mrs. Sydney Harwood, Mrs. George B. King, Mrs. Marcus Morton, Mrs. George M. Angier, Mrs. Herbert G. Pratt, Mrs. John McKey, Mrs. Edwin P. Brown, Mrs. Harold Sherman, Mrs. George C. Ewing, Mrs. Thomas Weston, Jr., Mrs. John H. Eaton.

Boston Woman's Civic Club

The annual meeting and luncheon held Wednesday at Hotel Brunswick, Boston, was a delightful occasion enjoyed by a large number of members and guests. Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, president, and Mrs. Grace B. Shepardson, corresponding secretary, brought greetings from the State Federation; Mrs. Eva Whiting White, president, represented the Boston City Federation, and Mrs. Samuel L. Eaton, vice-president, responded for the Newton Federation.

Music by members of the Bowers' Orchestra, and violin solos added much pleasure also Mrs. Edna Lown White, soprano soloist, contributed several fine selections, and led the community singing.

Mrs. Flora D. Sampson of Newton, founder of the club, who was unable to be present on account of illness, sent a letter of greeting. Mrs. Walter G. Dennison contributed an original poem written for the occasion and several other members, Mrs. Louis P. Nash, Mrs. Joseph B. Brown, Mrs. Henry H. Cudworth, Miss Grace H. Howes, Mrs. Mary Parmela Rice, and Mrs. Edwin L. Pride, director of the 7th district, told stories, anecdotes, or spoke briefly. The table decorations of pink and white flowers, pinks, sweet peas and roses were very attractive.

The following officers elected for the coming year: president, Mrs. George M. Hayden; honorary vice-president, Mrs. Samuel W. McCall; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Samuel L. Eaton; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Ledyard W. Sargent; recording secretary, Miss Grace H. Howes; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. E. Weld; treasurer, Mrs. Susan L. Greely; auditor, Mrs. Joseph B. Brown; directors, Mrs. William E. Birdsall, Mrs. May Dickinson Kimball.

After singing "Auld Lang Syne" the meeting adjourned, closing an unusually happy "Play-Time" and a most successful year of the club, under the leadership of the president, Mrs. George M. Hayden of Newton Highlands.

The Junior High School Movement

The Education Committee of the Newton Community Club has made an exhaustive study during the past year, of the Junior High School Movement, which was reported by the chairman, Mrs. J. Porter Russell, at the annual meeting last week Thursday. Since her report contains the very latest word from educators upon the subject, and from the fact that this matter is much in the minds of Newton people just now, her statement will be of more than passing interest among thoughtful people. The part of her report dealing with the subject is given herewith:

Probably the most vital general educational problem of today is the junior high school movement. In the past decade it has swept the country. Since 1890 educators have been discussing the need of recognization of the public school system, a reorganization which should be based on the needs of the individual child, not the further adjustment of the child to the school system.

This reorganization is commonly known as the 6-3-3 plan, i. e., grades 1-6 of the elementary school, the 7th, 8th, and 9th years of the junior high school, and the 10th, 11th and 12th of the senior high school. The 6-3-3 plan is the outcome of much study, discussion and research. It culminated in the following recommendation by the present Commission on the Reorganization of Secondary Education:

"We recommend a reorganization of the public school system whereby the first six years shall be devoted to elementary education designed to meet the needs of pupils approximately 6-12 years of age; and the second six years to secondary education designed to meet the needs of pupils of approximately 12 to 18 years of age."

Continuing the Commission suggests that:

"The six years to be devoted to secondary education may well be divided into two periods, which may be designated as the junior and senior periods. In the junior period emphasis should be placed upon the attempt to help the pupil to explore his own aptitudes and make at least provisional choice of the kinds of work to which he will devote himself. In the senior period emphasis should be to training in the fields thus chosen." (Cardinal Principles of Secondary Education, Government Bulletin 35.)

These recommendations became the corner stone in the construction of the 6-3-3 system of public schools.

The chief indictment of an elementary school of eight years and a high school of four years, was the lack of articulation between the two. There was no intermediate school of transition between elementary and secondary education.

It has been universally conceded that there was a waste of time in the elementary school of eight years and a lack of time in a secondary school of four years. One result of this period of marking time in the upper grades of a grammar school was strikingly revealed in 1905 by two national surveys. It was discovered that for the country as a whole nearly 60 of every 100 pupils who completed the 6th year were lost to the public school during the 7th, 8th, and 9th years. Obviously some remedy must be sought and a new school unit of gradual transition between elementary and secondary education was created. It placed under a new school administration the 7th and 8th years of the grammar school and the 1st year of the high school, and became in reality an intermediate school, or as it has become generally known the junior high school.

However, the junior high school is more than a mere readjustment of grades. What began over a decade ago as a new combination of grades has become a fundamental problem of educational reconstruction. There is a single curriculum of common branches in the six years of the elementary school. Its function is to give the tools of education.

Professor Hanus, of the Harvard Graduate School of Education, in a talk before the Education committee of the Newton Federation gave as the object of elementary education, "Opening the mind of the child and letting the world in." That of secondary education he gave as, "Attempting the discovery of the individual and the gradual and progressive shaping of each individual in harmony with this discovery." For this an enlarged and enriched curriculum is provided in the three years of junior high school, and thereby are revealed to the early adolescent the educational possibilities for the training of his aptitudes, and he beholds a vision of the opportunities in which his aptitudes, when discovered and trained, may find their proper and useful employment. Will 60 out of 100 leave our public schools with this vision before them?

There are multiple curricula in the senior high school. Their function is to furnish training for the aptitudes, interests, and capacities of pupils, which have been previously revealed in the junior high school. Here each may take its own channel,—academic, technical, general, commercial, or vocational.

The point of view of the elementary school towards its pupils en masse, to the end that all may receive a usable knowledge of the fundamentals essential to further progress either educationally or vocationally. The point of view of the senior high school is the group, to the end that the pupils of each group may receive specialized training in the curriculum they have chosen. The point of view of the junior high school is the individual, to the end that each pupil may be selected from the mass and be placed, not blindly and capriciously, but intelligently, in his own group.

Most frequently the determining factor in the adoption of the 6-3-3 plan is the problem of school congestion. The building of a junior high school relieves the congestion of the elementary schools by removing their 7th and 8th grades, or approximately 20 per cent of their total enrollment. Similarly, relief is afforded to high school congestion by removing the 9th grade of approximately 40 per cent of its enrollment. Consequently building programs largely centre in junior high school construction. Concurrently, two objectives are realized: the solution of a constructive and a far reaching educational policy.

The junior high school has been variously entitled as the sorting, the trying out and testing, the readjustment period of the public school system. Has not our experience—yours and mine—led us to know the desirability of such a period?

The soundness of the junior high school program lies in its perfect accord with the psysiological and psychological development of the child. The aim of the junior high school is justice to the individual—an equal opportunity for all.

The junior high school had its birth in America. It is the first public school unit not imported. It adapts its program of studies to the needs of our own modern social conditions, not to the standards of Europe an hundred years ago.

THREE DEATHS

Three deaths in one family in the short space of eight days is the sad record of a home in Newton Centre. Mr. Donald A. MacLellan died on April 21st, his wife on April 28 and his wife's mother, Mrs. Martha Frances Peavey, on April 27th.

The deaths of mother and daughter were caused by pneumonia. The family lived on Grafton street.

Mrs. Evelyn P. MacLellan was active in the Woman's Club and the Congregational Church, and she was a member of the Woman's City Club in Boston, and of the Daughters of Maine.

Mrs. Peavey was a native of Bangor, Me., and her maiden name was Howard. It was in Bangor that she spent most of her life, and she had been with her daughter in Newton Centre only a few years. Her husband, Charles Abbott Peavey, died some time ago. Mrs. Peavey also was a member of the Daughters of Maine. She is survived by one son, Mr. Ralph A. Peavey of Newton Centre.

Funeral services for Mrs. Peavey and Mrs. MacLellan were held at the First Church in Newton Centre on Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Edward M. Noyes officiating and the burial was in Bangor, Me.

COLLISION AT NEWTON CENTRE

A collision which took place Tuesday noon between a Middlesex & Boston street railway car and an automobile operated by Miss Dorothy Drury of 54 Hobart road, Newton Centre, on Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre, caused considerable excitement, as the school children were returning to their homes. The noon automobile traffic on the avenue was held up several hundred yards. Miss Drury, according to witnesses, was turning around on the avenue and stalled her car on the tracks in front of the street car, operated by J. F. O'Connor. The right fenders, running board, and splash pans of the sedan were bent. The street car escaped damage and no one was injured.

PECULIAR ACCIDENT

Thomas F. Lyons of Orchard street, Newton, is in the Newton Hospital as the result of a peculiar accident on Wednesday noon. While driving his automobile down the hill on Highland street, West Newton, Lyons either lost control of the machine or a wheel came off, and he collided with the bridge abuttments at the foot of the hill. The machine was badly damaged and the police ambulance took Lyons to the Hospital.

ANIMALS ARE GOOD LINGUISTS

Horses and Dogs Learn and Remember Meaning of Words in More Than One Tongue.

Can horses and dogs pick up a foreign language and still remember that of the land of their birth?

This subject was broached by one of the speakers at the World Service exposition in Liverpool and it was declared that a British horse can recognize its own language abroad.

The experts who have been consulted agree that this is so. They emphasize the fact, however, that it is primarily the inflection of the voice that the animal learns to understand when sent to a foreign country. It pays much closer and quicker attention to the tone than to the sound of the words.

Dogs, like horses, remember the sound of the language of their masters, and even after many years in a foreign land can remember the meaning of sentences.

A clear proof of some dogs' cleverness is to be found in the way they pick up several native tongues and dialects when they leave their British masters in India and Africa, in places where several languages are spoken.

Cats, on the contrary, seem incapable of picking up more than their names in the language of the country in which they live; they do not deign to comprehend the human tongue, and a cat that does is exceptional.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

WAY TO TEST YOUR RUBIES

All Genuine Stones Contain Tiny Flaws and Characteristic Peculiarities.

After the diamond the ruby stands supreme among precious stones, being the most popular of all colored gems. The genuine stone is obtained from a mineral called corundum.

To obtain one ruby thousands of tons of soil have to be washed and carefully examined. The finest gems come from the great ruby mines of Burma.

All genuine stones contain certain tiny flaws and blemishes and characteristic peculiarities. Spurious rubies get their imperfections during manufacture; and as chemists are more careful than nature, these imperfections are less noticeable.

You can test your rubies by certain differences between the real and the artificial. A genuine ruby contains irregularly shaped bubbles; the imitation gem contains bubbles which are perfectly round. Again, natural rubies have a silky sheen, due to a number of tiny parallel lines running in three directions. Imitation stones never have this characteristic.

To examine your ruby, place it in a strong light and look at it through a microscope. If the stone is in a setting, place a drop of oil on its face, and hold it up with the back face to the light. The drop of oil prevents reflections of light which would confuse the eye.

Pioneer in Transportation.

Although man has covered the world with railroad systems and steamship lines, Mother Nature is the pioneer in transportation service. For ages she has been moving her own products from point to point by many different methods. One of the most unusual of these transfers occurs in the formation of bottom ice which freezes at the bottom of fresh and salt water bodies. Stones, rocks and other debris become imbedded in these cakes, which, after a time, move upward toward the surface, often with sufficient force to shoot high in the air. Then these pieces of ice, sometimes as large as a house, become huge "freighters," traveling considerable distances with the winds and current. As they melt the stones and other fragments sink to the bottom again. That parts of sunken ships have been carried many miles in this manner has been proved by deep-sea divers, who have found them literally covered with stones that came from other localities.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

New Kind of Stamps.

The arrival of twins at a flat one evening caused a great sensation and the sister of the young mother was so impressed by the unexpected honor of being aunt to a pair that she lost her wits for the time being.

She rushed to the nearest post office and asked for stamps so that she might spread the glad tidings.

The clerk said, affably, "How many, miss?"

"Two," she cried, joyously.

"What?"

"A boy and a girl," she said, then fled in dismay.

Getting the Expression.

The beautiful movie actress could roll her eyes and arch her brows, but she couldn't seem to get her finer shades. So the director thought he would try a little strategy.

"Now, Miss Resplendent, we shall have to shoot that scene again."

She took her position.

"Register indignation. Your last effort was rotten."

"Sir-r-r!"

"Hold it. That's more like indignation."

Relapse.

He—What do you say to a honeymoon in Europe?

She—But dearest, you know how afraid I am of seasickness.

Yes, but you ought to know that love is the best remedy for that.

Perhaps—but—think of the return trip.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

eld In Honor of the Late Colonel Edward Howard Haskell, Who Died Last Winter at Pasadena, Cal.

The Memorial service in honor of late Colonel Edward Howard Has-l, who died on January 7th at sadena, Cal., was held last Friday ernoon at the First Baptist Church Newton Centre.

The service included an organ pre-de by Mr. John Hermann Loud, the ging of three of Col. Haskell's fav-te hymns, "How Firm a Founda-n," "In Heavenly Love Abiding," d "For All the Saints," scripture ading by Rev. Dr. Charles N. Ar-ckle, the reading of numerous com-nications by Mr. Henry H. Kendall, d addresses by Rev. John M. Eng-h, D. D., Mr. Albert H. Curtis, and v. Dr. Peter C. Wright.

Dr. English said:—

At the February meeting of the Bos-n Baptist Social Union, I named me of the qualities of Colonel Has-ll:

His varied ability.
His wide information.
His strenuous activity.
His ideal of a successful life.

The bountiful distribution of his operty.

There are two other aspects of his e that may be fittingly considered at is memorial service.

One is the variety of his activities. have never known a man who en-ged in more activities of high or-r than did he.

Before he was out of his teens he ndered valuable military service in e Civil war.

When he was a young man, he en-ged in political life. He was sec-tary of the Republican State Com-ittee, and held other political and ilitary positions. I have heard him y that it was his early politcal as-ciations which, contrary to what us-ally happens, aided him in the begin-ning of his commercial career. His business was of a kind to employ the energies of a gifted man. But his interests and activities outside of his commercial life were much in excess of its demands.

He was Chairman of numerous committees in connection with large and important meetings. His work in behalf of the New England Baptist Hospital must have been a severe tax upon him. He held positions of great responsibility in the Baptist denomination. He was President of the Boston Baptist Social Union. He was President of the Baptist Home Mission Society. At the time of his death he was President of the Ministers and Missionaries' Benefit Board. He visited mission lands to discover for himself their deepest needs. He had varied associations with Foreign missionary interests within and without his own denomination. A characteristic example of his endeavor for missionary operations on a wide scale was in connection with the Constantinople Woman's College. Its Board of Trustees has made acknowledgement of his valuable services in behalf of that institution as follows: that he was one of its most sympathetic friends and benefactors. He was a trustee of the College since 1908, and took an active part in its councils. He left the college in his will a legacy of $20,000. He rendered untiring labor on the Committee on Buildings and Grounds. Since 1922 he was Chairman of the Committee for the Construction of the Bingham Medical Building, and he rendered valuable service in the development of the Medical Department and the School for Nurses.

The second aspect of Colonel Has-

SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

Miss Calista Roy, Supervisor of Americanization for the Newton Schools, gave a most interesting and instructive talk on her work at the annual meeting of the Newton Centre School Association on May 7. It was with some surprise that her audience heard that 25 per cent of the population of Newton are of foreign birth. To make these people into good Amerivan citizens, with a knowledge of the history, geography and possibilities of their new country, is the aim of the classes held under Miss Roy's supervision. This year at the Technical High School, four classes are being held with ten nationalities, and with the exception of one man, they have been 100 per cent perfect in their examinations. They have given concerts and lectures, arranged by themselves, one man talking on "What the Constitution Means to Me."

With the women the work does not advance so rapidly. They are first taught to speak and understand the English language, then to read and write. Later they take cooking, health work for children, a knowledge of fabrics and of proper footwear with suggestions for furnishing a home simply, an idea of the laws of the school, the Health Department and the city. These groups now meet in six villages of the city; in all twenty-five classes in Americanization being held this year.

Miss Roy told several interesting stories of the men and women with whom she is working, showing the great value that they place on the instruction they receive, and their pride in their citizenship.

It is surely to be regretted that the city has found it necessary to cut down the appropriation for this work, which is doing so much to make understanding, intelligent citizens for our city and country.

Before Miss Roy's talk about 100 of the eighth grade pupils of the Mason shcool sang very pleasingly two selections, one from the "Creation" and one a German song, under the leadership of Mr. E. F. Griffin, supervisor of music.

The following list of officers was elected at the business meeting, which was held before the program of the afternoon: President, Mrs. Howard O. Winslow; vice-president, Mrs. George H. Crosbie; secretary, Mrs. Albert G. Hopkins; treasurer, Mrs. George J. Murphy. Fifteen new council members were also elected.

MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

The Mother's Association of Auburndale held its 2nd annual mothers' and daughters' banquet at the Methodist chapel on Wednesday.

One hundred and fifty sat down to a most enjoyable chicken pie dinner. During the meal interesting telegrams were read, which caused great merriment. Between the courses songs were sung with much enthusiasm.

The president of the association introduced the toastmistress, Mrs. Beardsley, who very facetiously called on Miss Rickles for the toast to mothers and Mrs. Davidson for the toast to daughters. Both spoke most fittingly.

Miss Mildred Beardsley rendered two pianologues appropriate to the occasion.

The speaker of the evening was Miss Freda Bose of Boston University on the subject of "Ideal Womanhood" and she said two fundamentals for that kind of womanhood were dignity and responsibility and her illustrations of these were very timely and illuminating.

This talk was followed by a candle light service, in which five girls representing Comradeship, Confidence, Trust, Patience and Sympathy had their candles lighted by Love and they in turn lighted the white candles of the mothers who read a pledge. The daughters then lighted their pink candles from their mothers and repeated a similar pledge.

Altogether it was a most enjoyable evening.

LODGES

Garden City Encampment No. 62, and Waban Lodge No. 156, I. O. O. F., will celebrate the one hundred and fifth anniversary of the Order in Odd Fellows' Hall, Newtonville, Wednesday evening, May 14th. The entertainment will be furnished by the Boston Lyceum Bureau, and a ladies' orchestra will furnish music for dancing.

Waban Lodge No. 156 I. O. O. F., conferred the First Degree upon candidates from Wayland, Newton Highlands and Waban Lodge on Wednesday evening, May 7th.

GIRL SCOUTS

Elizabeth Plimpton, Newton's champion Girl Scout bugler, has won a place in the finals in the competition for the State champion bugler, which will be held in the Boston Arena on Saturday, May 17, at the Annual State Review of the Massachusetts Girl Scouts. On Saturday, May 3rd, the preliminaries for this event were held, 20 Corps, representing 600 girls competed then to determine which 3 Corps —2 buglers, 2 drummers and 2 drum majors will enter the finals, and be a part of the program of the State Review. This is the one big event of the year, which brings Girl Scouts together from all parts of the state in friendly competition. Many scouts take part in the different events in the program, and the audience of several thousand, Scouts and friends of Scouts, fill the Arena to the full at these popular yearly entertainments. The Newton Corps made a splendid showing in the preliminary "try-outs" even though it did not win a place in the finals, and all of its members, as well as all of the Girl Scouts in Newton are tremendously proud and pleased that one of their number is to be in the finals for the individual championship. Elizabeth Plimpton is a member of Troop 3 Seniors (Newton Centre.) She joined the Newton Troop when it first started seven years ago this spring, and during her seven years of service she has always been a loyal, enthusiastic Scout.

Newton will also have a group of girls in the camp building contest, which is to be a part of the program on May 17. Troop 2 (Newton) will enter a group of girls which will compete with three other groups in putting up a tent, erecting a lean-to or shack, putting up a flag pole, raising a flag, and making an out door fireplace. This promises to be a very pretty, as well as interesting event.

This evening, May 9th. In the club house of the Newton Centre Woman's Club the Scouts of that village will give an entertainment from 7 to 9.30 o'clock. The program will consist of an entertainment on the stage, given by both the Senior and Junior division of the Troop, music by the Newton Bugle and Drum Corps, and singing by the Scouts. The entertainment will be followed by dancing. Candy and ice cream will be sold. Tickets may be obtained from members of the Troop or at the door.

VILLAGE PLAYERS

The Village Players of Newton Centre are presenting "Tweedles" in the parish house of the Unitarian Church this evening and tomorrow evening. The play is one of Tarkington's and is one of his best.

The setting of the play, an Antiquity Shop and Tea Terrace," is most realistic. The play deals with one of the oldest families in Maine and their antagonism to the summer colony. In the words of the father, "Everybody's 'Tweedles' on this coast." The Castlebury's, on their part, are equally proud of their family and equally opposed to an alliance with a "Tweedle."

Under such circumstances, the young people, Julian Castlebury, and Winsora Tweedle, have a difficult time. Mr. William O. Henderson as "Julian" plays the awkward, adolescent youth who does not realize what is happening to him, to perfection, and Miss Virginia White is a charming heroine.

In addition to the love story, Mr. Tarkington has introduced very clever satire on collectors of antiques which rings true to life.

But the most interesting scene and one which is a masterpiece of character delineation, occurs in the second act, in the Tweedle's home, where the father of the girl, Adam Tweedles, and her aunt and uncle discuss the situation which has arisen. In this scene the scorn of the "native" for the summer boarder and their pride in being "one of the elect" is admirably shown. The Yankee shrewdness of the aunt and her successful attempts to get rid of the worthless, old furniture that has been in the town house for years, is skilfully delineated by Mrs. Amelia B.

LAND DAMAGES DISCUSSED

Aldermen Award Additional Damages to Brackett Estate With Some Criticism of Methods Taken by Mayor Childs

Further criticism of the executive department by Alderman White was a feature of the aldermanic meeting last Monday evening.

It came about while the Board was discussing an order to pay additional land damages to the Brackett estate for land taken for the rounding of Centre place and the drive leading from the Newton railroad station. The Public Works committee had recommended $942 additional to the original award of $500 and the License committee had reduced that figure to $500, Alderman White stating that the Finance committee believed this work should have been done under the betterment law and consequently reduced the award to allow for betterments to the remaining land. Mr. White suggested that agreements in regard to such matters should be made before the work was done in order that the entire cost might be known and then said that the Executive branch should give a little more consideration to its actions. Alderman Earle stated that the appropriation recommended by the Public Works committee made the award about $1.00 per foot for the 1400 feet taken. The $500 order was defeated by a vote of 9 to 11, Aldermen Baker, Ball, Earle, Fitts, Gordon Leahy, Lloyd, O'Connell, Parker, Tucker and Walton voting in opposition. Alderman Earle then introduced an order for $942 which was passed by a vote of 11 to 9, Aldermen Ball, Collins, Heathcote, Lloyd, G. W. Pratt, Walton, Weeks, White and Hollis voting in the negative.

Alderman Madden was the only alderman absent and there was the usual amount of hearings at the beginning of the session.

Mr. A. L. Stevenson represented the Franciscan Sisters on the proposed sewer in Mt. Alvernia road, saying that his clients would not oppose the matter if satisfactory agreements were made by the petitioner to protect them against sewer assessments. This agreement, Alderman Crosby stated the petitioners were ready to make. Later in the session the hearing was reopened to allow another remonstrant to be heard.

Mr. John Briggs spoke in favor of a sewer in Ridge road and several persons favored a sewer in Walter street.

Several persons appeared in behalf of the laying out of Parmenter road.

Ex-alderman Fred M. Blanchard opposed the laying out of Frederick street on behalf of the Misses Dorney who owned some 200 feet frontage.

Other hearings were held on sewers in Winnetaska road, Underwood avenue and Daniel street, on taking easement for drain in Newtonville, petition of C. S. Nelson for a 3-car garage on Richardson street and on poles on Court and King streets, the two last being granted without reference.

Mayor Childs sent in numerous communications, including the statement of the School Committee that it would discontinue the Froebel school, a request of the Newton Highlands

ONE RESULT OF THE WAR
During the past ten years, including the War period and period of readjustment following, many business men have been subjected to a tremendous mental and physical strain at a period in life when they were about ready to retire and enjoy the results of many years of effort. Having again assumed these burdens of business they find it difficult to make arrangements to give up these responsibilities.
A Voluntary Trust with a modern Trust Company solves this problem. Our Officers will be glad to explain its many features.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by DOROTHY DRAKE

Albert Angier School

This week being National Music Week the Angier School had a special musical program Monday morning. "There's Music in the Air" was sung by the Seventh Grade Sextette. Next a girls' selected chorus sang "Welcome Sweet Springtime," with Lorraine Phipps as soloist. Isabel White then sang the solo part of the "Regatta Song" and the entire seventh grade joined in on the chorus. "Love's Old Sweet Song," which was a tone test rendered by Lorraine Phipps finished the entertainment. The school is much indebted to Miss Doran, who teaches the music in these classes, for giving them such an enjoyable treat in that subject.

The baseball team reports playing two games the past week. The first with the Fessenden School was not a close one, the final score being 26-4, in favor of Angier. Tuesday afternoon the game was played with the Bigelow team on the Waban playground. The Bigelow team was in the lead up to the sixth inning when Everett Walton hit a home run; Alfred Brown a "triple" and Arthur Chamberlain and Ralph Phillips "doubles," making the score 5-2 which with another tally in the eighth by Waban and two by Bigelow made the final score 6-4.

The members of the eighth grade are much interested in making out a character rating for themselves. They have been using the self-measurement test prepared by Dr. Wellington Massee. The points under consideration are: Habits of Study and School Work, Concentration, Honesty and Integrity, Unselfishness, and Loyalty. The interest shown in finding habits that need correcting and points to be strengthened proves that such work is immeasurably worth while.

Hyde School

Alan Rust a pupil in the eighth grade has had perfect attendance for five years.

Esta Woodworth's captainball team is in the lead with a total score of eight. This team has won all three games which it has played.

Mrs. Clara Clement is teaching in the sixth grade during Miss Abbott's enforced absence due to illness.

A committee of teachers has been appointed to take charge of the Memorial Day exercises.

At a meeting of the baseball team Paul Bertsch was elected captain and Richard Wagner, manager.

The Hyde team played a game with the Bigelow school at the Newton playground. The Bigelow team scored five runs in the last half of the last inning making the final score in their favor nine to eight.

The following is a list of the names of the pupils who have had perfect attendance this school year:

Grade VIII—Alan Rust, Catherine Carrick, Robert Bonner.

Grade VII—Albert Hutchinson, Marguerite Parker, Dorothy True, Kenneth Warren, Harriet Gray, Gladys Williams.

Grade VI—Edward Patterson, Janet Ryther, Merrill Dubay, Eugenia Martin.

Grade V—Bradford Riley.

Grade IV—Betty Benson, Lois Fletcher, Catherine Regan, King Dubay, Carlton Redmond, Dexter Stokell, Charles Wetmore.

Grade III—Margaret May, Janet Crosby.

Grade II—Russell Riley, Edward Wetmore, Nancy Coan.

Kindergarten—Elizabeth May, Virginia Squiers.

West Newton Music School

The public is cordially invited to attend the final pupils' recital to be held at the Claflin School, Newtonville, on Friday evening, May 16th, at 7.15 P. M.

The Music School rendered an interesting program at the Centenary Methodist Church in Auburndale, on Sunday evening, May 4th, to mark the opening of Greater Boston Music Week.

Lasell

On Wednesday evening there will be a concert by the pupils of the Music Department at Lasell Seminary.

At 4.30 on Friday afternoon, a moving picture on "Nature's Most Vital Food" will be shown to the pupils of both the Senior and Junior Schools.

Members of the Dramatic Club under the direction of Miss Lora V. Francois, Head of the Expression Department, will present a play, "Fanny and the Servant Problem" Friday evening, May 9, at the Auburndale Club House. This entertainment is open to the public, and is for the benefit of the Endowment Fund.

On Sunday evening, Rev. Raymond Calkins of Cambridge will speak at the Vesper Service.

The Seminary girls are practicing daily on the river under the direction of Mr. Earl H. Ordway, for the coming races to be held on the annual River Day, May 29.

F. A. Day Junior High School

We are proud of our two latest acquisitions for beautifying our building—the 1923 and 1924 class memorials. These panels have been fitted to the arch ways over the Assembly Hall doors in the first floor corridor. The paintings are two copies of the six panels depicting the Evolution of the Book by John W. Alexander. The Oral Tradition represents the Oriental story-teller and his group of absorbed listeners; the Printing Press, Gutenberg, the inventor of printing, reading a proof which he has received from the press.

The High School Woman's Club met in the Assembly Hall of the F. A. Day Junior High School Thursday afternoon, May 1. Tables were arranged for Mah Jong, Bridge, and Auction. A cabaret followed, with clever original songs. Junior High School girls in dainty costume acted as waitresses. The committee in charge of this May party was Miss Fales, Mrs. Blake, Mrs. Johnstone, Miss Borden.

Under the auspices of the Wireless Club a picture entitled, Wizardry of the Wireless initiated some of us into the intricacies underlying the splendid concerts, talks and programs we may hear over the radio. For those who own radios or who study its science, the picture proved most helpful and enjoyable. Like the other worth-while pictures which we have been so fortunate to see, this picture graphically tells the progress of civilization.

Newton High School

A Nature Club has recently been organized in the High School. The following officers were elected: Helen Cox, president; Margaret Mackintosh, vice president; Dorothy Drowne, secretary; Lois Cone, treasurer.

The members are Miss Kennedy, Eleanor Anderson, Lois Burubam, Lois Cone, Helen Cox, Josephine Darrell, Dorothy Drowne, Dorothy Drown, Katherine Holmes, Gladys Kelloway, Margaret Mackintosh, Evelyn Marston, Edith Pearson, Margaret Ryan, Marian Sumner, Marion Trowbridge, Catherine Urquhart, Alice Volante.

The club intends to make several trips to places of interest in or near the vicinity of Boston.

Country Day School

The Private School Association of Boston is to hold its last meeting of the season at half-past ten next Saturday morning at the Country Day School, Nonantum Hill, Newton.

Dr. Lewis Perry, headmaster of Exeter Academy, will give the morning address on "What Is Real in Education."

Section meetings will take place immediately after luncheon. Miss Harriet E. Peet will speak at the English section on "Education in a Child's Use of English," and at the kindergarten section, grades I through VI, Miss Taylor, head of the Shady Hill School, Cambridge, will talk on "The Relation of the School Assembly to the School." B. A. Strohmeier of the Country Day School will lead an informal discussion in the mathematics section on "Mathematical Requirements for Admission to Classes Four and Five Years Before College."

Burr School

This week was the banner week for Grade IV in banking. They banked the most for any week of the year.

Grade V welcomes Susan Cavanaugh to their class this week.

Williams School

The Williams Kindergarten is very busy preparing for Mothers' Day to take place the last of the month.

The First Grade and the Kindergarten have enjoyed several nature walks during the past month.

We were all glad to welcome Miss Gardner of the second grade back from Maine after seven weeks' absence, due to the illness of her mother.

The third grade of the Williams School is carrying out an interesting project concerning the occupations of their parents.

The teachers of this school have shown their interest in the "Health Week" by attendance at various lectures on the different phases of the subject given at the Health Institute in Boston.

In the two months since school banking was started we have shown excellent results. To date the Williams School has 249 depositors out of 265 pupils enrolled in the school.

Mason School

Instead of the club meeting this week the eighth grades listened to Mr. Smith of the Vocational School, who spoke of the Science of the Agricultural Course in the Vocational, and also about making home gardens. He had several pupils take cards to fill out for home gardens.

Over one hundred members of the Newton Centre School Association met Wednesday at 3 o'clock in the Mason hall. The annual election took place and the reports were given by the chairmen of the committees, then the eighth grade sang two songs followed by an address given by Miss Roy on Americanization."

AMERICANIZATION ACTIVITIES

The Americanization Division of the School Department was very fortunate in securing for presentation last week four unusually interesting films. One, "Diphtheria Prevention," was loaned by the John Hancock Life Insurance Co., and three, "Fear," "Bringing It Home," and "Tommy Tucker's Tooth," by the State Health Department.

The Newton Olympia Theatre kindly co-operated with the School Department by showing these reels free of charge, and by giving admission to the members of the Americanization classes. At Upper Falls, the Auditorium was loaned for the afternoon of Thursday, May 1, that the Women's Classes, their husbands and children, and others interested might view these educational pictures.

One may judge of their compelling quality when, of a group of ten to twelve year old boys quiet as mice, suddenly one, unable longer to restrain himself apparently, whispered to his neighbor, "Gee, but these are corker."

NATIONAL HOSPITAL DAY

Next Monday will be observed at the Newton Hospital as National Hospital Day and a cordial invitation is extended to all to visit the Hospital that day between 2 and 5 o'clock.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

unselfish service and careful attention to details.

He was born at Gloucester, Mass., Oct. 5, 1845. He came from the best of stock. His father was the local postmaster appointed by President Lincoln. All of the family were intensely patriotic, and three brothers and a brother-in-law enlisted in the Civil War; one older brother making the supreme sacrifice of giving his life for his Country.

His spare time, outside of school hours, was spent in the printing office of the local newspaper. He took this means of earning some extra money, which all boys find so desirable.

At the age of sixteen he enlisted in the 23rd Mass. Reg't. Volunteers. In three months he was transferred to the U. S. Signal Corps, taking part in many important engagements in the Civil War. After serving his full term of three years, he was honorably discharged with a Lieutenant's Commission.

In 1877 he was elected a member of the Mass. Legislature from his native city. While at the State House he came to know Governor John D. Long, who afterwards became his close lifelong friend. Under Governor Long's administration he was appointed Ass't. Adjutant General with the title of Colonel.

At the close of the war, when he was hardly twenty years of age, he came to Boston and engaged in the printing business for himself. It was no easy undertaking, but he was unafraid of rebuffs. By hard work, after a time he succeeded, so well he was enabled to go into the wholesale paper business. This he followed principally with paper manufacturing all of his after life. In the course of time he became a director in the Rumford Falls Paper Co., of Rumford Falls, Maine. This business was afterwards absorbed by a merger with the International Paper Co.

Following this he became one of the prime movers in the organization of the Great Northern Paper Co., which is now one of the largest pulp and paper manufacturing concerns in the world. From the first until the time of his death he was an active director in this company, and took frequent business trips to Northern Maine.

During his later years he devoted much time to the Haskell-Dawes Machine Company. This concern is located in Philadelphia, and produces rope and cordage, making machinery which is used in different parts of the world.

It would be hard to find a man who was more consistently devoted to his business. Early in the morning, late at night, frequently taking time only for a quick lunch was the rule with him. As a natural result his business prospered.

With all of his busines activties Colonel Haskell was never too busy to do a good turn for a worthy cause or to assist liberally by his counsel and means to those who were in need or distress. He had many such calls. Frequently his friends wondered how he could stand up under the multiplicity of burdens, which he carried so easily.

He was tireles in his efforts to serve his country, the State and the community. The one tender spot in his heart was his regards for the old boys of the G. A. R., who with us mourn his loss. It is a notable fact, and a testimonial of his remarkable business abiltiy, that during the three times the National Encampment G. A. R., met in Boston in 1890—1904 and 1917, Colonel Haskell was each time chosen Chairman of the Finance Committee. In 1904 he solicted aid from the citzens of Boston and raised over $50,000, while in 1917 the amount raised was even much greater. In every case there was ample funds to suitably observe these national anniversaries. This great work was done quietly and effectively, apparently without any special effort.

His attention to details was an object lesson to some of us who at different times have had the privilege of working with him in these outside matters. Every side of the problem was carefully surveyed. Information and facts were tabulated and checked up so that they might be used at the proper time and way.

One of the things characteristic with him was his punctuality in keeping appointments. Anything which he undertook was regarded as a sacred obligation, to be faithfully followed through to completion.

One of the things in which he rendered conspicuous service to our local Baptist interests was for many years serving as Chairman of the Trustees of the Boston Baptist Social Union. At the time, about ten years ago, when the building occupied by the Youths Companion was vacated, the problem was to find a revenue for the Committee on the Ruggles street Church. The property could not be sold except at a sacrifice of about one half of its replacement value.

Under his leadership the building was remodelled at a considerable outlay and rented on a paying basis. Recently, it was sold at what was considerd to be the full inventory value, thereby conserving, for religious work, the bequest of Mr. Ford. It took courage to borrow funds for such a project when the outcome was so uncertain; but, Colonel Haskell never doubted the wisdom of the plan.

Probably his most notable achievement was in connection with our New England Baptist Hospital. A little over twenty-five years ago the affairs of the Hospital were at a crisis. At the earnest solicitation of the trustees, Colonel Haskell assumed the Presidency of the corporation. With the experience he had received from serving in the management of similar institutions, he soon had every department of the Hospital on a sound business basis.

For many years the average weekly cost per patient was among the very lowest in Massachusetts. He gained for it new friends, and strengthened the confidence of all, so that through his own generosity and that of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel N. Brown and others, the Hospital will soon move into a substantial and workable plant worthy of our denomination.

The Edward H. Haskell Memorial Home for Nurses, his gift complete to the Hospital corporation, which was formally dedicated and presented by him personally, just before he left for California, was the one crowning act of a generous noble-hearted Baptist layman.

In making the presentation he said, "I thought that some day we might have a Nurses' Home, a real Nurses' Home. There, after trying days and difficult experience, they could have rest and proper recreation so as to give the best possible service to their work. I am sure a Nurses' Home of this kind will help in the years to come in the service the people will receive." These words came from a heart full of love for others.

As we contemplate this full rounded and well spent life which has gone to its Heavenly home, we almost hear the Master saying to his faithful servant: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me." "Enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

kell's life,—of special significance in this Memorial service,—is, that he wrought in the material sphere in the interest of the spirtiual sphere.

How often, perhaps now generally, is it the case that men who are engrossed in large commercial enterprises, as Colonel Haskell was, live for purely material ends. They are ambitious to gain niches that they may enjoy them in luxurious living in fine houses, expensively furnished, in sensuous pleasures of various kinds. It was not so with Colonel Haskell. His was the simple life to the end of his days.

He made no vain show of his wealth as he could have done. Few, if any, knew how financially prosperous he was. All his interests centered ultimately in the extension of God's kingdom. He wrought in material things. He lived in eternal things. The Apostle's statement is a just description of Colonel Haskell's life. "We look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen; for the things which are seen are temporal, but the things which are not seen are eternal." He invested his life in the things that abide. He built for eternity. He caught a clear vision that success in business means service, means the furtherance of the kingdom of God, not the gratification of selfish personal desires. His happiness consisted in doing good, in promoting the highest range of human welfare. He felt that that was the only worthy motive for making money, that that was the supreme thing that money was for, but he did want money, and strove hard to get it, that he might make the highest use of it. Colonel Haskell had a true perspective of life. He dropped the emphasis where it belonged, and in this he lived a happy life. Herein he is a conspicuous example for all who have had vouchsafed to them the ability to make money, that they spend it, not on themselves, but on those interests that do the greatest good, and bring supreme happiness to themselves and to others.

Such a life as Colonel Haskell's lives on after he has gone, and its usefulness increases with the passing years in furthering the kingdom of divine truth, divine righteousness, and divine love.

Colonel Haskell has passed out of an earthly life of exceptional, of astonishing activity. We cannot believe that he has gone into a life of leisure, of idleness. His God, who gave him so much to do here, has still higher and richer employment for him there. He is diligent in business in heaven as he was on earth. He is a faithful steward of his Lord's goods now, as he was throughout his earthly life. The encomium, "Well done, good and faithful servant," he hears in heaven as he heard it on earth.

Mr. Curtis said:

"Seest thou a man diligent in his business, he shall stand before kings; he shall not stand before mean men." Prov. 22-29.

This proverb was literally exemplified in the life of our friend and brother. If it were possible to sum up briefly his business career it would be as follows: Consistent application,

ZONING LAWS CRITICIZED

"We do not care any more" said a prominent speaker at the Highlands Improvement meeting. He was referring to the happenings on his beautiful street, a street which for years had been the pride of every householder. "Don't care any more." Watch this thought said another and note its effect on the future trend of events and it applies to all Newton.

Another speaker spoke of the Eliot and Waban section—a purely single type of residential section but now being invaded with a type of house not in keeping with the precedence established in the neighborhood and greatly to the annoyance of the citizens thereabouts and all made pcssible presumably because of the fact that a Zoning ordinance as presented by Ex-Alderman Phipps of Waban and approved by every Village Improvement Association failed of enactment when it reached the floor of the Board of Aldermen because the Phipps plan was supposed to be unAmerican and un-Democratic and not for the best interest of the city.

"Hindsightedness" was a term used several times by one of the speakers and the hindsightedness can not be placed on our public officials but with the individual citizen in his laxity in not going to the front and making his needs known in a more vigorous manner.

Some of the speakers seemed to think that their particular street was immune from any possibility of invasion by a type of building not in keeping with the style of houses in that section but Alderman Bail, who was present made it clear that this is not so under the present code and he therefor strongly urged that the meeting go on record favoring an amendment to the present Zoning laws.

Grosvenor Marcy moved to the effect that the executive officers of the Improvement Association get in touch with the other Improvement Associations for the purpose of calling a Mass meeting for discussion on the Zoning subject and to take any action that seemed advisable.

Alderman Bail received a vote of thanks for his energetic efforts as a representative in the Board of Aldermen and during the evening the same gentleman spoke for improvemets about the village, mentioning the Ol'e swimming hole at Crystal Lake, and who swims there and certain rights along the Lake which by a little forsightedness a few years ago might have been bought for a few dollars, he also spoke of a possible site for a junior high school and it met approval, and incidentally mentioned a 28-dollar tax bill for the near future. The trolleys and busses came in for an airing and all the money the railroad loses in carrying the school children, and likewise the poor state of Highlands Square as compared with other business sections and squares in other parts of Newton and Walnut Bridge and Hartford street, and that well known pest the mosquito which yearly develops a wonderful stock of good eaters as the candy men would say.

The election preceeded and the customary reports were read. Mr. William F. Coan was re-elected president, John H. Elwell, vice-president, Ronald Birch, treasurer, and Mrs. Collins, secretary.

EDITORIAL

We are glad to note that the school department is taking active steps towards a unification of the various courses at the Newton High Schools. When the Technical High school was erected, it was understood that the new building was not to be a rival of the Classical school, but to co-operate with it. It was soon found, however, that a class distinction was being formed between the two schools, and with that unfortunate situation to face, the former school committees weakly yielded to its influence, and permitted dual courses to be inaugurated in both schools. The present step towards unification is in the right direction.

—o—

The authorization to issue $50,000 in Street Improvement bonds will still further reduce the borrowing capacity of the city and makes the plan of building new school houses without Legislative action, a matter of considerable doubt. We very much doubt the policy of having the city finance street and building developments and believe that persons interested in such developments should build the streets with their own money before asking the city to accept and care for them.

—o—

Alderman White's reference to the lack of care by the executive branch in handling matters involving land damages, should be emphasized in the proposition now under consideration to discontinue the use of part of Elm road as a public way. We rather imagine that the land owners on that road would be entitled to substantial damages if this proposition is approved.

—o—

The beautiful sentiment which surrounds the happy selection of the second Sunday in May as Mothers' Day ought not to be commercialized, as it now seems possible. It is not necessary to have expensive flowers, cards or candy to show one's respect and affection for the one who brought us into the world, and indeed, it might be just as well to remember that our regard should be shown every day in the year, and not be limited to one day only.

—o—

The efforts of the ladies of West Newton to erect a Memorial library in that village should have the encouragement of everyone interested in the improvement of the city. The ladies not only contemplate a worthy memorial to the world's war dead, and others, but to do so in such a manner as to beautify the business centre of West Newton village. The proceeds of the cabaret to be held tomorrow evening in the State Armory will be devoted to this purpose.

VILLAGE PLAYERS

Sanford, Mr. Thatcher Nelson as the religious bigot and would-be orator has a most difficult part to play, and he did his part with a truthfulness to detail in voice and gesture which was very convincing.

Another very interesting and humorous character is the policeman uncle, who takes an intimate joy in confiscating the unwary automobilist, and himself falls a victim of his own confiscation, and, in an unguarded moment, gives away the family secrets.

It is a clever part and one which calls for careful and discriminating work. Mr. Robert E. Briggs did full justice to the part at the first performance on Thursday night.

Others who added materially to the interest of the play were Mrs. Marjorie K. Edwardes, the designing young widow, Mr. Harold P. Carver, the "Tweedle" son, and Miss Mabel F. Melcher and Mr. Charles F. Weeden, Jr., as the father and mother of the wayward Julian. The attempts of the latter to analyse the situation, and to control their son's actions are very funny and very human.

After all efforts on the part of their elders to separate them the young people, as in all of Tarkington's plays, come off victorious.

"Tweedles" is a more serious play than many of Mr. Tarkington's. Underlying the humor and satire, is a very real picture of life especially as one finds it along our Maine coast today.

The Village Players are to be congratulated upon having in their midst those who are able to interpret such plays.

AUBURNDALE CLUB

The Auburndale Club held its Annual meeting in the new clubhouse on Wednesday evening. Reports of the work of the past year, and plans for the future were discussed. As the motion pictures which have been shown one night a week at the Clubhouse have proved profitable, it was proposed to have these motion pictures two nights a wek in the future.

The club membership is about 300 of which one-third are ladies. The clubhouse is also used by the Auburndale Woman's Club, which has an equally large membership.

Some of the members of the club proposed to aid in the support of the club by turning in their bonds in the club for cancellation to reduce the bonded indebtedness and interest charges. As a result, some $1500 was pledged.

Mr. William Carroll Hill, who is a recent member, was elected President of the club; Mr. Wickliffe J. Spaulding, Vice President; Mr. Earl H. Ordway, Secretary; Mr. Francis McGill, Treasurer, and Mr. Charles B. Floyd, director.

CITY HALL

On Thursday, May 8th, the Massachusetts Highway Association held its quarterly meeting at the Boston City Club. Street Commissioner Stuart, who is a past president and a charter member of the Association, gave a talk on the difference in conditions now and thirty years ago, and told how the large number of motor vehicles now in use have changed the methods of road maintenance. Mr. Stuart also spoke of those who were responsible for organizing and perfecting the Highway Association, many of whom have now passed on.

Why "Topsy-Turvy."

The expression "topsy-turvy" was originally "topside-turfway." When turf is cut for fuel it 's turned upside down to dry, the "topside" of the "turfway" being underneath. So the expression came to mean upside down.

WHEN KING RICHARD II DINED

Spoons and Fingers Were Good Manners and Carving Was New Fangled.

English in the Canterbury days ate much in the French style. Spoons and fingers were good manners and carving was new fangled, if it was in fact practiced to any extent at all.

Richard II and the duke of Lancaster once dined in London with the bishop of Durham. The king, the duke and the bishop and their retinues and guests called for 120 sheep, 14 salted oxen and 2 fresh ones, 1,240 pigs, 12 boars, 210 geese, 720 hens, 50 capons "of hie greze" and 8 dozen other capons; 50 swans and 100 dozen pigeons; rabbits and curlews by the score. 11,000 eggs, 12 gallons of cream and 120 gallons of milk.

Such was a royal feast, and every day, whether fast day or eating day, had four meals. Breakfast at seven, dinner at ten in the morning, supper at four and livery at eight at night. The hour of dinner is said to show the development of cooking in any given country. But there were Chaucerian refinements, nevertheless, aside from dishes of flowers; permissible foods imitating the form of meats on fast days, even eggs being counterfeited, and clever things such as making two capons out of one by skinning it and stuffing the skin. There were, besides, the points of etiquette: A pig for a lord should be endored, his cabbage thicked with egg, not crumbs; a pike served whole to a lord, but cut for the commonalty. And mint sauce has a pedigree reaching to Edward I.—Kansas City Star.

ANESTHETIC USED IN 220 A. D.

Chinese Remedy Known as Ma Yao Was Extracted From India Hemp Centuries Ago.

An anesthetic the effects of which were like those of ether or chloroform, was used in China in 220 A. D., by the surgeon Haoua-t'ouo. This is established beyond doubt by the text of Kou kin yi tong, which was brought to the attention of the Academy of Sciences in 1849 by Stanislas Julien.

The Chinese anesthetic, known as ma yao—that is to say, "the remedy which takes away feeling"—was extracted from Indian hemp, which also yields hasheesh.

The old Chinese text tells us: "Haoua-t'ouo gave a dose of ma yao to the patient, who a few minutes later became unconscious—that is, as though he were deprived of life. As the case demanded, Haoua-t'ouo would operate upon the person or amputate and remove the cause of sickness. Then he would draw the tissues together at the point of incision and apply ligatures.

"After a few days the sick man was on his feet again without having felt the least pain during the operation."—North China Herald.

He'd Say It Was.

A man, traveling in a train that had made several abrupt stops and sudden jerks, became a bit anxious. There had been numerous accidents on the line of late, so he had been told, and there was cause for fear. Calling the porter aside, he said: "George, is this train safe?"

"Safe as any, suh?"

"Is there a block system on the road?"

George's grin extended from ear to ear.

"Block system, suh? Why, boss we has de greatest block system in de world. Ten miles back we was blocked by a load of hay, six miles back we was blocked by a mule, just now we was blocked by a cow, and I reckon when we gets farther south, we'll be blocked by an alligator. Block system, suh? Well, I'll say it is!"—Country Gentleman.

Forgot Part of Her.

The housewife was busily engaged with the family washing one Monday morning when she saw the rent collector coming up the path to the door. She instructed her little son to answer the bell and tell the visitor that she had gone out on an errand.

Since the room offered no better hiding place, she crouched behind a clotheshorse, on which the clothes were hanging to dry.

The boy opened the door and told the tale, according to his mother's instructions. When he had finished the visitor cast a sharp glance toward the screen of drying clothes and remarked:

"Well, my lad, just tell your mother I called, and you might tell her that next time she goes down the street she would do better to take her feet with her."

Nothing Doing.

A school teacher had found her class of boys reluctant in their writings of English compositions. At last she conceived a great idea to stimulate their interest—to write an account of a ball game.

It seemed that she was successful. With one exception, the boys threw themselves at the task and evolved youthful masterpieces. The backward one chewed reluctantly at his pen and was then struck by a burst of genius. When the teacher opened his paper, it read: "Rain—no game."

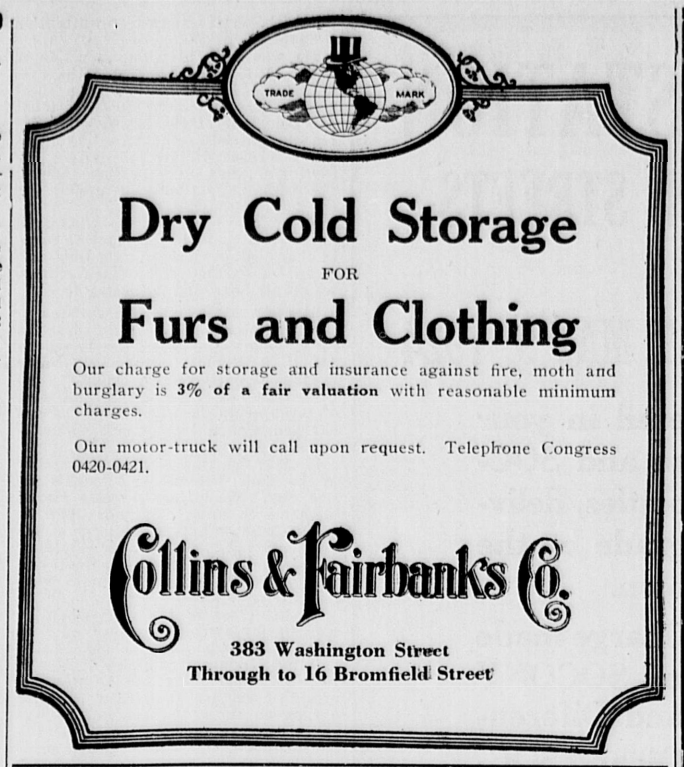

Taking the Chance.

Father—Didn't I tell you not to let me catch you doing that again?

Little Willie—Yes, sir.

Father—Then why did you do that?

Little Willie—Because I didn't think that you would catch me.

A NOTABLE IMPROVEMENT

The Standard Oil Company of New York opened their new filling station at the corner of Park and Washington streets, this morning.

The completion of the plant makes a great improvement at this corner, giving an unobstructed view, and replacing the old two-story frame factory building.

The building is of red brick with dark colored slate roof, and has large windows in the front. Ornamental posts with high candle powered lamps will make this corner one of the brightest in Newton. Shrubbery around the front adds to the attractiveness of the station, which is laid out with the view to affording convenience to ts customers.

Socony Gasoline is delivered into the automobile by the Hydraulic System, which eliminates all pumping or mechanically operated devices. Quick service and accurate quantities are claimed for this method.

Another feature is the manner in which Socony Motor oils will be sold. Instead of using the usual measures, the attendant will have a clear glass bottle of oil ready to pour in the car. The merits which the Company claims for this method are quick service, containers that are clean and therefore deliver clean oil, and an opportunity for the customer to see the oil.

The station is fully equipped for the convenience of customers — Free Crank Case Service, Air and Water Supply, and a full supply of Socony products.

Edwin Clark and M. J. Sullivan, of Newton, are in charge of the station.

HOW TO CURB BABY BULLY

Send Him to Coventry Is One Method That Is Recommended as Effective Means.

Surely there can be no sadder sight than one child bullying another. People say easily: "Oh, let them fight it out; boys will be boys," and so on.

But very often children are not having a friendly knock-about. Sometimes it is a case of one small boy terrorizing his fellows by sheer physical force.

Mothers who make a really serious study of their little ones are often up against it when it comes to forcing the baby bully to see the error of his way. I don't think it is always that a child takes his cue from his parents, though, of course, willfulness and bullying may come through too much home leniency.

More often than not bullying is just the result of a kiddie finding his arms, legs, and muscles are a little stronger than somebody else's. Instead of teaching him to apply these gifts in the right way, kindly friends and relatives are rather apt to smile on his feats until the child really does not believe that his strength is the only thing that matters.

What can be done to cure the baby bully? Warnings, thrashings, lectures are probably useless. There is only one place for big and little bullies alike. That is "coventry." The child caught bullying some smaller or weaker playmate must be made to feel that the world at large has no use for him.

I knew a baby bully who underwent this form of punishment for a month. He emerged cured.

A bully may not—probably never will be brought to reason by the application of superior physical strength, but he will swiftly come to his senses if the little world he lives in forces him to live his life alone?—London Answers.

FIND ODD REPTILIAN BIRD

Resembles the Pheasant—Young Have Claws Instead of Wings—Climbs Trees and Swims.

Just as some remote ape is supposed to connect man with the quadruped, a newly discovered reptilian bird links denizens of the air with some animal that crawled on four legs.

In its native habitat certain waters of Colombia and Bolivia, its Spanish name, when broadly interpreted is "stinking pheasant." Like the American skunk, explorers have little difficulty of being aware of its proximity.

It is described as a beautiful bird with brown, white and olive markings. There is a tuft back of the head which makes it resemble the pheasant quite markedly.

The young birds have claws instead of wings. At the tip and at the "elbow" in the wing are two large, firm, finger-like hooks, making the wing as useful as a hand. With this they are able to climb trees and go from limb to limb for all the world like a quadruped. They are able to swim with amazing agility and can submerge for remarkably long periods.

The adult bird has none of these qualities. It is not web-footed and cannot swim. The claws gradually disappear and in their place wings in no way abbreviated, but entirely similar to the wings of the average game bird, develop.

The bird is believed to be the lone survivor of a great group of reptilian birds that once inhabited the globe.—London Tit-Bits.

Three Would Be in His Midst.

Leon, in the first grade, was struggling with subtraction. The teacher was doing her best to help him. "Leon, if you had seven pencils and lost three, how many would be left?" "Please, teacher, I can't do 'em in pencils." Then he added, "Maybe I could do it in candy."

"Well, if you had seven pieces of candy, and gave your brother three, how many would you have?"

"He'd take 'em all; he's bigger'n me," came the wistful protest.

So the teacher tried again. "If you had seven pieces and ate three, how many would you have left?"

"Seven."

"Why, Leon, if you ate three, you wouldn't have seven left."

"Yes, ma'am," came the patient response; "three inside and four outside."—Brooklyn Eagle.

Couldn't Make Him Believe It.

She was a dear old lady with a rosy face framed in silver hair, and eyes that were all kindness.

She was being shown round the prison, and endeavored as she passed to say a few kind words to the unfortunate prisoners.

"Remember, my good man," she chirruped to one veteran, "that 'stone walls do not a prison make, nor iron bars a cage.'"

"Well," said the old sinner, "they've got me hypnotized, then—that's all, ma'am!"—Stray Stories.

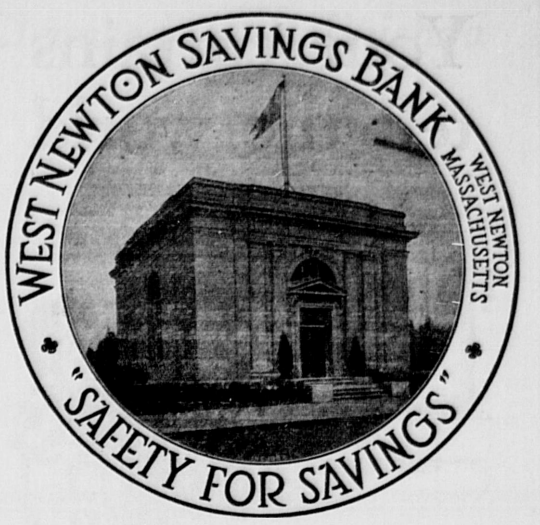

Safety Alarm for Miners.

To warn miners of the presence of fire damp, a lamp has been invented in England that sounds a clear musical note when the atmosphere contains 2 per cent of the harmful gas. As the quantity of this vapor increases, the pitch and intensity of the instrument's tone rise in proportion, sounding an unmistakable alarm.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Coldly Distant.

"Are they distant relations of yours?"

"Yes—the only wealthy ones we have."—New York Sun and Globe.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor

Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, in Federation Topics for May, sends her last message, as president of the State Federation, to the club women of Massachusetts. That the great club movement survives the mistakes and unwise things done by its leaders, she says, proves that the Federation is built on the rocks of faith, hope, and love, and not on the shifting sands of unwise enthusiasm which last but a moment and then blow away. "My own experience, as president, has meant to me a wider circle of friends, who have made life sweeter and richer for me, a broader understanding of the vital problems of today, and a realization of the tremendous amount of work to be done, a cultural background to help strengthen my inner life, and a growing consciousness of the unimportance of the individual who must constantly be submerged for the good of the great club movement." To our community, she continues, it means, first, an organization so hospitable that every woman is welcomed into membership,—the only bar being lack of room to hold her; secondly, a willingness to lead or follow in the work of the community.

State Federation

With the annual meeting at Swampscott next week, May 14, 15 and 16, the club season will practically come to an end. The convention promises to be a record one so far as numbers is concerned, as the accommodations at the New Ocean House have all been taken for many weeks, and the local club is endeavoring to place delegates in homes. Each day will have its special attraction, and if one is to go but for a single day, it will be difficult which one to choose. Of course, if one is a delegate, Thursday is the one, or the election takes place on that day. If, however, that is not the case, Wednesday offers the attraction of Mrs. Poole's final message, while Friday morning will see the closing and the presentation of the new officers, but between Wednesday or Friday, go Wednesday and get the inspiration of the beginning. Psychologically there is something wrong about coming in at the tag end. One misses far less in lopping off at the end than in trying to catch on after the thing has begun.

A complete account of the annual meeting of the Newton Federation will appear next week.

The Annual business meeting and luncheon of the Newton Social Science Club was held on Wednesday, April 30, at the Braeburn Country Club, the business meeting at 10.30, the luncheon at 1 o'clock. The reports of the secretaries, treasurer, and chairmen of the various committees were given and accepted. The following officers were elected for the year 1924-1925: President, Mrs. Franklin E. Smith; vice-presidents, Mrs. Everett E. Kent, Mrs. Samuel Noyes Braman; recording secretary, Mrs. George Lincoln Parker; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Harry W. Fitts; treasurer, Miss Maud B. Henry; auditor, Miss Georgia H. Emery; directors, Mrs. Henry I. Harriman, Mrs. George Angier, Miss Helen T. Hull. At the close of the business meeting, some members of the club who had travelled in Europe and elsewhere during the year, gave informal accounts of their experiences. After the luncheon, which had been arranged for by Miss Georgia Emery and her committee, Mrs. Wolcott Calkins read a most entertaining and delightful paper on the history of the club, dwelling especially on the early days of its existence when the members met in each others' houses until the number was increased so that was no longer possible.

It takes place at Mechanics building on the afternoon and evening of Saturday, May 10.

DEATH OF MOTHER SUPERIOR

Sister Gertrude Marie, Mother Superior of the convent connected with the Church of the Sacred Heart, died last Friday at the age of 45 years. The funeral services were held Monday morning with a requiem mass, at which Rev. Timothy A. Curtin, the pastor, was the celebrant. Nearly 100 sisters from all parts of the diocese, a number of priests, the pupils from the parochial school and many parishioners who had known Sister Gertrude Marie during her brief stay in Newton attended the mass.

Sister Gertrude Marie had been in charge of the convent since last Fall. Previous to coming to Newton in August she had been a teacher in St. Thomas' parochial school in Jamaica Plain for 12 years.

As the body was carried from the church, 80 sisters, each holding a lighted candle, formed two lines, through which the casket was carried to the hearse. Rev. Fr. Curtin delivered a eulogy on Sister Gertrude Marie Sunday morning at all masses in Sacred Heart Church, and in the Church of St. Thomas Aquinas, Jamaica Plain, Rev. William P. McNamara also delivered a eulogy. Burial was in St. Paul's Cemetery, Arlington.

D. A. R. MEETING

The meeting of the Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter of D. A. R. was held April 29th, at the home of Mrs. F. D. Warren, Montford road, Newton Highlands.

The Regent presided. After the opening exercises a short business meeting was held, after which three vocal selections were rendered by Miss Anna Blakemore, accompanied by Mrs. John Glover.

A paper was read by Miss Anna Thompson on the ancestry of Lydia Partridge Whiting, for whom the Chapter was named. This was a most interesting paper and was written by Mr. Mason of Medway, where Lydia Partridge Whiting lived and died, and Miss Thompson, being one of the nine direct descendants, made it doubly interesting to members of the Chapter.

Mrs. Emery gave a report of the Continental Congress in Washington, she being a delegate from the Chapter. Many things had to be omitted in the report, as the time was limited. Mrs. Thompson, the Regent, spoke briefly of the meetings, and some interesting facts were told by her. Miss Head spoke of her work, she being on the Credential Committee. Miss Ward spoke of the Massachusetts room at Continental Hall, and she mentioned the fact that this room should have a flag in the room. After the meeting adjourned, refreshments were served by the hostess. Those assisting were Mrs. Harris Langley, Miss Annie Head, Miss Lewis, and Mrs. S. E. Emery. A social time was enjoyed by all.

NEWTON CENTRE UNITARIAN NOTES

At the Unitarian Church in Newton Centre next Sunday, May 11, at 11 A. M. the preacher will be Rev. Edwin M. Slocombe of Lexington; he will preach in exchange with Mr. Parker.

On Thursday, May 15, at 8 P. M. there will be a meeting of the teachers of the Church School with the parents of the members of the school. This meeting will be held at the residence of Mrs. John McKey, 45 Ledges road. It will discuss school plans for next year. Much criticism is today levelled against the Sunday School. The only way to improve matters is to get the parents to cooperate.

On May 16, Friday, at 8 P. M. a one act play called "In a French Garden" will be given in the Parish House. The author is Mrs. Lorenz F. Muther of Newton Centre. The charming play is given for the benefit of the Children's Mission to Children which is now celebrating its 75th anniversary. This mission is under Unitarian management but ministers to children of all creeds and nationalities. Those taking part are Mrs. L. F. Muther, Cecil Hall, Margaret Underhill, Langdon Pratt, John Sanger, Laurie Muther.

DEATH OF MRS. CHASE

Agnes G. Chase, wife of Colonel Porter B. Chase, assistant adjutant general at the State House, died Monday, suddenly, at the Newton Hospital, where she had been a patient six weeks. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Foye of St. Johnsbury, Vt., to which city the body has been taken. She was married to Colonel Chase three years ago, and the family home was at 317 Auburndale avenue, Auburndale. Besides her husband she is survived by a sixteen months' old child, Nancy, and twin daughters recently born. There is also a surviving brother living in St. Johnsbury.

DEATH OF WILLIAM DOYLE

William Doyle of 19 North street, Newton Centre, Mass., a highly respected citizen of Newton for many years, died May 7th at his residence. He had been sick about five days with bronchitis. He was employed on the Highway Department for the City of Newton over forty years and was pensioned a few years ago.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Margaret Doyle and one daughter, Mrs. John Fitzgerald and two grand children. The funeral will take place from his late residence on Saturday morning at 8 A. M. and solemn requiem mass at the Sacred Heart Church at 9 A. M. Burial will be at Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

THE FACTOR THAT SWINGS THE SCALES

Looking backward over the years that are gone, many men and women can perceive means to fortune that were never utilized. Opportunities came without advantage because ready money was lacking with which to use them for self-advancement.

Looking forward over the years that are to come, the same or similar means or fortune may be disclosed, vaguely shadowed with perpetual hope. The experience of the ages proves, however, that the utilization of these will depend likewise upon available cash.

ARCHERY NOTES

The members of the Newton Archers were out in force again last Saturday at the weekly shoot which is held on their archery range at the Newton Centre playground, 18 archers being present. Several of these were novices and did not take part in the regular competition but devoted their time to learning the technique of the sport.

A regular program for each Saturday afternoon has been arranged and that for last Saturday included for the men an American Round and 24 arrows shot at a distance of 80 yards, and for the women a National Round. There were also a Novelty Shoot to be participated in by both men and women. In both the American Round and the 80 yards shoot P. W. Crouch was the winner, his card for the American Round being 86 hits 426 score. Out of the 24 arrows at 80 yards he placed 11 in the target with a score of 53.

The Novelty Shoot was in the nature of a balloon shoot. A lot of toy balloons were anchored to a string and the archers shot at the balloons at a distance of 40 yards. There was considerable breeze, so that the balloons made rather lively targets. The contest was to see which archer could hit the greatest number of balloons with a given number of arrows. This was won by H. A. Ives, who brought down three balloons.

One noteworthy feature of the Saturday shoot were two ends made at 40 yards, one by P. W. Crouch and the other by L. C. Smith. The term "end" in archery means six consecutive arrows shot at the target. Each target has a center or bull's eye and four rings outside of them. The center or bull's eye counts 9, the value of the ring next the bull's eye is 7, and that of the other rings 5, 3 and 1 respectively. If all 6 arrows of an end were placed in the bull's eye the score would read 6 hits 54. The high end which Mr Crouch made consisted of 3 arrows in the bull's eye and 3 in the red ring making 6 hits 48 score. Mr. Smith's end placed 4 arrows in the bull's eye and 2 in the red ring making 6 hits 50 score.

TO UNIFY HIGH SCHOOLS

A plan for the unification of the Newton Classical High School, Newton Technical High School and Newton Vocational High School, adopted April 14, was voted to take effect on Sept. 1 at a regular meeting of the Newton School Committee on Monday of last week. The question of the unification of the three schools has been under consideration for several years, and it is only after thorough research that the decision has been made. The administration for the school will be announced at a later date.

In accordance to the recommendations in the report of the late Prof. A. J. Inglis of Harvard University, engaged by the school committee to make investigations, this plan necessitates a new building. Prof. Inglis advised the new building to contain:

1. An auditorium to seat about 1,200 persons at one time, with stage and anterooms.

(An auditorium of this size is sufficient for school needs. If, in addition, civic needs are to be met the auditorium may be somewhat larger.)

2. Facilities for physical education: (a) Two large gymnasiums fully equipped; (b) Two large exercise rooms; (c) Two small rooms equipped for physical examination; (d) Two small rooms for corrective physical work; (e) Offices for the director of physical education and his staff; (f) Showers; (g) Lockers; (h) A room for the janitor and his equipment; (i) Toilet facilities.

3. A cafeteria to seat about 800 pupils at one time.

4. Kitchen, etc., for the cafeteria.

It is not known as yet where such a building would be erected, but Prof. Inglis advised having it between the Classical and the Technical High Schools. This would necessitate the closing of Elm road.

BLOOD—DODGE

Trinity Church was the scene of the wedding last Saturday night of Miss Winifred Marianne Dodge, daughter of Mrs. Edward T. Sullivan, and Mr. Roderic Miller Blood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Francis Blood, also of Newton Centre.

Miss Elise Dodge, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Dorthy Blood, sister of the groom, Miss Caroline Fisher of Newton, Miss Mary Harrington of West Newton, Miss Beulah Havens of Newton Centre, Miss Evelyn Jenkins of Andover, and Miss Violet Ramsay of Montclair, New Jersey. Louise Leland of Providence was the flower girl.

The best man was Mr. Warner Eustis of Newton, and the ushers, Messrs. Grant Eustis, and Clifford Foster of Watertown, William Freeman of Brighton, Henry Jenkins of Andover, Raymond Rundlett of Worcester, and Hopewell Underhill of Newton Centre. Dr. Sullivan performed the ceremony.

The bride wore her grandmother's wedding gown of satin brocaded taffeta trimmed with lace, which was a part of the wedding gown of her great-grandmother.

The church was most attractively decorated with Easter lilies and candles. The wedding march was sung by the vested choir of Trinity Church, Mr. Leland A. Arnold, choirmaster.

The cermony was followed by a reception at the home of the bride, attended by relatives and close friends and members of the vestry of the parish and their wives.

The bride is a graduate of Smith College, Class of '22, and the groom of Technology, class of '19.

STREET FAIR AND FETE

All of Chestnut Hill and much of greater Boston, it is hoped, will patronize the Street Fair and Fete to be held on Saturday, June 7, on the Edwin S. Webster Estate, Hammond street, Chestnut Hill.

Although the grounds of the Webster place are extensive, they still are too small to accommodate all the attractions which will be presented; and, accordingly, Hammond street, from Lawrence road to Woodman road, will be closed to traffic during the progress of the fete, from 2 o'clock in the afternoon till 7 o'clock.

The proceeds of the fete will go to the treasury of the Travelers' Aid Society, an organization which is a boon to many strangers in need of friendly advice while travelling, and is highly endorsed by steamship agents and railroad officials.

On the afternoon of June 7, the long stretch of Hammond street in front of the Webster place, will contain many booths decorated in Italian style with flags and bunting. At these booths, there will be a variety of articles for sale,—hats, cake, "surprises," flowers, soft drinks, and hot dogs cooked over a charcoal fire. In fact no visitor need eat his luncheon at home that day, he can easily satisfy himself at the booths.

There will be entertainment for all, from the youngest to the oldest,—dancing on the lawn with Lowe's orchestra for accompaniment, tea on the terrace, overlooking the dancing lawn and the small formal garden, where gold fish may be fished for with nets and carried home in specially provided bowls; a Punch and Judy show in the informal garden, a number of Shetland ponies for youthful riders, and a proper ring for them to ride in; a doll-carriage parade with owners in costume; tennis—men's doubles and mixed doubles by picked players, and a number of outdoor games on the large lawn at the rear of the house, in which everybody may indulge. In many of these games, there will be prizes.

Aside from these attractions, there are the extensive greenhouses and the deer park, and a choice place to rest will be the new Italian garden with its thatched-roof shelter.

More than a hundred Chestnut Hill residents are interested in making this fete successful, and if plans are any indication, there can be little doubt about the result. It will be the first time in some years, moreover, that the Webster place has been thrown open for such a purpose.

There will be four entrances to the estate on the fete day,—two on Hammond street, one on Lawrence road, and one on Woodman road.

BENNETT—MILLS

Miss Doris Louise Mills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Mills of Ash street, Waltham, was married last week, Wednesday, to Mr. Leston William Bennett, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Bennett of Harrington street, Newtonville. Rev. Frederick H. Page of Waltham performed the ceremony.

The wedding couple stood under a white rose petal wedding bell, which formed the center of an arch of orange blossoms.

Miss Roxie Kierstead of Waltham was the attendant of the bride, and Mr. Lorimer D. Lovell of Allston, the best man. Phyllis Mills of Waltham, a cousin of the bride, was the flower girl.

The bride wore a gown of brocaded white satin, with a tulle veil, and carried bridal roses and lilies of the valley. The attendant wore honeydew georgette, trimmed with scrolls of satin and carried butterfly roses. The little flower girl wore a dainty frock of blue crepe de chine, and carried a basket of sweetheart roses.

A reception was held immediately following the cermony, the bridal party being assisted by their parents. The attractive decorations were in pink and green.

After a wedding trip to Washington by autombile, Mr. and Mrs. Bennett will live in Waltham.

The bride is a graduate of the Waltham High School, and the groom of the Boston Mechanic Arts High School. Many guests were present from Waltham, Newton, and the surrounding towns.

BOY SCOUTS

Mr. William Beach Pratt who has been Scout Commissioner of the Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, covering Newton and Wellesley, for more than a year has found it necessary to resign on account of changes in his professional work.

Mr. Pratt is a Consulting Chemist of wide experience and his services are very much in demand over a broad field, requiring him to be away from home a large part of his time. He is a great believer in Scouting and for years was very successful as Scoutmaster of Troop 2, Wellesley. During his term as Scout Commissioner, the Council has had the free use of his handsomely fitted offices at his laboratory in Newtonville and Mr. Pratt has given liberally of his time and money to make a success of the work.

Mr. Pratt's successor will be Mr. Jerome M. Carley of 128 Jewett street, Newton, who will take over the office May 12th.

Mr. Carley is well known to many of the Scouts as he has been active in Scouting for six years. He started in as Scoutmaster, Troop 11, Newton, succeeding Mr. Carl Ellison and under his direction the troop was very active and properous. Later he served as Deputy Scout Commissioner and as Vice President of the Council.

It is largely through Mr. Carley's interest that The Ohio, the Scout Camping Ground in Dover and Westwood, was developed and acquired by the Council, as Troop 11, under his guidance was the first to establish a permanent camp on that site.

Mr. Carley's enthusiasm for Scouting is supported by his well demonstrated ability to plan and systematically execute work over a broad field. As the Chief field officer, his main work will be to assist in building up the personnel of Scoutmasters and Assistants and giving new men necessary assistance to become acquainted with the work.

THE BARNACLES

One of the most delightful of the many delightful evenings held by the Barnacles took place on Tuesday evening at the Church of the New Jerusalem, Newtonville.

Following the supper, Mr. Clinton B. Willey, who has recently returned from a trip around the world, gave his personal impressions of the countries which he has visited.

One of the most striking of his experiences was being in a typhoon for twenty hours in the Yellow Sea. Though Mr. and Mrs. Willey suffered no harm from this experience, it was one long to be remembered.

Of the Japanese, Mr. Willey said that he respected them for what they had accomplished during the last decade, but that he did not like them, personally,as well as he did the Chinese, The latter, contrary to the usual idea, he found to possess a keen sense of humor. China is badly in need of communications. At present certain parts of the country are so cut off from other parts, that it is exceedingly difficult to bring about law and order. Mr. and Mrs. Willey were fortunate in escaping the earthquake in Japan by a few days.

Mr. Willey paid a high tribute to what the United States has done for the Philippines, and expressed the belief that the majority of the people do not wish the United States to leave them. In Mr. Willey's own opinion, the time has not yet come for independence.

In the Orient one has a feeling of the age-long existence of habits, customs, etc. One realizes the difficulty of change. In Australia, on the contrary, one has a comparatively new country with large tracts still unsettled. Australia is very self sufficient and has a very strong sense of patriotism.

Mr. Willey's subject was "Extending the Environment." On this point Mr. Willey said that travel did not necessarily broaden one. There are those who have been in many lands and have come back as provincial as when they started. A real interest in the countries and peoples which one visited was in his mind, the key note, if one would get what he might from his travels. One must approach people of other countries with the desire to learn from them rather than to impose one's own ideas upon them.

Asked what he considered the most valuable thing which he brought back with him from his 100,000 miles of travel the speaker replied a sense of humility, the feeling that we as a nation, have much to learn from other nations, as well as much to give.

In regard to the rather common idea that the Japanese are not to be trusted in business, Mr. Willey said that he had not found this true, at least where one was dealing with reputable firms.

In regard to the exclusion of the Japanese from the United States, he said that he believed that we as a nation had a right to exclude them if we considered such a course desirable, but that he regretted the way in which the question is being handled by our government at present.

The tremendous contrasts in India —beautiful palaces on the one hand, and dirt, squalor, poverty on the other —was clearly brought out by the speaker. He also showed how difficult was the problem which England had to face in dealing with such a conglomorate population.

In regard to world solidarity—if this means similarity of ideas—the speaker said that he was doubtful of the wisdom of such a state of affairs.

A very lively and interesting discussion followed the address, many questions being asked the speaker, questions which proved the Barnacles to be a group of thinking, wide-awake people who are an asset to any community.

NEAR EAST RELIEF

Spring house-cleaning time has been selected by the Near East Relief as the most appropriate season to appeal to the citizens of Newton to donate used clothing to be sent to refugees and orphans overseas.

The American organization, which is caring for 60,000 orphan children, and aiding as many as possible of the 2,000,000 refugees in Armenia, Greece and Syria, has issued an appeal to citizens of Newton to contribute woolen garments to be sent directly overseas. The Newton campaign is under the direction of Mrs. Charles Wood Bond of 112 Gibbs street, Newton Centre, who reports that plans for Bundle Day next Monday have been successfully completed. Mayor Edwin O. Childs has issued a proclamation, calling upon residents of the city to exercise their generosity in meeting the appeal, and through his co-operation and that of Police and Fire officials, all police and fire stations in Newton have been designated as "receiving stations" for bundles from now until Bundle Day.

"Old clothing and cast-off garments will be of great material benefit to the thousands of deported orphans and refugees, little children and old women, huddled on the bleak shores of the Aegean Sea, and slowly dying of exposure and starvation.

The avenues through which information is being given are the Rotary Club, the Chamber of Commerce, the West Newton Community Club, Central Council, the Federation of Churches of Newton, Newton Centre and Newtonville, the Federation of Women's Clubs, the American Legion, the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., and the various papers. The boy scouts are distributing flyers in all parts of Newton. Other avenues of approach also are being reached, asking all interested to contribute warm clothing for these people. Mr. Charles F. Weeden, Jr., of Newton Centre, an ex-Near East worker of large experience, is chairman of the committee for collection of articles from the fire and police stations of the city. The transportation is by the Metropolitan Steamship line to New York, the handling of the goods in this locality being done by the local committee. Offers of automobiles and conveyances to carry the clothing to the steamers after being packed would be gladly welcomed. This would necessitate very little expense for the local committee, and makes the work of larger interest than can be had any other way.

"The Best Obtainable"—is what thousands of People Say About 'White House' Coffee. YOU'LL Say So, Too When You Have Tried It.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by
Leverett D. G. Bentley

Oh, ho! "the political pot is boiling,"
We read on many a page.
Very soon we will find that time is bringing
The "seething cauldron" stage.

Without attempting to act as a prophet we feel confident that the coming Summer is not to be dull. Political candidates are certain to make it interesting. Contests for party nominations have already developed in large numbers and most every one of the contestants are known as "good fighters." Inasmuch as the State primaries will be held Tuesday, Sept. 9, the candidates for nominations will have to do their hardest work in the warmest weather. It will not be a mere figure of speech when the political reporter tells you that "a hot time was held at the rally last night." We don't know just what shape a candidate will be in who tries to address a dozen audiences on a night when the rest of the voters are sweltering. Such an individual, we believe, would excite pity. Whether it would make votes for him we cannot say. For our own part we feel we would be moved by sympathy. For that reason we shall avoid rallies where it is evident that the candidate is suffering from the heat. We have in the past seen and heard candidates in the coldest of weather of whom it might be said they were affected by heat or some other trouble. Their utterances have convinced us of that. However, their afflictions have been mental rather than meteorological, if our own judgment is sound. We only hope that if the candidates cut loose this Summer they will adopt a form of dress that will be suitable. Nothing would drive us away from the support of a candidate quicker than his appearance in a heavy business suit, starched collar and felt hat. We know a candidate reasons that he must look his grandest on the stump. If it is hard to look grand without his regular platform costume let him stay off the rostrum and use the radio. No one stops to think what sort of a dress a man wears when broadcasting his views at the radio station. Imagination assures us there is no limit to what he might wear, or rather leave off. We believe that the "dear people" will not believe a candidate to be reasonable in his views of public questions if he is not reasonably dressed for the prevailing weather.

As to the location of political rallies this Summer we wonder just how that is going to work out. With the primaries early in September the candidate must get in his best licks in July and August, as we view the game. We can picture a campaign committee looking over the field and wondering where they will get the largest crowds. Of course there are those voters, who will not, if the weather is half-way propitious, come up from the shore or down from the country before the second week in September. We sincerely hope they will have sufficient patriotism to vote even at the expense of losing a day of recreation. If we have established a system of preferential primaries—we came near saying pestilential—let us then live up to it or abandon it altogether. But to return to the location of rallies. If the voters "go away" for the summer let the candidates "go after" them. Congress might pass a uniform law permitting candidates in one State to invade another State for the purpose of rounding-up voters of the first State who are temporarily residing in the second. We don't know what the effect would be but as summer colonists are always looking for diversion we believe votes would be made by a Massachusetts candidate who penetrated New Hampshire hills and urged White Mountain tourists to "come back home and vote for yours truly." We should be inclined to pay a good deal of attention to Cape Cod, if a candidate for a nomination. We know of no more attractive place than that and believe that we would be inclined to hold a good many rallies on the beach at old Sandwich near the entrance to the Cape Cod canal. That, however, is merely personal and to be so regarded. There are other spots, such as Petersham, Ashfield and Williamstown that we would favor for rallying places. No campaign committee would be likely to indorse our views but that wouldn't disturb us. But Newton will not be overlooked this Summer by candidates on speaking tours. We are sure to get a lot of rallies. This we say to encourage those obliged to stay at home who may be certain to hear the whole list of candidates in their finest form.

It upsets us very much when we observe, as we did the other day, an unnourished, abandoned kitten crawling through Nonantum Square. It is not the first time that this unhappy sight has met our gaze. This time the kitten made its way through the open cellar window of a block and disappeared. The previous occasion the poor animal was gathered in by the Animal Rescue League. We wonder where these unfortunate creatures come from. We can scarcely believe that a store-keeper would accept the gift of a kitten and allow it to starve. The majority of store cats we have seen have been unusually large, sleek and contented. They have been petted and overfed if anything. Still, the miserable animals that we have encountered in the square from time to time must have been brought there. Much is said of the householder who goes away for the Summer and leaves a cat behind, or who closes his Summer place and comes back to town leaving a cat to shift for itself. We believe in our fellow citizens and we know Newton has justly earned a reputation for "doing things right." Let us think then if this street cat problem is not one that should be taken up and solved. We commend it to our friends who have the willingness and the time to straighten out such matters.

According to agreement we hereby announce violations of the city ordinance against bicycle riding on the sidewalk that have come under our personal notice since the last reference to the subject in this column:

Boy of about 16 years riding on the sidewalk on north side of Elmwood street, Ward 7, at 8.15 P. M., Tuesday, April 29. No light on bicycle.

Two boys, aged about 18 years each, riding one behind the other, on the north sidewalk on Washington street, ward 7, 8.40 P. M., Thursday, May 1. Covered distance from Waverley avenue to foot of hill at Park street without interference. No lights on either machine.

To the credit of the police we saw a bicycle rider stopped in front of Eliot block, Tuesday evening, April 29, and warned by an officer to have a light on the bicycle.

Closing of stores in this city Wednesday afternoons in July and August has been decided upon by the united merchants. Of course this is of interest only to stay-at-homers. The good old custom of getting out of town for the Summer still prevails. Those residents of Newton who don't get away in July and August or at any time during the Summer, will not begrudge the street employes a chance to attend picnics, midsummer outings and baseball games one afternoon a week. As we interpret the calendar there will be 9 Wednesday afternoons coming to them. And this suggests that it not only "takes nine tailors to make a man" but it takes nine Wednesday afternoons to give a store clerk some of the recreation to which, in our opinion, he is well entitled. We wish he might have more.

Music week is not quite ended. When you have read this there will be still a day to sing again your favorite song. By the way, have you a favorite song and what's the title?

We read of a display of motion pictures "showing how butter is manufactured." We had always supposed butter was churned, but are willing to admit that at times we have unwittingly tasted butter which we could have sworn was "manufactured."

Three weeks to the next holiday.

ALUMNI ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

A meeting for the purpose of organizing an Athletic Association, will be held in the Classical High School next Monday evening at 7.45. Two preliminary meetings have lately been held, attended by several of the older alumni and friends of the Newton High School, but next Monday evening's meeting will be open to all alumni and friends of the school, especially former athletes. It is fully expected that there will be representatives from every class which has graduated from the High Schools during the last 40 years, as assurances of attendance have already been received from a large number who have expressed their interest in the organization of such an association.

The purpose of the Athletic Association will be in part to organize alumni teams in track, football, and baseball; to further athletic activities of the schools; to aid in obtaining a new gymnasium and a renovated athletic field; and to offer moral and financial backing to every athletic undertaking of the schools, through close co-ordination with the present athletic committee.

Brookline High School has long had such an organization, and its success in getting the alumni out to games, and interested in school athletics is a material argument in favor of an Athletic Association at Newton.

MOTHERS' REST ASSOCIATION

A May breakfast for the benefit of the Association was held in the Woman's Club House, Newton Centre, the morning of May third. A good breakfast and jolly company were the means of adding a substantial amount to the treasury.

This year the opening date of the "Rest" at Needham Heights is June 4th. Notices have been sent to all organizations from which applications are made and the twenty places for the first group of mothers are filling rapidly. Each group of mothers has at least two members from Newton. All arrangements and applications have to be made by letter to Mrs. George A. Holmes, 140 Sumner street, Newton Centre.

It has seemed wise to the board to abandon the plans for extensively renovating the buildings at the "Rest" for this summer season. Interesting plans for buildings and a new site are now under consideration by a committee made up of: Mrs. Henry H. Kendall, chairman, Mrs. Elias B. Bishop, Mrs. Thomas B. Booth, Mr. C. B. Gordon, Judge E. B. Bishop.

The Rest would be grateful for a small refrigerator, baby carriages, swings, sand toys, that could be donated. Telephone Mrs. Robert Bonner, Centre Newton 2238.

MRS. CATHERINE BASSETT DILL

The Memorial Service for Mrs. Catherine Bassett Dill, wife of Joshua Martin Dill, held in The First Church in Newton, Newton Centre, last Sunday afternoon, was largely attended. Mrs. Dill was born in Bridgewater, Aug. 16, 1855, and died in Nazareth, Palestine, March 23, 1924. The body was brought home and was laid to rest in Bridgewater last Friday.

Mrs. Dill was of Pilgrim ancestry, descended from William Bassett, one of the Forefathers, and from Miles Standish and John and Priscilla Alden. In her inheritance and training she represented the best of our New England culture. A woman of marked ability and untiring energy, her interests were many and varied, and she touched life at many angles. She was prominent in church and social circles and very many have borne witness to the influence of her gracious personality. Both in Dorchester and in Newton she was for many years in charge of the Primary Department of the Bible Schools in the churches with which she was connected, and there is a host of young men and women who recall with grateful affection their early training under her wise and loving guidance.

Fulfilling the apostolic injunction, she "pursued hospitality" and her home was the center of many helpful and gracious influences. Those who have been her guests will always cherish the memory of their stay under her hospitable roof.

Never self-assertive, although always positive in her convictions, her life was permeated by that spirit of unselfish service which is the badge and evidence of true discipleship.

She is survived by her husband, a brother, Mr. William Bassett, of Bridgewater; three children, Dr. Martin B. Dill, of Newton Centre; Mr. Colby Dill, of Woodbridge, N. J., Mrs. Walter A. Forbush, of Brockton; and ten grandchildren.

She will be widely missed and sincerely mourned by the many whose lives have been enriched by her friendship.

MOTHERS OF THE WORLD

From the beginnings of history, mothers have been the moving springs back of the great deeds of the leaders of men, altho their influence has not infrequently been unsuspected or unacknowledged. The following books pay fitting tribute to this influence:

Mother's Day: It's history, origin, celebration, spirit and significance as related in prose and verse. Compiled by Susan Tracy Rice—Y.9R367.

"Mother" in verse and prose, by Susan Tracy Rice—Y.9R367m.

To Mother: an anthology of mother verse, edited by Elizabeth McCracken, with introduction by Kate Douglass Wiggin—YP.9M13.

"Tradition" and other one-act plays, including "Mothers," by George Middleton—YD.M58t.

Among the wealth of material concerning the lives of mothers of famous men, the following books are perhaps typical of the stories that one finds repeated again and again in varying form, acknowledging the mother influence as the mainspring of action in the mature years of men.

Great Wives and Mothers, by Rev. Hugh Francis Blunt—E.B628.

Thomas Alva Edison, by Francis Arthur Jones—E.E237.J.

My Lady of the Chimney Corner, by Alex. F. Irvine—E.17211.I.

Margaret Ogilvy, by James M. Barrie—E.B276.B.

The Mother of Washington, and her Times, by Mrs. Roger A. Pryor—E.W2781.P

Mary and Martha Washington, Mother and Wife of George Washington, by B. J. Lossing—E.W278.L.

Story Life of Lincoln (early chapters), by Wayne Whipple—E.L638.Wp. (a remarkable tribute not only to his own mother, but to the loving care and inspiration of his step-mother)

A Mother of Czars: A sketch of the life of Marie Feodorwna, wife of Paul I and mother of Alexander I and Nicholas I, by Mrs. Colquhoun Grant—E.M3397.G.

Notable Women in History, by Willis J. Abbott—E.A129.

The Empress Frederick, a Memoir—E.V666.E.

(One cannot but wonder that the daughter of Queen Victoria and mother of the ex-emperor of Germany could have had a son such as hers)

Victoria the Woman, by Frank Hird—F4566.H61. (the beautiful home life of England's well-beloved queen)

Life and letters of Phillips Brooks, by Alexander V. G. Allen—E.B791.A.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

For week ending May 3:—Patients in hospital 116, those paying as much or more than cost of care 60, those paying less than cost of care 27, free patients (including babies) 2, patients treated by out patient department 109, accident cases 4, babies born 10, social service calls at hospital 12, at homes 9, patients transported by social service car 16, by volunteer car 7.

Next Monday, May 12, the hospitals of the country observe the anniversary of the birth of Florence Nightingale and the day has been set apart throughout the nation as "Hospital Day." On Monday between two and five in the afternoon the Newton Hospital will be particularly ready to welcome visitors and to give those who visit it an idea of what it is and what it is doing. An invitation is extended to every one to visit the hospital and it is hoped that every one who can will take advantage of the invitation.

During the month of April the hospital admitted 307 patients, the largest number of patients in its care during any twenty four hours of the month was 141 and the smallest number 109, the daily average number being 119.83. To appreciate these numbers it should be remembered that when the hospital has 116 patients it is supposed to be filled to capacity. During the month eighteen requests by doctors for private rooms for patients had to be refused, eleven private patients admitted had to be cared for temporarily in the public wards while they waited for roms, for twenty-five days a bed in the rotunda had to be used and from seven days the office in Founders had to be used as a patient's room.

The Know More Kokki Klub held its first May meeting at the hospital Monday of this week.

There were forty babies born at the hospital during April. Of the ten babies born last week four were twins, one set of boys, one set a boy and a girl. There are now in the hospital three sets of twins.

The hospital has just added to its many labor saving utensils a machine can-opener which is going to make can opening easier and quicker. The machine is so made that it will open any can of any shape or any size, cutting the top out quickly and cleanly. After seeing it work the housekeeper of a home wishes that there were a smaller similar machine available for ordinary kitchens.

The X-Ray department during April had 113 cases, it did more fluroscope work than it has ever done before in a month and also gave its largest number of X-Ray treatments.

On Saturday, May 3, the hospital had a visit from seven young girls between seven and ten years of age. They were Elizabeth Kershaw, Jean Fisher, Elizabeth Rogers, Betty Rogers, Jean Bachrach, Louise Cate and Ruth Chase, all of West Newton. They brought with them nearly fifty May baskets filled with different surprises and after they had distributed baskets to the children in the children's ward they visited other children in the hospital and also some of the older patients. Their visits were welcome and cheering and in one case they had to repeat a visit because after they had been in the room of one boy patient and left a basket but said never a word they announced when outside that they knew him because he went to the same school. Then the nurse conducting them had them go back and say a few words and this the patient and the visitors all enjoyed.

There has been still another gift for the nurse recreation room. This time a runner for the table. It is of black and gold brocade lined with a rose colored silk, and gives quite a desired air to the already harmonious room.

May 5th Mrs. Redfield brought 8 girl scouts to visit the hospital. They were taken to a room fitted out with practise beds and given instruction in properly making a bed. Other things such as are commonly needed in the home rubbing, bandaging, and so forth were taken up.

The Newton Community Club has donated $25.00 to the Hospital.

It is pleasant to be able to say that there were 23 workers in the surgical supply room during April.

The plans for the Nurses' Training School Commencement have been practically completed. On Sunday, June 1, the baccalaureate sermon is to be preached at the Nurses' Home. On Wednesday evening, June 4, there is to be a party given by the pupils of the school to the members of the graduating class and on Thursday, June 5, at four in the afternoon the graduating exercises will be held in a big tent to be erected on the grounds. At these exercises the principal speaker is to be the Hon. Loring B. Young, speaker of the Massachusetts House of Representatives. The committees in charge of the graduation are for music, Mrs. F. A. Day; programme, W. J. Spaulding; supervision of decoration, Mrs. C. J. A. Wilson; refreshments, Mrs. H. P. Converse and Mrs. Ellery Peabody. There will be twenty-seven graduates.

The Newton Hospital Aid Association is to hold its annual meeting Tuesday, May 12, at 11 A. M., at the New Church parish house in Newtonville. There will be the regular yearly business of listening to reports and electing officers. Miss Allen and Miss Herrick of the hospital are to give brief talks, there are to be selections on the harp by Miss Clark and an address on "The Psychology of Nerves" by Dr. Abraham Myerson of the Tufts Medical school and then a buffet luncheon.

NEWTON CHORAL SOCIETY

The annual meeting of the Newton Choral Society was held at Central Church Tuesday night, with a large attendance and much enthusiasm. The following officers were chosen: President, Mr. Fred C. Alexander; Vice-presidents, Mrs. A. L. Wakefield, Mr. Fred W. Woodcock; Secretary, Miss Theresa L. Cram; Treasurer, Mr. Arthur H. Burdick; Executive committee, Mr. George W. Auryansen, Mr. Joseph Barber, Mr. Sydney S. Colburn, Mrs. J. A. Furbish, Mr. Edward N. Griffin, Mr. Frank L. Miller, Mr. Edward K. Titus, Mr. Frederick W. Yelland, Mr. William H. Zoller.

Mr. W. J. Kidder gave the treasurer's report showing a balance of $209.00 in the treasury. The secretary's report was read by Miss Cram, and the chairmen of the various committees reported.

Mr. William Lester Bates, the musical director, then reviewed the work of the season. He felt that the society had passed through its stage of infancy and was on a permanent basis. The number of singers had fallen of slightly, but the musical results are better than ever before. He expressed much satisfaction with the artistic results of the season's concerts, and reported some very flattering remarks made by the leader of the Festival Orchestra, who felt that the society's work would compare favorably with that of any amateur choral society in New England. Mr. Bates felt that the society had secured a very strong support from its associate memberships, and the principal task ahead just now is to secure more singers, particularly men. He urged the members not to forget the society during the summer, but to keep constantly on the lookout for new members.

A brief entertainment was then given with violin solo by Sigmund Romaszkiewicz, a gifted young pupil of the West Newton Music school, with very pleasing vocal solos by Miss M. Ruth Spencer. Miss Lillian West was accompanist. The evening closed with the serving of refreshments and social hour.

Y. M. C. A.

The Annual Meeting of the Newton Young Men's Christian Association was called to order by President Fuller, after an excellent dinner, last Friday night.

After a few appropriate remarks, Mr. Fuller called on Mr. C. G. Colburn, Chairman of the Nominating Committee. The names of eight directors to serve for three years were read. Those chosen were: J. M. Woodbridge, J. A. Stafford, S. T. Emery, J. W. Blaisdell, Grosvenor Calkins, C. W. Bond, W. H. Barker, and H. T. Dougherty. Charles E. Riley and Henry B. Day were elected trustees to serve for four years. Harold T. Dougherty was chosen Treasurer, and C. V. Moore, Clerk. At the Director's meeting immediately following, Mr. Frederic D. Fuller was again elected President of the Association, and Mr. James W. Blaisdell, Vice President.

Mr. Fuller called upon the General Secretary, H. W. Bascom, for a report of the year's work. Mr. Bascom reported that the Association membership had increased thirty percent since April, 1923. The present membership consists of 660 men and 464 boys, making a total of 1,124. If the membership increases next year in the same proportion, the building will be overcrowded.

Mr. Bascom then called upon the following members to speak concerning the activities in which they were most interested: Rev. John W. Spiers, Business Men's Gymnasium Class; George Defren, Junior B. Gymnasium Class; Buddy Wickes, Junior A Gymnasium Class; A. F. Tucker, Bowling; Leslie Russell, Fellowship Club; Hugh Boyd, Senior Group; Tudor Bowen Hi-Y Club; George Van Buskirk, Boys' Clubs; Mr. Joseph Simpson, Church Groups; Alan Shaw, Camp Frank A. Day. Mrs. C. D. Kepner spoke very interestingly about the Women's Auxiliary, and Rev. Francis Argento, Y. M. C. A. Dormitory.

Mr. D. Fletcher Barber, Chairman of the Committee which drew up the Constitution of the Association on October 23rd, 1877, spoke briefly of the beginning of the Association, but said he would not go into many details, for he would save them for the 50th anniversary, which is coming in 1927.

The reports were then concluded with a short talk on the Foreign Work of the Y. M. C. A., by Mr. Munson, for 13 years a secretary in Foochow, China.

A very amusing sketch was put on under the direction of Mr. W. S. Bruton. Those taking part were H. C. Fraser, Hugh Boyd, Leo Frazier, and Cameron Rae.

Mr. E. W. Hearne, State Y. M. C. A. Secretary of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, was then introduced as the guest and speaker of the evening. He closed the program with appropriate remarks, and congratulated the Newton Association upon the fine work of the past year.

DEATH OF MR. THOMAS

William H. Thomas, a well known undertaker, and a past high chief ranger of the Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters, died at his home, 73 Galen street, Watertown, Tuesday morning, after a three-day illness.

Mr. Thomas was in his 50th year, and had been in business for the greater part of his life in the Nonantum Section of Newton. He had been president of the Massachusetts Undertakers' Association. Mr. Thomas was a member of Middlesex Court, M. C. O. F.; Newton Lodge of Elks, the Knights of Columbus and the Eagles. He held the office of secretary of Middlesex Court, M. C. O. F., for 17 years, and also every other office up to that of chief ranger in this court, in addition to the highest honor the order could give him, the post of high chief ranger. He was also very active in the order of Elks, being a member of many committees, and a director of the Nonantum Co-operative Bank. He is survived by his widow, who was Miss Anna Doherty of Watertown; a daughter, Miss Mary Thomas, and a son, William H. Thomas, Jr. Funeral services are being held this morning.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION

The May meeting of the Woman's Association of Central Church is always a delight. The meeting was held this week on Wednesday.

Mrs. Weatherhead and her committee arranged the tables in a most attractive way. Maypoles with their streamers of pink and green tissue paper, dainty nut dishes, and combs of colored paper as place cards, added much to the decorative effect and Springtime atmosphere.

After the bountiful luncheon and the regular business meeting, presided over by Mrs. Austin Decatur, president of the Association, the program of the afternoon was in the hands of Mrs. P. E. Woodward and was especially in honor of the High School girls who were the guests of the Association.

The program was a unique one consisting of musical selections illustrated by members of the association in custume.

Those taking part in the musical part of the program were Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Maybright and Miss West. In addition to playing, Mrs. Edward gave a musical talk on the nature of the compositions which she played which added greatly to the enjoyment of these numbers.

The program opened with a violin solo by a member of the West Newton Music School.

Miss Bartlett, a teacher in the High School, very kindly gave several readings. With these exceptions, all of the talent came from the members themselves.

The following races were represented by appropriate costumes: American Indian, Irish, Spanish, Italian, Arabian, Norwegian, Russian, Indian, Turkish, Japanese, Negro, and American (symbolized).

Those taking part were Mrs. Billings, Mrs. Tylee, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Lounsberry, Mrs. Southworth, Mrs. Webster, Mrs. Ashenden, Mrs. Bricomfield, Mrs. Hanna, Mrs. Shattuck, and Mrs. Williams.

Following the entertainment there was a social hour with tea. Preceding this, Mrs. Wallace Boyden said a few words of greeting to the High School girls who were present, and expressed the interest of the Association in them and their pleasure in having them with them.

During the afternoon there was a food sale in charge of Mrs. H. B. Green, assisted by Mrs. W. H. W. Warner, Mrs. F. H. Leland, Mrs. H. J. Baringer, and Mrs. R. W. Leland.

Snakes Cannot Charm.

The principal venomous snakes in this country are rattlesnakes, vipers, copperheads and moccasins. Venomous snakes have teeth on their upper palate, not on the upper jaw. On each side of the upper jaw two hollow, backward-curving fangs have poison glands at their base, and pressure on the fangs causes an emission of the poison. The fangs are shed at regular intervals—pushed out by incipient fangs.

Capt. Reginald Haselden, an expert on medieval manuscripts and a trainer of snakes on the side, says snakes possess no charming power. He believes, however, that the staring lidless eyes of snakes may autosuggestively put a person into a sort of hynotic trance.

It seems to have been conclusively established that the number of rattles on a rattlesnake's tail have nothing to do with the age of the snake.—Detroit News.

Not Her Hubby.

The woman had just lost her husband and had gone to a summer hotel to rest. She often dreamed of her husband and she would sometimes get up in the middle of the night to see if he wasn't walking about. Any little disturbance caused her to be frightened. One night mysterious raps were heared on the wall of the summer hotel.

"Great goodness," cried the frightened woman in room 13. "I wonder if that could be my departed husband?"

"No," growled the man in room 14, "it's the people on the other floors killing mosquitoes with their slippers."

Proverbs.

No matter where you stir a blaze the world will come to warm its hands.

"The snakes can't find a drunken fisherman to bite," says The Whitsett Courier, "and that's why there are so many live snakes now."

ORIGIN OF FRENCH NAME

Three Sources From Which Montmarte Is Said to Have Received Its Name.

Montmarte!

A strange halo surrounds this name by which the quarter of Paris' artists is know throughout the world. Ambitious, gay and light-hearted people crowd into the tiny studios or in the restaurants of Montmartre and give the entire district its bohemian atmosphere.

Where does the name come from? There are three sources for it, each one of which is ardently defended by a group of etymologists. During the Roman period of Paris there stood a temple on the hill of Montmarte which was dedicated to the god of wars, Mars, and was approximately situated on the spot where now the square of Tetre is located. In Latin, then, one would have said Mons Martis. That is but one of the three hypotheses.

Another temple, that of the god Mercury, stood about the same time at the place where nowadays one finds the Moulin de la Galette; the existence of this sanctuary permitted one to talk in Latin of Mons Mercurii. Indeed, one finds in a chronicle of the Seventh century the term "in monte Mercurii." The alteration of the name in the course of centuries would have made of Mons Mercurii, first Mont Mercre, then Mont Metre and finally Montmartre.

A third explanation, which seems more acceptable still, is the following: It is possible that Saint Denis and his companions became martyrs on Montmartre. One found on the old Montmartre walls though not the tomb of the saint yet the remains of a tomb chamber which was consecrated to him. Montmartre would then be derived from Mons Martyrum, which means mountains of martyrs. It is, moreover, an established fact that Martre, Martrais and Martrois are names given in several other cities to squares or streets to recall the fact that executions took place there.—Paris Excelsior.

HORNED TOAD BIGGEST BLUFF

Swells Up and Squirts Blood From Its Eyes, but Is Said to Be Harmless.

Although the horned toad, specimens of which have recently reached this country, is one of the most repulsive and formidable-looking of all creatures, it is reality quite harmless.

No animal is a more thorough "bluffer." It can inflate its skin to twice its normal size, presenting an appearance of extreme ferocity. When it is angry it hisses and rattles its tail, while it is further endowed with the astonishing gift of squirting blood from its eyes. Actually, however, the horned toad is as incapable of inflicting injury as the ordinary garden frog.

Its ability to emit blood from its eyes without damage to those delicate organs has lately claimed the attention of scientists, who have discovered that the toad squirts blood as a safety valve ejects steam. When the creature is disturbed its blood pressure rises, filling with blood the tiny pockets round its eyes. As the pressure increases the walls of these pockets give way and the blood shoots forth, frightening away its enemy.

The blood is slightly acid and causes a certain amount of discomfort to the person or animal whose skin it touches. The horned toad can squirt its blood 15 inches at intervals of from one to two minutes, and has been known to repulse even rattlesnakes by this extraordinary means—London Tit-Bits.

Name Theater After Mozart.

A million-dollar theater, a rival to the Wagner theater at Bayreuth, is to be built at Salzburg, Austria, the birthplace of Mozart. Mozart festivals will be held there under the auspices of international admirers of the master's music. If the spirit of Mozart was present at the laying of the corner stone last summer he must have smiled with gentle cynicism, says E. Doee, for the great musician went without recognition from his native place even after he had been recognized elsewhere.—Mentor Magazine.

The Reason.

Mrs. De Style was finishing a letter. Her husband looked over her shoulder and inquired, "Why do you write it 'eyether?'"

"I pronounce it 'eyether,' don't I?" demanded the lady.

"Yes."

"All fashionable people do, don't they?"

"I presume so."

The lady emitted a supercilious sniff. "Don't you think I want the people I correspond with to know I am eddicated, huh?"

Just the Thing.

She was one of those little women who are always looking for something that will take up their husbands' idle time.

"John," she said, "I wish you would mend the front door lock."

"C-can't," replied John, quaking like an aspen leaf. "I've g-got t-the s-shaking ague."

"Oh, well, then, I know the very thing; you can sift the ashes."—Stray Stories.

The trip ugh the Hospital was well ned, and each group starting out neyed in the same direction, which d confusion. The Pharmacy was first on the list, closely followed he nurses' dining room, the serv- room with its arrangements for ing things hot, the staff dining n, and then Leeson ward. In one corner re is a shower bath, in another ce there is a small low set tub for ing baths of hot and cold water ch are of such value, particularly feet trouble. There also is what is led the whirlpool, this is of two sizes, one for arms and one for legs. Constantly moving water of any desired temperature has a great tonic effect, and has been found to be most beneficial in cases of infantile paralysis. The whirlpool was a gift to the Hospital, and we were told of the great good that it had done. There is in one room a device for applying plaster casts, and another for massage and baking, then of course there are dressing rooms, and altogether it was quite a department. Further on we came to the place where the mattresses and pillows are aired and sunned, it isn't a room for it is all out doors. Not far from that was the paint shop where a delightful doll house was receiving a fresh coat of paint. Next we came to the diet kitchen, here the baby feedings are prepared and all other diets out of the usual, also classes of the nurses meet in this room. It was near here that we saw a food delivery wagon. It is quite a pretentious thing. The top is full of holes where the food that is to be kept hot is put in in containers on the same principle as a thermos bottle or a fireless cooker, and underneath are large compartments where salads and all unheated food is put. Later on we saw two men in white trundling one of these carts down the corridor. The kitchen is full of interesting things, and to the ordinary housekeeper seems on such a huge scale. The bread mixer is as big as a washing machine, there is a machine for peeling potatoes, another for making ice cream, great electric ovens, something like an enormous chest of drawers, and there was a chocolate frosted cake about the size of an unfolded newspaper. The baker starts work at four o'clock in the morning and gets through at noon. A

BOY SCOUTS

All of the troops in the district are making great plans for the "Open House" at the Ohio camping ground, Saturday, May 24th. Parents and friends, members of the Council, and all scouts in Norumbega Council are expected to be on hand in the afternoon, and many to stay for the evening campfire. An arrangement has been made for automobiles to meet such visitors as are not provided with a conveyance, at Needham Square on arrival of the cars from Newton, which leave Newtonville Square at 12.50, 1.20 and 1.50 p. m., and full directions are being mailed to all scouts for driving to the camp.

Troop 10 of Waban has been reorganized, with Mr. James R. Warren of Devon road as Scoutmaster, and the following gentlemen as a part of the troop committee: Messrs. Sanford Bates, Carl H. Cove, Edward C. McLellen, James R. Chandler, and Willis R. Fisher. Other members will be added later to bring the membership of the committee to seven. The re-organization meeting was held Wednesday evening, being opened by the President of the Council, James C. Irwin, followed by a period of instruction by the Commissioner, Jerome M. Carley, and the new scoutmaster. Twenty-three boys were in attendance and great enthusiasm was displayed, all being eager to get prepared for their first tests as soon as possible.

One of the largest Courts of Honor for the year was held at the headquarters of Troop 3, Wellesley, Thursday evening, May 15th, there being nearly forty scouts present. The next Court of Honor will be held in the first week of June, probably at Newtonville.

NEWTON LOSES

The work of Captain Daniel McFayden, pitcher for Somerville High, put his team in a tie with Everett for first place in the Suburban League, as a result of the 6 to 1 win from Newton Wednesday afternoon at Claflin Field. The Newton nine were helpless, only one, Lawless, landing on the ball for a safe hit.

Whitmore didn't seem quite up to form. Eight hits were gathered off his shoots; Cole, Hogan and Griffin each landing safely twice. He fanned only three men, against 17 for McFayden, and in the crucial third inning three bunts were offered to him in a row, all of which he was a little too slow in handling, and the men were safe.

The third inning, in which four Somerville runs were scored, opened with a pass to McFayden. Cole bunted. Whitmore played for second, but McFayden was safe. Billings bunted and McFayden was again safe on Whitmore's throw. This put three men on. Hogan laced out a double to Lawless. But the throw was wild, and Hogan raced to third. Whitmore again was late on a bunt by Griffin, and Hogan came in for the fourth tally.

That sewed up the game. The remaining two runs came on errors.

Sullivan went into the box for Newton late in the game, but did no better than his predecessor, hitting three men in a row, and giving Kelson a three-bagger.

PIANO RECITAL

An interesting Piano Recital is announced for Wednesday afternoon, May 21st, at 4 o'clock, in Lincoln Hall, Newton Highlands, to be given by William Leonard Gray.

It will be in the nature of a lecture recital, showing the development of music for the pianoforte, and of the instrument itself. It will be illustrated by lantern slides. The recital is an aftermath to music week, and is open to the public.

CHARLES RIVER COUNTRY CLUB

There will be a dance at the Club tomorrow evening.

On Tuesday, May 20, an afternoon bridge will be held.

On Friday, May 23, there will be a dinner dance at the Copley Plaza Hotel.

DOUBLE WEDDING

Last Saturday in the Unitarian Church, Newton Centre, a double wedding was celebrated. The brides were two sisters, Miss Vivian and Miss Antoinette Barbour, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bruce Barbour of Saxon road, Newton Highlands, and the grooms were Mr. Kenneth W. Webb, and Mr. Robert L. Houghton, of Philadelphia and Newtonville, respectively. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George L. Parker, of the Unitarian Church.

The maid of honor was Miss Geraldine Barbour of Newton Highlands and the bridesmaids, Miss Ruth Gardner of Boston, Mrs. Carl Schaum of Philadelphia, Miss Aletha Cann and Miss Mildred Harbaugh of Philadelphia, Miss Alice Dow and Miss Thalia Clark of Newton Highlands, Miss Theodora Goodwin of Boston, Miss Marion Westenberg of Worcester.

The best men were Messrs. McIntosh and Warren Houghton, and the ushers, Messrs. Robert Perry, Carl Schaum, Kenneth Reed, and Herbert Meleny.

A reception at the Brae Burn Country Club followed the ceremony at the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Webb (Vivian Barbour) are taking a three months' trip abroad, after which they will make their home in New York city, while Mr. and Mrs. Houghton (Antoinette Barbour) are on an automobile trip, and will eventually make their home in Boston.

MT. IDA SCHOOL

A pianoforte recital was held at the school on Tuesday by Miss Fern Barbara Schott.

On Wedenesday the school held its annual May Festival. "Mother Nature's Children" was the name of the pageant, which included a May Queen, attendants, pages, etc., and a long list of characters personifying different phases of nature. The senior class carried the rose chain and wound the May Pole. The pageant was most artistically staged, and the participants made a beautiful picture in their many-colored garments.

AWARDED THIRD PRIZE

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dunham Among the Winners in Better Times Contest

New York, May 12.—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dunham of Newton, Mass., have been awarded the third prize of $250. in the Better Times Contest for plans for the further co-ordination of the work of the charitable and social welfare organizations in New York City.

Forty-six plans were entered in the Contest. The first prize of $1000 was won by a committee of the New York members of the American Association of Social Workers. The second prize of $500 was won by Rowland Haynes, Director of the Cleveland Welfare Federation. Honorable Mentions were awarded to Robert W. Kelso, Executive Secretary of the Boston Council of Social Agencies; Harold S. Barnes, news writer; Leroy E. Bowman, Instructor in Community Organization at Columbia University; William J. Norton, Director of the Detroit Community Fund. An Honorable Mention was also awarded a plan submitted jointly by John Philip Bramer of the Catholic Charities of New York, and Edwin J. Cooley, Chief Probation Officer.

The prize winners were announced tonight at a large dinner held at the Hotel Pennsylvania. Practically every active welfare worker in New York, the city officials, the men and women who give most generously to the support of local charitable organizations, attended the dinner. The prize winners were the guests of honor, and explained their plans. Mr. Dunham was one of the speakers, and was awarded a warm reception.

Mr. Dunham is the Executive Secretary of the Newton Central Council of Social Agencies. Prior to his coming to this city he was secretary of the Philadelphia Social Service Exchange, and later Secretary of the Philadelphia Council of Social Agencies. He also was an instructor in the Pennsylvania School of Social and Health Work. Mrs. Dunham, who collaborated with her husband in the preparation of the plan, has had equal experience in social work. She was a District Superintendent of the St. Louis Provident Association, and later held the same position in the Philadelphia Society for Oganizing Charity. She also taught in the Pennsylvania School of Social and Health Work.

New York spends annually over $70,000 through its 2,000 private and public charitable organizations. All three prize winning plans and the five receiving honorable mention recommend the formation in New York of a Central Welfare Council; none of them advise a community chest.

The following is a summary of the Dunham plan:

1. An autonomous Council of Social Agencies in each borough, with a paid staff.
2. A Federation of Social Agencies of the City of New York, composed of the five borough councils of social agencies and, having a paid staff.
3. An initial five year experimental period during which the Federation will raise the budget for the Federation and the five councils—the money

BUNDLE DAY

The Near East Bundle Day on Monday, May 12, was responded to by the various organizations throughout Newton, the publicity was well cared for by notices to the numerous clubs and churches and through the papers. The flyers were distributed by the boy scouts, and the school children. The fire engine houses in Newton received the packages in a way that reflected credit upon the organization. All seemed anxious to show their interest in the work being done.

In Newton Centre, Newton Highlands and Waban, the goods were packed by the local committee, with Mr. Chas. F. Weeden, Jr., as chairman. The other Newtons were cared for by the Clearing House Express, taking them in to Notre Dame Academy to be packed for New York. They were carried there by the Metropolitan S. S. Line.

This contribution by Newton is one of many of its gifts to the National cause to the appeal from the Near East Organization. Grateful thanks from the local committee is expressed to all contributors in Newton to this big work.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by DOROTHY DRAKE

Stearns School

The highest percents of attendance for the past monthly reports were as follows: Miss Lovely, Grade IV (Eliot), 99.2%; Miss Sears, Grade V, 98.4%; Mrs. Goddard, Grade III, 97.9%.

Miss Gertrude MacPherson, school nurse, is confined to her home by illness, and Miss O'Neil is taking her place.

Stearns School Center

The Mothers' Club spring banquet was held last Monday night. The table color scheme was white and yellow, and this was carried out in the coloring of the napkins, the individual baskets, and the flowers. Mayor Childs, who is always the guest of the mothers, spoke very simply and sincerely on the contribution the mothers make to the country.

Mrs. Clifford Waterhouse, a former worker at the center, was also a guest, and kindly played for the community songs that they sang.

Several of the Stearns School Centre directors were present, and contributed with short speeches at intervals after the banquet.

Mrs. C. W. Clark, another past worker, added greatly to the joy and fun of the evening, with her usual witty, extemporaneous speech.

Mrs. Samuel Champagne, one of the mothers, recited "Poor Old Dad." Mrs. Binks, also a mother in the club, gave a reading. Then two of our Italian mothers, Mrs. Ceambelli and Mrs. Pesquiesaldos, gave a typical Italian dance, and the art of the country was beautifully brought out by these two mothers.

Mrs. Drew and Mrs. Hurley did the Irish Jig with unusual grace.

Mrs. Porter, the president of the club, deserves much credit for the splendid way that the plans were carried out. At her suggestion, a rising vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Eben Ellison, who acted as chairman of the banquet committee. On June 26, all the mothers will go to Nantasket.

Albert Angier School

Miss Holt's class led the building with the highest per cent of attendance for the month of April. Mrs. Forbes' class came second. Miss Doran, Mrs. Forbes and Miss Holt had but one tardy mark for the month.

The children in the fifth grade were very fortunate this week, in having a member of their class bring them specimens of gold nuggets, and quartz from Cripple Creek.

Music Week was well observed in the Angier School Friday morning. The teachers and pupils enjoyed two vocal selections by Mr. Francis. Louise Came of the fourth grade gave the members of the school a delightful surprise by playing for them on her harp. In the afternoon the fifth grade, assisted by a few fourth grade pupils, gave an informal musicale to the lower grades. Louise Came played some selections on the harp, and there were several piano solos as well as songs. Monday morning of this week Mrs. Benson's and Miss Lincoln's classes provided a program of music for the Assembly. John Parker played a violin solo Wednesday.

On Tuesday afternoon there were two basketball games on the Angier playground, the Angier team being the winners in both games. The game with the Burr opened up the league games. Up to the last inning the score stood 7-2 in favor of the Burr. In the ninth inning the Angier boys scored six runs, thereby defeating the other team. This shows what pluck and determination will do.

The health posters made by the fifth and sixth grades are still on exhibition in the school.

Williams School

On Friday of this week the first, second and third grades of the Williams School came together with the Kindergarten children for a rehearsal of Memorial Day music. Mr. Griffin, supervisor of music, is to visit us on that day.

The pupils of grade six, Mrs. Spooner's class, are engaged in projects connected with South America, each child of a group of children choosing a phase in which they are particularly interested.

Grade six is at present the banner class in Thrift. "Every Child Saving Every Week" since banking began. This week two classes, Mrs. Fiske's grade IV and Mrs. Spooner's grade VI, are 100 per cent. We lack only one of our goal which is 100 per cent for the building.

"Daddy Long Legs"

The senior class of the Newton Technical High School will repeat its senior play, "Daddy Long Legs" at the Copley Theatre Friday afternoon, May 23.

The local high school is greatly honored, as only four other high schools have thus far presented their plays.

The following ladies have been invited to serve as patronesses: Mrs. J. Weston Allen, Mrs. Louis Bachrach, Mrs. Ralph Barber, Mrs. Wallace Boyden, Mrs. Edwin O. Childs, Mrs. Ernest Cobb, Mrs. Charles Davidson, Mrs. Frank A. Day, Mrs. Austin H. Decatur, Mrs. Pitt Drew, Mrs. George Ellis, Mrs. Eben Ellison, Mrs. William Foster, Mrs. John A. Hanson, Mrs. Charles E. Hatfield, Mrs. Ralph C. Henry, Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson, Mrs. Charles Kelsey, Mrs. James Kingman, Mrs. Louis Marshall, Mrs. George McNear, Mrs. Joseph Moynihan, Mrs. Harold Muther, Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, Mrs. Ellery Peabody, Mrs. Edward J. Savage, Mrs. Norman Southworth, Mrs. George W. St. Amant, Mrs. Frank Stewart, Mrs. Ellis Speare, Jr., Mrs. Charles Stormont, Mrs. Bertrand Taylor, Mrs. Samuel Thurber, Mrs. William Underhill, and Mrs. U. G. Wheeler.

F. A. Day Junior High School

The choice of courses for next year is the topic of cogent importance at the present time. Because this is a Junior High School, it necessitates frequent curricula changes. The try-out stage is one of many problems for the pupil, his parent and his school. It is to be trusted that our school is fulfilling its purpose in guiding the individual according to his ability and not that of any arbitrarily chosen group.

We are pleased to announce the following Honor Pupils:

Seventh Grade: Barbara Billings, Winnifred Evans, Gwendolyn Frederickson, Melvin Becker, Emma Champagne, Charles Waterman, Elen Pescosolido, Catherine Peruggia, Constance Rechel, Malcolm Robb, Suzanne Slocum, Mary Tomlinson, Charles Webster, Elsie Garely, William Annese, Edward Burnell, Eleanor Colarullo, Doris Jones, Harold Purdy, Elizabeth Arend, Esther Coleman, Elizabeth Harrington, Margaret Morse, Joseph Partridge, Thomas Perone. Eighth Grade: Carey Proia, Mary Caron, Harry Gibson, Virginia Gage, Dorothy Merrill, Carl Pescosolido, Barbara Rogers, Marion Whittaker, Donald Ross, Constance Barber, Leslie Church, Elizabeth Clarke, Joseph Fox, Chesley Clark.

Ninth Grade: Marjorie Bolster, Kenneth McMullen, Marjorie Chapman, Ruth Loud, Eleanor Mildram, Marjorie Paige, William Bartley, Luigi Rondina, Faith Bull, Margaret McKenzie, Mary Olcott, Virginia Rogers.

During Assembly this week the English Club presented "The Birds of Killingworth" on the picture screen. It was appreciated by the whole school, not only as a film play, but as a beautiful tribute to the birds according to its theme. We are exceedingly grateful to the Audubon Society for its production and to our efficient picture machine operators for its display.

The boys play St. Charles School, Waltham, Friday at Cabot Park. St. Charles won the first game played with the F. A. Day School. Lyman is doing good work on the mound for this school. The girls are helping the team, for Miss Pratt's sewing classes sewed the letters on the baseball shirts for the suits.

According to the new ruling for school representation, pupils must be passing twelve points to be eligible.

Lasell

On Wednesday evening, May 14, the Orphean Club of Lasell Seminary will give a concert under the direction of Mr. Henry M. Dunham, head of the Music Department. Assisting the chorus will be Miss Florence McDonald, soprano, Miss Anna Eichhorn, violinist, and Mrs. Jean Stanley Goodrich, accompanist. The public is invited to this concert which will be held at the Auburndale Club House.

At Bragdon Hall on Thursday evening the Shakesperian Class, under the direction of Mrs. Eva Furlong, will present scenes from "A Midsummer's Night Dream." The entertainment is for the benefit of the Endowment Fund.

The Freshman Class will entertain the Senior and Junior Classes at a party at Bragdon Hall Saturday evening in the Gym.

A large group of students will attend the opera Elijah to be given at the Boston Opera House Sunday afternoon, under the direction of Mr. George S. Dunham, who conducts the chorus singing and is instructor in Music at Lasell Seminary.

West Newton Music School

The final recital to be held at the Claflin School, Newtonville, has been postponed from Friday the 16th to Thursday, May 29th, at 7.15 o'clock.

The final recital to be held at the Peirce School, West Newton, will be held on Friday evening, May 23rd, at 7.15. The public are cordially invited to attend both concerts.

The Senior Orchestra of the West Newton Music School won the first prize for orchestras at the Intersettlement Musical Contest held at Huntington Hall in Boston last Thursday evening, May 8th. There were four orchestras in the contest. The concert was a part of the program for First Boston Music Week.

DEATH OF MR. CARPENTER

Mr. Vernon E. Carpenter, one of the oldest and best known residents of this city, died Tuesday at his home on Waltham street, West Newton after several months of failing health. Had he lived until yesterday he would have been 91 years of age.

Mr. Carpenter was born in Thompson, Conn., May 15, 1833, and was the son of Richard and Cynthia H. (Walker) Carpenter. The family descended from William Carpenter, who came over from England in the ship Beris in 1638, landing in Weymouth. A few years later William Carpenter followed Roger Williams in the settlement of what is now Providence, R. I.

At the age of 17 Mr. Carpenter left school to learn the shoe manufacturing business in Oxford, Mass., and at the age of 21 became a partner in the firm of Bates, Sessions and Carpenter and went to Toronto, Canada, where he started one of the first shoe factories in the Dominion. When 33 years of age he was obliged to give up business on account of ill health and made his home in West Newton. He married in Jan. 21, 1862, M. Josette Ballard of Thompson, Conn. They had six children, four of whom survive, the Misses Fanny Ballard and Josephine Carpenter of West Newton, Alice, the wife of Mr. Wm. Jerome Clark of Chicago, Ill., and Clara, the wife of Mr. Clarence G. Haskell, of West Newton. There are three grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Mr. Carpenter served in the common council of the first city government of Newton in 1874 and 1875 and was a member of the aldermen in 1876.

He has been for many years a member of the Second Church of West Newton. Services were held at his late residence on Thursday, Rev. J. Edgar Park of Second Church officiating.

The honorary pall bearers were Mr. George P. Bullard, Mr. Henry B. Day, Mr. Frederick J. Fessenden, Mr. Robert E. Mandell, Mr. A. Stuart Pratt, and Mr. Joseph Wood.

The burial was in the Newton Cemetery.

NEWTON CLUB

An entertainment for the benefit of the disabled soldiers was held on Wednesday night at the Newton Club. Mrs. Fred E. Mann and Mrs. Celia Wellman were the hostesses. The program included a supper, an entertainment, and a dance.

Community singing was led by Mr. Fred E. Blanchard, a double quartet from the women's club sang, Miss Marie Bartlett gave a number of readings, Mr. Alfred Stafford created much laughter by his sleight of hand tricks, Mr. Walter Anderson and Mrs. Carrol Swain sang a duet, and Dr. Cecil Clark gave a skit of the experiences of a soldier who was drafted, which was keenly appreciated by his audience.

Mrs. Billings and a group of young ladies assisted the hostesses in making the evening succesful. About 50 boys from the West Roxbury Hospital were present.

I'LL LEAVE IT TO YOU"

The most recent activity of the Second Church of West Newton, is the formation of a Dramatic Society, which made its bow to the public last night in "I'll Leave It to You"—a sparkling English comedy presented with success last year by the Jewett Players.

The situations are highly amusing, the dialogue witty, and the character of Uncle Daniel a most loveable one.

The Cast consisted of Mrs. Katherine P. Cowin, Mr. Erastus Jones, Miss Dorothy Bates, Miss Alice Libbey, Mr. Henry Battin, Miss Maude Weaver, Mr. Richard B. Cole, Mrs. Bonney L. Dunbar, Miss Leora Bacon, Mr. Henry Bates. The play which was in charge of Mrs. Philip Dunbar, will be repeated htis evening.

CATHOLIC HIGH SCHOOL WEEK

Entering into the spirit of the occasion, the High School of Our Lady celebrated "Catholic High School Week" by holding with great success a public entertainment in the School Hall, Thursday afternoon at 1.45 o'clock.

A large, appreciative audience was present including Rev. Lawrence W. Slattery, I. P. P. and his associates, Rev. Walter J. Roche, Rev. Robert J. Mantle and Rev. Conrad M. Quirbach, teachers and students of the school and a goodly representation of other schools.

The purpose of the celebration was to impress upon the mind of the youth the value and importance of a high school education; that the secret of success lies within himself in his own brain, his own ambition, his own courage and determination, and that a High School education was the secret guidepost on his road to success.

One of the speakers brought out the point that, "An education which invites intellectual, moral and religious elements is the best training for citizenship. It inculcates a sense of responsibility, a respect for authority and a consideration for the rights of others, which are the necessary foundations of civic virtue—more necessary where, as in a democracy, the citizen, enjoying a larger freedom, has a greater obligation to govern himself."

Rev. Lawrence W. Slattery gave a speech that was enthusiastically received.

The program was as follows: Piano solos by Francis Sapione and Eileen Murphy; essays on the advantages of a high school education, especially the different phases of a Catholic high school education, by Donata Lombardi, Albert Malloy, Harold O'Grady, Grace O'Donnell, C. Mahar and Charles Murphy; Sketch, "A Struggle in English," by M. Crowley, M. Driscoll, E. Deable, E. Flannery, M. Fitzpatrick, F. Herlihy, M. McCauley, M. Murphy and M. Sullivan; a Spanish Dance by A. Akins, A. Abban, H. Cahill, M. Considine, M. Cassidy, M. Daly, F. Herlihy, C. Leahy, A. McDonald, M. Sullivan, D. Sullivan and M. White; a reading by J. Reinhardt; the entertainment was brought to a close by the singing of Cardinal O'Connell's hymn, "Hail, Holy Faith," by the high school chorus.

NEWTON HIGH ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

A meeting was held on Monday in the Classical High School for the purpose of organizing a Newton High Alumni Athletic Association.

Citizens of Newton, who have in former times been prominent in athletics, were invited. Among these was Mr. Seth Wood of Watertown, popularly known as "Peg" Wood, and Mr. Louis Harris, formerly of the Newton High baseball and football teams, later prominent at Colby College, and now director of athletics at the Allen-Chalmers School.

The object of the association is to foster interest in all athletic contests of the Newton High School.

The following officers were elected: President, Seth F. Wood; Secretary, Arthur Roberts; Treasurer, Frank Dorney. A committee was appointed to draw up a constitution, which consisted of the following: Mr. C. V. Moore, Mr. Adams, and Mr. H. S. Boyd.

With the passage of the amended ordinance relative to the qualifications of the Public Buildings Commissioner, the expected has happened in the appointment to that office by Mayor Childs of the present acting Commissioner, Cecil C. Chadwick. We are confident that Mr. Chadwick will make an excellent commissioner, even tho he is not a practical builder, architect or civil engineer, as he is an honest, able and experienced administrator.

It is becoming quite the custom of Alderman White to criticize His Honor the Mayor in commenting upon matters in meetings of the aldermen. He evidently agrees with the position taken some months ago in the GRAPHIC that the widening of Centre place was done in a most unbusinesslike manner, with the result that the city will now pay $1.00 a foot for the land taken for the widening.

—The public hearing to be held at City Hall on Thursday, May 22nd, on the proposed new traffic ordinance for this city, ought to have a large attendance from the various civic bodies in Newton who should be deeply interested in this very serious matter.

WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION

The last meeting for this season of the Women's Association of Eliot Church was held on Tuesday afternoon at Eliot Church.

After a devotional service led by Mrs. H. H. Powers, Mrs. Arthur Kenrick told of her visit to Pine Mountain School, Kentucky, in the heart of "Kingdom Come."

She gave interesting and vivid descriptions of the mountain, which is 150 miles long, of the founder of the school who gave his 400 acres for a school which should last "as long as the constitution of the United States," and of the school itself.

Personal anecdotes of the children whom she saw, their longing for an education and ways of working out their tuition, added to the interest. A list of names of the students showed their pure descent.

Mrs. Kenrick also emphasized the value of their native industries, such as dyeing and weaving, and told how these are being revived. Their folksongs, too, are of a peculiar character and most interesting.

In conclusion, the speaker told how the spirit of Christmas is being changed through the influence of the school.

As an illustration of her words, members of the association, of both home and foreign missionary departments, enacted a one-act play called, "The Upsettin' of Panther Mountain."

This was a vivid picture of a Kentucky mountain home, of its customs, and aversion to all change. The leading spirit is a nurse, who visits the home and finally wins the confidence of its inmates.

The following took part in the play: Mrs. Horace Pope, Mrs. Kennedy Chase, Mrs. Richard C. Raines, Mrs. William Duncan, Mrs. Ellison Day, Mrs. Francis Fuller, Mrs. George W. Camp and Miss Eleanor Gibbs.

Mr. Alfred Hanson, accompanied by Miss Virginia Mason, gave much pleasure by his playing of the violin.

JUNIOR FOLLIES IN AUBURNDALE

A very successful entertainment was held in Norumbega Hall last Tuesday evening when the boys and girls of Corpus Christi Sunday School presented the Junior Follies, under the direction of Mrs. Florence E. Kreuger of West Newton.

Part one was a clever radio concert, with important parts taken by Dorothy Kreuger, Francis Foristall and Paul Fitzpatrick. There was a solo "over the radio" by Mrs. Kreuger and also a solo by Celia Sullivan and solo dances by Helen Madden and Mary Sullivan. During intermission there was a violin solo, and vocal solos by Frank Cunningham.

Part two, "The Toy Shop," was very entertaining with John Gordon as the Toy Man, June Krueger as the Mama Doll, and solo dances by Velma Sullivan and Dorothy Krueger, Helen Foristall, Marion McCarthy, Dorothy Martin, Dorothy Hart and Mary Sullivan.

After a short talk by Father McMannon, pastor of Corpus Christi Church, a beautiful basket of flowers was presented to Mrs. Krueger in appreciation of her work as coach of the performance. Mrs. Krueger made a graceful response. Miss Mary Sullivan of Auburndale had charge of the dances and Miss Rosemary Scott of West Newton was the accompanist.

The details of the affair were in charge of Miss Agnes Kelly, assisted by a corps of Sunday School teachers, who also sold candy during the intermission. Refreshments were served to the little actors and actresses after the performance.

NEWTON HOSPITAL DAY

bronze tablet just as you enter reads, "Harriet Gould Paine Domestic Building," and it is certainly a very important building. Some of the corridors appear rather subterranean, and off one of these is the carpenter's shop, and another for the electrician. In the laboratory we saw germs tightly fastened in tubes and maturing at a proper temperature. Here the tests of the blood are made and other important tests as well, and it is in this department that they make that wonderful fluid for wounds that was discovered during the war. Monday was the first day that they could remember when that fluid had not been called for. In the linen room great hampers of fresh things were just being wheeled in, and many were busy there sorting and mending as we passed through.

It is off the linen room that there is the little room where all the women in Newton are asked to come and make dressings to help the Hospital whose nurses have become too busy to be able to do it all. Beyond is a class room containing beds for demonstration. Founedrs came next, probably the best known ward in the Hospital, for here are the babies. A number of mothers could be glimpsed before the baby room was reached. All the little cribs were filled and the tiny little occupants were all tucked up so tight that in some cribs it hardly seemed there could be a baby. They didn't look at all alike, but each wore a bracelet made of beads and on the beads were the letters spelling the baby's name. Some babies were sleeping and some were crying, and those who were crying were not disturbing the sleeping babies at all. The operating room is a very business like place, very white and clean, and sort of gleaming. After seeing all that it was very nice to sit for a few minutes and have a delicious cup of tea before going home."

WOMEN'S CLUBS

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor

For the last 6 weeks annual meetings have been the order of the day, no week has passed that this department has not recorded one or more of them. The list is now complete, that of the Newton Federation on May 8th rounding them up, and it is fitting that it should, for does not it include all the others? That meeting, full as it was, did not have a dull moment. A true note was struck in the conclusion of the Legislative committee's report, one that should be pondered upon if women are going to be successful in any sort of political work. It is so easy to rush in with half-knowledge, and thereby do more harm than good.

"We all know," it ran, "that movements of reform come slowly, that often much compromising has to be made before the heights are reached, and it seems to your chairman that we women need to realize the great importance of viewing facts from all sides, of coming to decisions slowly, and remembering that most of us know almost nothing about government. We are students, and until our knowledge has been at least somewhat converted into experience and wisdom, let us avoid taking the position of the sweet girl graduate who feels so sure that she is equipped to revolutionize the world."

Laura Simmons will read original poems. On the following day the annual outing will be enjoyed at the home of Mrs. Louise Bacon Mitchell, 83 Cambridge street, Winchester. On Thursday, the 22d, the last meeting for the season of the Literature and Library Extension department will be held with Mrs. Alvan T. Fuller, 150 Beacon street, Boston.

The club is invited for an extra outing, Friday, June 27, to visit Mariaden, MacDowell Colony, at Peterborough, N. H.

Local Announcements

Monday, May 19, 10.15 A. M. The Executive Board of the Newton Federation will hold its meeting for organization of the work for the coming year at the Newton Club, Newtonville.

The Christian Era Study Club has re-elected this year's officers to serve for the coming year: President, Miss Ella B. Smith; vice-president, Mrs. H. E. B. Case; secretary, Mrs. Harry D. Perkins; treasurer, Miss Marion Shephard.

Club husbands are frequently drafted into service, sub rosa, for the clubs, and occasionally even contribute to club programs as speakers. The Auburndale Woman's Club is fortunate in having one who, like Silas Wegg, "drops into verse," for the good of the cause. The accompanying stanzas were written by a club husband for the Tenth Anniversary of that club a few weeks since:

OUR CLUB

O beautiful for gracious plans
For fruitful years of gain,
For loving hearts, for faithful hands,
For richest guidance plain.
Thy years are ten and in thy ken
One lofty purpose lies,—
To seek thy good
Through sisterhood
'Neath fairer civic skies.

Our founders dreamed in wisdom's light,
With patient skill they wrought.
We keep their goal in plainest sight,
We prize the truth they taught.
America! America!
We plight our troth to thee;
To seek thy good
Through Womanhood,
Exalted, rich and free.

Memorial Library Fund Benefit

Very nearly one thousand persons, members and friends of the Community Service Club of West Newton, attested their interest in the club's efforts for the Memorial Library, by attending the Cabaret at the Armory last Saturday evening, and thereby making it an unqualified success, both socially and financially. The Armory was gay with decorations of flags and May baskets, and in addition to a program of solo dancing and music, general dancing was enjoyed by all. One of the features of the evening, which aided in making the proposed library very real, was an illustrated talk by Mr. H. M. Cole. Views of the present buildings on the site, at the corner of Chestnut and Davis streets, were thrown upon the screen, followed immediately by sketches of possible buildings to take their place. The contrast brought forth hearty applause from the audience. The club has already secured about $30,000 for the purpose, and hopes for continued interest of the community, that each month may bring the project nearer realization.

Saturday night's affair was in charge of two general chairmen, Mrs. Irving J. Fisher and Mrs. Grace F. Rice, with Mrs. Murray H. Ballou at the head of the refreshments. Nearly every one of the three hundred odd members of the club assisted upon some committee.

Year's Activities Completed

That the Marion Chase Baker Foundation has exceeded the goal of $2,000, was the very welcome announcement made by Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, president of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, at the annual meeting of the Newton Federation held in Newtonville on May 8th. Mrs. Poole spoke of this generosity on the part of the clubs, as an outpouring of love for Mrs. Baker, and of admiration for her broad vision of club work and her well balanced mind. Mrs. Poole in accepting the hospitality of the Newton Federation paid tribute to Mrs. Ralph C. Henry, the Federation president, who had appeared on the platform with her many times when she herself had been a guest of the various Newton Clubs; she expressed her real pleasure in being allowed to attend an annual meeting where, as in no other way, it is possible to find out just what the organization has done.

Mrs. Edward H. Keach, president of the Newton Community Club, the hostess of the day, welcomed the club women graciously. After announcements were made the meeting proceeded to the routine reports of the officers. That of the treasurer showed a substantial balance with which to start the new year and a generous response from the individual clubs with which to meet the philanthropies for this last time; appropriations from this fund to be made at the meeting of the new board on May 19th.

When Mrs. Henry finished her own report, Mrs. Frank L. Miller, first vice-president, presented Mrs. Henry with a beautiful May basket of flowers, as a token of love and appreciation of the devoted service she has rendered during her two years in office.

That it is a good business proposition to preserve the forests intelligently, was stressed by Mrs. D. M. Goodridge, chairman of Conservation. She told of work for the preservation of the mountain laurel done by her committee, of the Forestry Week in Newton arranged and carried out through its efforts, and of the remark of the child who had asked, after seeing this film, "Can't we plant a tree as we saw it done in the picture?" Mrs. Goodridge bespoke care on the part of campers and autoists in the use of fire, and begged them to leave the wild flowers unmolested this coming summer.

Under the Civics and Community Service Committee work has been done in urging women to register and vote, until the clubs are now 90 per cent registered,—two clubs, Community Service of West Newton and the Newton Mothers' Club, are 100 per cent. Nine clubs have contributed through this committee towards the expense of an attendant to care for the children who must accompany their mothers when they attend the classes in English, and magazines and toys have been donated for the use of the Americanization worker. A request has been made for the lowering of the car steps on suburban trains, with the welcome reply from the railroad that as cars come into the shops for repairs they are being changed to 15 inches from the top of the rail. The subject of street signs has been looked into, and through the subcommittee on the movies the showing of the best films has been urged. Money for band concerts on the playgrounds has been solicited from the clubs and the requisite amount is assured for the coming season.

The Education committee reported through the chairman, Mrs. A. E. Holt, that three new scholarships have been established by the clubs, the Newtonville Woman's, the Newton Community, and the Newton Social Science Club, so that at present nine clubs now offer scholarships. The former chairman of the committee, Mrs. H. W. Tyler, made a careful digest of the report of the School Board, which has been printed in instalments in the Newtonite.

Mrs. Arthur W. Lane, chairman of the Legislative committee, outlined the status of the various measures which have been considered and followed by the committee. (An excerpt from her report is given in another part of this department.)

The new special committee on Public Health through its chairman, Mrs. W. A. Bedford, spoke upon the milk situation in Newton giving to a wider audience many of the facts already given to the members of the executive board. In two items only, and that a matter of only $9, has the budget adopted at the beginning of last year been exceeded, while other items have fallen below, was announced by Mrs. Louis W. Arnold, chairman of Finance. Mrs. Herbert S. Kimball, chairman of the Program committee outlined the doings of her committee. Mrs. Frank L. Miller, chairman of the Program Exchange, stated that her committee has been able to make up a list of some fifty lectures, who are known to have given satisfaction, whose prices do not exceed $75, and range from $25 upward, a list which should be of great value to Program committees in the clubs.

The Christmas Health Seal campaign last December went over the top by $450 through the efforts of the committee of which Mrs. Philip S. Jamieson was the chairman. This means that this year Newton has at its command for preventive and remedial health work, $3,907.25.

Mr. Arthur Dunham, executive secretary of the Newton Central Council, outlined the work of his organization, stating that Newton has most of the problems of the large cities. Among the matters which will come up next year, he mentioned a careful and comprehensive study for financing the social agencies of the city. Then followed brief accounts from the individual clubs, given by their respective presidents.

Announcement from the tellers showed that 146 ballots had been cast, all unanimous for the officers nominated. The newly elected president, Mrs. Ernest Cobb, accepted the gavel with a graceful speech, in which she pledged her best endeavors to the Federation, saying that she is deeply interested in educational problems and that she enters her office upon an education platform. The other new officers were called to the platform that the women might become familiar with their faces.

A delicious luncheon was served by the Social committee, under the direction of Mrs. E. H. Rugg. The tables were most attractive with spring flowers.

At the afternoon session, "America, the Beautiful" was sung to a new tune, which has been composed by Mrs. Elsie Eaton of Newton Highlands, Mrs. White singing the song, with Mrs. Eaton at the piano. Then with Mrs. Arthur S. Flinn leading it was sung by the audience. The

HOSPITAL AID MEETING

The Annual Meeting of the Newton Hospital Aid Association was held in the Parish House of the New Church, Newtonville, Tuesday, May 13th, with a good attendance.

The first vice-president, Mrs. Joseph N. Lovell, opened the meeting, and brought a greeting from San Francisco from our absent President, Mrs. George H. Talbot.

The Annual Reports were read by Mrs. Frank E. Anderson, Recording Secretary, and Miss Rose Loring, Treasurer.

Mrs. F. M. Lowe of the Nominating Committee proposed the following nominations, which were unanimously accepted: President, Mrs. George H. Talbot; Vice Presidents, Mrs. Joseph N. Lovell, Mrs. W. N. Flanders, Mrs. George W. St. Amant; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Frank E. Anderson; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Marguerite Flanders; Treasurer, Miss Florence E. Tower; Auditor, Alonzo R. Weed.

The list of directors remains about the same, three members have signed, and four have been invited to come on the Board, Mrs. Henry H. Mathews, Mrs. Leon B. Rogers and Mrs. Edward C. Durgin and Mrs. Alfred Pearson.

At the graduation exercises of the Training School last June, the Hospital Aid Association provided scholarships which, in the absence of our president, Mrs. Talbot, were presented by Miss Riddle.

The first award of $125 was made to Miss Elizabeth Young, member of the graduating class, the second, $75.-00, to Miss Bernice Speed, the third, $50.00, to Miss Virginia de Rocco.

On Monday, Nov. 26th, the Association gave a Bridge and Mah Jong party at Brae-Burn Country Club. There were beautiful flowers everywhere, through generous gifts of interested friends. The tables of nuts and home made candies were very attractive, and their ready sale proved a source of revenue.

Mrs. Arthur Lewis played charming selections on the violin accompanied by Mrs. Stratton. Tea was served.

The expenses of the party were $123. The amount raised for the hospital was $558.40.

Our donations during the year are as follows: To complete X-Ray equipment, $500. A spraying machine for Dr. Moore's orthopaedic department, $350; furniture and rugs for nurses' home, $500; bathing tables for babies, scales, etc., $500; rugs, enamel ware and aluminum covers for trays, $200 —total, $2050.

Mrs. Lovell introduced Miss Allen, the Hospital superintendent, who spoke of increased activity in all departments of the Hospital. She referred to the Loan Fund which this association established some time ago, which makes possible the continuance of the nurses' training, and gives courage to those otherwise discouraged. To carry out plans for new building required undaunted courage and perseverance, but the work would surely progress to the desired end.

Miss Herrick, who has charge of the out-patient department and social service work, outlined a day's work in a very interesting way.

Mrs. Lovell then introduced Dr. Abraham Myerson, Professor of Neurology at Tufts Medical School, whose subject, "The Psychology of Nerves" proved very interesting and helpful.

Dr. Myerson said fundamentally, "nerves" is a lay term, in medical parlance it is known as "neurasthenia." In a neurasthenic the power of endurance is lowered without any radical disease, functions are disturbed, concentration is difficult, there is loss of control over emotions upset by trifles, the things that should not matter, matter much, there is disturbance of appetite and digestion, disturbance of sleep.

The higher the social status, the greater tendency to neurasthenia, the more emotional group of people become the more easy victims. We ask, what are some of the circumstances which bring about neurasthenia? Imperfect convalescence after pneumonia often causes this. Children should not return to school until perfect convalescence is established.

Exercise is a great factor in overcoming this trouble.

Fear and disgust play a prominent part in this tendency to neurasthenia. Fear has its place in the world, but misplaced fear, such as dread of losing money, or social position, or fear of death are fruitful causes of neurasthenia.

Without disgust there would be no manners more impressed with bad manners, than good—a neurasthenic weighs trifles more than fundamentals.

This shows itself in the dissatisfaction of women with the traditional place in the home.

To overcome this neurasthenic problem, enter into more physical activity, get back power by exertion.

As life treats us better, we decrease our power of endurance. We must cultivate hardihood, build up our willpower, and tone down our pride.

When we see ourselves in our true relation to the universe, we avoid neurasthenia."

Following the lecture, Miss Clark played several beautiful selections on the harp, in charge of Mrs. F. S. Webster.

A delicious buffet luncheon closed the day's proceedings.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

For week ending May 10—Patients in hospital 128, those paying as much or more than cost of care 62, those paying less than cost of care 33, free patients (including babies) 33, patients treated by out patient department 112, accident cases 2, babies born 11, social service calls at hospital 9, at homes 12, patients transferred by social service car 17, by volunteer car 5. In reading hospital figures remember the hospital is supposed to be filled to capacity when it has 116 patients.

The weather for the last few days has been a disappointment to many of those in the training school because it has been impossible for them to play tennis. A few years ago there was a great deal of tennis played at the hospital court and it often was a difficult thing to find a chance to play because the court always was being used by players. Then came a spell when tennis went out for a bit but now interest in the game has revived and the students find it a healthy and delightful exercise and some of them play very well. If the weather ever settles down to fair and clear the outlook is that the court will be kept as busy as it ever was.

One letter received by the hospital recently was from a patient enclosing a check for a bill with an amount added equal to the bill to be applied to hospital uses.

Last Saturday Dr. Fisher took to the nurses at the hospital a lot of paper bags of doughnuts and cheese from the cabaret which was given at the West Newton armory for the benefit of the West Newton branch of the Public Library.

The Rev. Guy Miner of Newton Lower Falls is to give the prayer and the benediction at the graduation exercises in June.

Last week Dr. E. D. Leonard and Dr. D. G. Wilcox, who are fellows of the American College of Surgeons, and Miss Allen, the Superintendent of the hospital, and two of her staff attended a meeting of the New England branch of the College at Providence. "The Laboratory," "the X-Ray," and "Record Systems" were discussed.

At the Alumnae meeting of the graduates of the Hospital Training School last week Miss Omo Welling was elected president, Mrs. Hughjean McAfee, first vice-president; Miss Gertrude Herrick, second vice-president; Miss Dorris P. Reed, secretary; Miss Marion Flint, treasurer and Mrs. Gwendolyn O'Neil, councillor.

The Newton Medical Club held its monthly meeting at the hospital Monday and listened to a paper on "Physical Examination" by Dr. John Lovett Morse, who is now a member of the club. Next month is the month of the grand outing of the club and the members have been warned to watch for the notices giving date, place and programme.

Sometimes those who do a kindness to the hospital get away before their names are learned. Along about the middle of the first week of May three young children trudged up the driveway to the hospital door dragging a little express wagon filled with May baskets which they had made and which they wished given to the children and other patients in the hospital. The nurses were very much interested in the children and their baskets and the baskets were welcomed by the children and the patients who were lucky enough to receive them but unfortunately no one took the names of the children who gave the baskets. It may be the children will see this and know that the hospital wishes to thank them again and let them know that the spirit they showed in making and bringing their gifts is the same spirit that stirs others to do what they can to help the hospital carry on its work.

Miss Katryn Brown of Wellesley college often visits the hospital to bring flowers for the patients and to read to them.

AN ACTIVE STUDENT

Sophomore year vice-president of her class, coached comedy, leader in the mascot hunt, Silver Bay delegate, first team in basketball, baseball, soccer, volleyball. Junior year, chairman of the Entertainment Committee of Service League, and of the Annual Tea Dance, college representative Junior Month, member of the Mascot Committee, first team in soccer and baseball. Senior year, vice-president of Student Government, I. C. S. A. elector, Student Council 1923-24, member of the Endowment Committee, A. A., Service League, Psychology Club. Miss Slayter is also a dancer of no small talent.

Immediately after graduation she will put her two major studies into practice by teaching English and Physical Education in Honolulu for a year after which she intends to take up Social Work in the United States.

A NEWTON MAN HONORED

His four sons are also members of this organization through the same inheritance.

PRATT—FRENCH

The Second Church, West Newton, was the scene last Saturday night of a very pretty wedding, when Miss Anne D'Esterre French, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cormerais French, former residents of West Newton, now of Brookline, became the bride of Mr. Frederick Theodore Pratt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Sanford Pratt of Highland street, West Newton. Rev. J. Edgar Park who officiated, used the same marriage service written by the Rev. Rush Rhees for the wedding of the bridegroom's father and mother.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with quantities of snapdragon placed in the chancel. The family pews, too, were adorned with spring flowers. Mr. William Lester Bates, organist of the church, played a special program of music while the guests were assembling. He also played the customary bridal marches.

Miss French, who was given in marriage by her father, had as her matron of honor, her sister-in-law, Mrs. John Tayler French, who took the place of her sister, who was unable because of illness to be present. Mrs. French wore a gown of yellow crepe and a Leghorn hat with trimmings of tulle and clusters of lilacs and acacia. She carried spring flowers.

The bridesmaids were ten of the bride's intimate friends, Miss Priscilla C. Hall of New York, Miss Olivia Churchill of Milton, Miss Greta Wood of Bangor, Me., Miss Marian Binney and Miss Hilda Shepard, both of Brookline, Miss Elizabeth Carter, Miss Kathraqin Roe, Elizabeth Carter, Miss Katharine Roquemore and Miss Eleanor Gibbs, all of West Newton, Miss Caryl Peabody and Miss Faith Lovell of Cambridge.

Five of the bridesmaids wore gowns of apple green with Leghorn hats trimmed with tulle to match and lilacs and acacia. The other five wore gowns of lavender with hats trimmed with tulle and flowers to match. All of the bridesmaids carried spring flowers.

The gown of the bride was of ivory satin with yoke and sleeves inset with Limerick lace and a cascade of the same falling from the waist. A court train edged with a rope of pearls a part of her mother's wedding gown fell from the shoulders. The bridal veil was of Limerick lace with a coronet formed of the same caught in place with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley and swainsonia.

The best man was the brother of the groom, Mr. Henry Nickerson Pratt of West Newton, and the ushers were Mr. Laurence O. Pratt, also a brother, Mr. Langford Warren, Dr. Edward B. Benedict, Mr. Henry Donaldson Jordan, Mr. George L. Paine, Jr., and Mr. Stuart Huckins, all of Cambridge, and Mr. Francis S. Williams of Chestnut Hill, Mr. John Taylor French of Hingham and Mr. Rodney C. Hardy of Schenectady, N. Y.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Brookline, where Mr. and Mrs. Pratt will make their home for the presented during the absence of Mr. and Mrs. French in Europe.

ENJOYABLE CONCERT

One of the most attractive concerts of the season took place last Saturday night at the Hunnewell Club. The concert was given by the Country Day School Glee Club Orchestra and Mandolin Clubs, Mr. Thompson Stone, conductor, assisted by Mr. Charles Pearson of Newton for the benefit of the West Newton Music School.

The hall was filled to its utmost capacity. As the decorations from the recent cabaret were still up, it presented a very festive appearance.

The concert seemed to embody the spirit of youth. The voices of the boys ringing with the joy and freshness which only youth knows. The selections were particularly well chosen, both for their range and their character. Sydney Harwood, the youthful soloist, was enthusiastically received. Mr. Charles Pearson, a former member of the Country Day School, was also much enjoyed. His deep bass formed a contrast to the clear, high soprano of his predecessor.

The orchestra played several well known favorites like "Up the Street," with "pep" and well marked rhythm which made even the older folk young again.

Dancing followed the concert.

The committee in charge of the affair consisted of Mrs. George Owen, Mrs. John T. Alden, Mrs. M. L. Madden, Mrs. William H. Allen, Mrs. W. L. Garrison, Rev. and Mrs. D. Brewer Eddy.

CHESTNUT HILL HORSE SHOW

Entry lists for the twenty-first annual Chestnut Hill Horse Show, to be held on the Chestnut Hill grounds of the Longwood Cricket Club on Memorial Day, will close on May 17, it has been announced.

There will be competition in thirty classes, starting at 9.45 A. M. and continuing until all classes have been judged, with an intermission for lunch. Among the features will be the children's horsemanship class, for trophies given from the Richard M. Saltonstall Memorial Fund. Children residing only in Chestnut Hill are eligible for this class. Class 2, however, is open to all children who have not passed their fifteenth birthday. The first prize will be a cup offered by a member of the committee.

Class 4 will be the children's saddle pony class, in two divisions, for ponies under 12.2 hands and ponies 12.2 hands or over, ridden by children under sixteen years of age. The first prize will be given from the Francis W. Lee memorial fund. Several other classes for ponies are planned.

Conformation and manners will count fifty per cent and performance fifty per cent.

The judges will be M. Roy Jackson and James G. Marshall. The members of the committee are as follows: Andrew Adie, Prescott Bigelow, Clarke T. Baldwin, Elmer Jared Bliss, George Frost, Chester A. Howe, Louis K. Liggett, W. Eugene McGregor, Leverett Saltonstall, Edwin S. Webster, Edwin S. Webster, Jr., A. Winsor Weld, George S. West.

NEWTON VACATION WEEK

The Newton Vacation Week begins its summer work June first. To finance the worthy cases already on its list, $400 will be needed; also, the use of an automobile once a week during the summer months, would give health and happiness to a score of invalids to whom an automobile ride is an occasion long to be remembered. Will any one who is interested in giving either a day or a week of summer cheer and rest to those among us to whom the past year has been one of misfortune and ill health, confer either with Mrs. A. B. Bassett, 264 Centre street, Mrs. Willard Sampson, 321 Tremont street, or Miss Elizabeth Spear, 89 Walnut park, Newton.

PREACHES AT ELIOT CHURCH

Rev. T. Rhondda Williams, D.D., who will preach in Eliot Church next Sunday, entered the Welsh ministry at Dowlais at the age of twenty where the membership was seven hundred and the congregation numbered one thousand, stayed four years and became known all over Wales, preaching at the Anniversaries and Annual Assemblies of the Welsh Churches. Entered English ministry four years later at Neath, South Wales, built new church, quadrupled congregation and membership. Took leading part in public life. Went to Bradford in Yorkshire and remained twenty-one years. Congregations often overflowed the building. On several occasions had to take the biggest hall in town on Sunday evening, preaching to four thousand people. Took prominent part in public life, became known all over England as preacher and lecturer. Took up ministry in Union Church, Brighton in 1909 where Dr. R. J. Campbell was minister. Overflowing congregations. Stood for Parliament as Labor Candidate at Cambridge in 1918 in opposition to Sir Eric Geddes. ANNUAL MUSIC FESTIVAL

The sixth Annual Music Festival of Sunday Schools included in the Norumbega District will take place on Sunday afternoon, May 18th, at 4 P. M., at Eliot Church, Newton.

Plans are under way for an out-of-door processional preceding the program in the church. If weather is favorable, there will be two processionals, starting from Grace Church and from Channing Church, proceeding across Farlow Park to Eliot Church. Each group will be led by crucifers and vested choirs. All schools are expected to bring banners and flags to add to the picturesqueness of this processional. Boy Scouts from Watertown will act as aids to the marshals.

The indoor program will begin by the salute to the Christian Flag, following which will be a program on the theme "The Life of Christ in Hymn and Scripture." This will be directed by William Lester Bates of West Newton. As a climax for the program, during the singing of "From Greenland's Icy Mountains," there will be a suggestion of pageantry, children of many nations in costume, so that the meaning of the hymn may be visualized and interpreted.

The chairman of the committee in charge is Mr. Alonzo Cole, of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Newton Highlands.

The purpose of the Festival is to foster the spirit of Protestant Christian co-operation, by the singing of hymns that are common to all. It is also the aim of the District to bring about more appreciation of the great hymns of the Church, both among the Sunday School scholars and among church school workers.

Every year the Postal Service, on an average, delivers 112 letters to every man, woman, and child in the United States.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Leverett D. G. Bentley

The committee of citizens that produces a traffic ordinance satisfactory to the automobile owners, the police, the store-keepers and the plain pedestrians, will be found to have been made up of supermen. This we wish to announce in advance of the report that is expected soon to come from that civic body which recently completed the task of trying to straighten out the muddle. We feel that there will be some who will not take kindly to the committee's suggestions, although we have no knowledge of what the committee may recommend. It is merely playing a safe bet to say there are certain to be a group of "kickers," either small or larfe. Nothing was ever undertaken by the people and for the people that received unanimous approval. There are those who never know what is for their own good, and these cannot be made to see the light under any circumstances. We are not so sure that we ourselves will be in agreement with what the special traffic committee sees fit to recommend. We are afraid they are going to impose all kinds of restrictions and rules and regulations that will be hard to compretend, and almost impossible to remember. It isn't fair to say that, however, because it is all guess work on our part. We merely mention it, because all we hear in the way of traffic problem solutions deals with parking limits, one-way streets, and about everything but the expenditure of money for the widening of a thoroughfare. There is altogether too great a desire to accomplish results without spending money. We may be in the minority, but our view is that taxpayers won't find fault if they can be shown their money has been put into some actual improvement. There is a notion in the minds of some of those who control affairs at City Hall that all municipal supplies, etc., could and should be purchased at the five and ten cent store. We hope the committee on traffic ordinance has not undertaken its task in any such spirit.

The weekly notes from the Newton Hospital are "getting over big" if everybody finds them as absorbing as we do. They cover a variety of subjects, and each paragraph is interesting of itself. Although we have not had the good fortune (we could scarcely call it misfortune) to be under treatment at that institution, we are almost at the point of envying those thus privileged. Of course we should insist upon being a convalescent in the surgical ward, because that, we are told, is the place where no restrictions are placed on the patient's diet. We should want all the liberties permitted, although we promise not to take any. If so situated, we should ask the privilege of spending our time in the kitchen. No, not merely for the food, for we have no extraordinary appetite, but to see something that was briefly described in last week's Graphic. A paragraph told us of a labor-saving utensil in the form of a can-opener that "will open any can of any shape or any size, cutting the top out quickly and clean." Our hopes, raised high by that thrilling picture, we find drooping a minute later, as we read, "After seeing it work, the housekeeper of a home wishes that there were a smaller similar machine available for ordinary kitchens." We do not know, of course, how many housekeepers have been up to the hospital to see the can-opener work, but we will wager those who have are jealous, covetous and more than likely, "cut up" as a result of their stay in the institution. Vivid recollections of having thrust a can-opener of the old-fashioned type into the fleshiest part of our left hand are still with us. The memory of many such a wound cannot be effaced. We recall a number of nasty jabs that we have given ourselves in years gone by, while we were seeking to open a can of corn, beans, tomatoes or whatnot. We cannot speak in too high praise of the inventor of an apparatus that will open tin cans as smoothly as this machine, which we have never seen. The article describing it intimates these machines are not in common use. In our opinion they should be, and at once. Instead of placing them in hospitals, we would place them in homes of the people. If they were installed in family dwellings, we believe there would be less need of absorbent cotton, iodine, surgeon's gauze, linen bandages, doctors, nurses, and even hospitals. And we have the scar that proves our theory.

It's great to have a reputation for being hard to please. We know of a dramatic critic on a big newspaper whose severe criticisims brought much unhappiness to theatrical folk. The publicity agents for travelling attractions always experienced more or less dread when seeking to get him to print some advance praise of their shows. In case Graphic readers do not know just how the system is operated, let it be said that a press agent for a show arrives in town a week or two in advance of his attraction. He joins with the local press agent of the theatre, and together they call upon the newspaper dramatic writers with advance press notices. The story that made us laugh deals with the hard-to-please critic referred to above. The traveling and the local press agents were headed for a certain newspaper office (this happened in 1917, by the way) when the traveling press agent said, "Now we'll call on ———".

"He's not here now," replied the local press agent, "He's in France for his paper covering the war."

Whereupon the other exclaimed, "The war, eh? Great Scott, suppose he doesn't like it!"

We read with interest of the approach of the fiftieth anniversary of the Newton Boat Club. We hope somebody is going to do his fellow citizens a service and prepare a history of the organization. To us it has always been one of the most attractive places in our city. It used to hold more appeal to us, but the fact that we don't get up there nowadays is no fault of the club, but entirely our own. In the days before automobiles the trains to Riverside, both on the main line and circuit, used to carry young women and men in Summer attire, often with cushions and paddles under their arms. "Going up river" was what canoeing was then called. There was a touch of life and color about the whole thing that we as a youngster found a source of true delight. No doubt the same is true today of conditions on the river itself. Children of the old-timers, if they know what's good for them, are still finding enjoyment in a leisurely paddle, a drift down stream and a basket-lunch in a cove. It was—well never mind how many years ago—a novelty when somebody thought of carrying along a phonograph and sending the strains of a dainty waltz or a sentimental ballad over the surface of the water. There were band concerts Saturday evening at the Newton Boat Club, with dancing for members and their guests. These used to come in June and September, if memory serves us, and were always largely patronized. We are glad to see that the Newton Boat Club's officers appreciate that the club is an institution that is peculiarly Newton's own. We wish it may prosper, and we do hope that its history will be recorded between the pages of a printed volume, and that we may become the proud possessor of a copy.

Newton will never be regarded as a regular city until it gets into the daily newspapers as the scene of a "bold burglary" or a "daring hold-up" by a "beautiful bobbed-hair bandit."

"Fourteen gowns adorn Gloria Swanson in her new picture," announces her Newton press agent. And warm weather coming on!

Has your garden got you going or are you growing only grass?

CIVIC LEAGUE CONFERENCE

Mr. and Mrs. Addison C. Burnham of 15 Bracebridge road, Newton Centre, opened their home on Friday evening, May 9, for a conference of "What the New Law for the Examination of Prisoners Accomplished and the Need for Continued Public Interest."

Hon. Herbert C. Parsons, Deputy Probation Commissioner and Mrs. Wenona Osborne Pinkham, Secretary of the Massachusetts Civic League, were the speakers.

"What is proposed now," declared Mr. Parsons, "for the population of the county prisons, is the natural successor to that effort at discrimination and specialized treatment which is at the foundation of all that the State has accomplished in the care of paupers, the feeble-minded and the insane and that has brought its leadership to a world-wide recognition."

The bill which passed the Legislature by an almost unanimous vote and which was signed by the governor, provides for a thorough psychiatric examination of all prisoners serving a sentence of more than thirty days and of all repeaters, by psychiatrists appointed by the Department of Mental Diseases, who are to make reports to the Department of Correction. Thus is conceded in the correctional system the recognition of personal deficiencies as the source and explanation of criminal behavior. This was the main plan of the petitioners; and it has been achieved. On the basis of the data obtained by these examinations, future developments can be worked for. The Massachusetts Civic League has sponsored the bill and feels that a very great victory has been obtained.

Credit for the result should be given to two members of the Legislature from this District:—Senator Abbott B. Rice and Representative Bernard Early, Senate and House Chairman, respectively, of the Committee on State Administration, which had the bill before it.

Mrs. Pinkham read an extract from a letter she had just received from Dr. Frankwood E. Williams, Director of the National Society for Mental Hygiene, and former Chairman of the Massachusetts Advisory Prison Commission, in which he says: "I think this law is one of the most significant pieces of legislation that has been passed in a long time. You have driven a tremendous wedge. . . . I think an article in Mental Hygiene (the official publication of the National Society for Mental Hygiene) would be stimulating to other states throughout the country that are interested in this question.

Mrs. Pinkham expressed the appreciation of the Massachusetts Civic League for the splendid co-operation that had been given by the Women's Clubs, churches and many individuals in the work for this measure and extended a cordial invitation to all who believe in the kind of work the League is doing to become members.

The guests were then invited to adjourn to the dining-room, where the hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. Lorenz G. Muther and Mrs. C. J. Hall.

MISTAKES CORRECTED

It's not the milkweed that supplies
The milk used when you sup.
You do not get your butter from
The meadow buttercup.
The candleberry you should not Expect a light to shed.
The nightshade's not what you pull down
When you would go to bed.
Thimbles don't grow on thimbleweed,
The hop vine does not hop,
No blare comes from the trumpet flower,
The poppies never pop.
No shepherd's needed for your phlox,
You cannot pick your pies
From off the pie plant, sweet and ripe,
As green horns may surmise.
The bonny blue bells do not ring,
Foxgloves aren't made of kid,
On ladies' slippers such don't grow—
My wife says would they did.
The pussy willows do not yield
A crop of kittens small;
The crocus does not crow at morn—
Oh dear, no! Not at all!
On snakeroot snakes cannot be grown,
Though well the ground be tilled—
If snakes come from a plant at all
It is from rye—distilled.

tune has been recommended to the State Federation, and if passed upon favorably will be taken to the Biennial at Los Angeles with the hope that it will be adopted there, since it is also the song of the General Federation.

Reports from the associate organizations filled the early part of the afternoon, Mrs. Carrie A. Hull speaking for the Welfare Bureau, which has had 305 families active the past year, 109 of whom were new ones. The Newton District Nursing Association, through its president, Mrs. George St. Amant, has a yearly budget of $9000. It is now separate from the Hospital with headquarters at the Community Welfare Centre, 12 Austin street, Newtonville.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Bertrand E. Taylor spoke for the Hospital Aid Association, telling of the needs it supplies the hospital, of the scholarships for the Nurses Training School, the free bed, of the crowded conditions at the hospital, and the plans for three new buildings now underway. She announced an all-Newton Hospital Day, which is being planned for May 28th.

The Newton W. C. T. U. has been working to create public sentiment on the side of law enforcement, was the report of Mrs. Mabel M. Groves. Mrs. C. D. Kepner told of the work of the Women's Auxiliary for the Newton Y. M. C. A. in a bright little skit, a conversation between an enthusiastic boy and his indifferent mother. Mrs. C. Peter Clark told of the Newton Circle with its social service work in connection with the court, its support of the probation officer, Mrs. Celia Wellman, and of the community band concerts upon the playgrounds in the summer.

As a lighter finish to the day two plays were presented, in the interval between them the Ensemble Trio of the Waban Woman's Club, Mrs. Sidney A. Clark, violinist, Mrs. Elmer J. Shiland, 'cellist, Mrs. William B. Stevenson, pianist, played several selections very delightfully.

"Where But in America?" the first play, was ably presented by three members of the 1900 Club of Billerica. The other, "The Maker of Dreams" was given under the direction of Rev. Chester A. Drummond, he appearing himself in the title role. The other parts were taken by Mrs. Brockway of Wellesley, and Miss Helen Moore of Newton. Both plays were done with a delicacy of touch and a very careful attention to the deails, and were greatly enjoyed by all.

The other officers elected were:

First Vice-president, Mrs. Samuel L. Eaton, Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club; Second Vice-president, Mrs. Bernard Early, West Newton Women's Educational Club; Third Vice-president, Mrs. Harry S. Wells, Community Service Club of West Newton; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Charles E. Quinn, Newton Centre Woman's Club; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Percival A. Evans, Newtonville Woman's Club; Treasurer, Mrs. Herbert E. Child, Newton Highlands Woman's Club; Auditor, Miss Emma E. Walker, Newton Community Club; Nominating Committee, Mrs. Charles D. Kepner, chairman, Newtonville; Mrs. Harry B. Bradford, Newton Centre; Mrs. Philip S. Jamieson, Newton; Mrs. John A. McLean, West Newton; Mrs. J. Earle Parker, Waban; Mrs. Ellery Peabody, West Newton; Mrs. Edward H. Ruby, Newton Highlands; Mrs. Amos R. Wells, Auburndale.

FEDERATION OF CHURCH WOMEN

Representative women from the different churches in Newtonville met on Wednesday in the New Church on Highland avenue, to form a "Newtonville Federation of Church Women" similar to those of Newton and Newton Centre.

The purpose of the new organization is to promote greater fellowship among church women, and to deepen the religious life.

Mrs. H. M. Warren of West Newton, President of the Women's League of the New Church, opened the meeting. After a few words of greeting, she introduced Mrs. Austin H. Decatur, President of the Women's Association of Central Church, who acted as President Pro Tem, Mrs. Edward Cox of the Universalist Church, acting as Secretary Pro Tem.

It was decided to hold a meeting on the second Tuesday in June, at which time officers for the coming year are to be elected. It was also decided to hold a union meeting in the fall, other meetings to be called as deemed desirable.

A constitution was adopted after due consideration. Mrs. Samuel W. Bridges of Grace Church, Newton, President of the Newton Federation of Church Women, then told of the work of the Newton Federation

She told of the Annual Meeting in January, and of the monthly sewing circles held in the different churches in rotation.

These sewing circle meetings have contributed much towards the various philanthropies of the city, and have brought together the women of the churches of Newton in a wonderful way.

The Newton Centre Federation of Churches has also proved very successful, so that the Newtonville women feel that in forming their organization they have two splendid examples to follow.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, refreshments were served by a committee of the New Church, consisting of Mrs. Herbert Warren, Mrs. Ivan Pettys, Mrs. Carl Whittemore, and Mrs. Irwin.

Those who were present as delegates from the churches of Newtonville were Mrs. Austin Decatur and Mrs. Wallace Boyden of Central Church; Mrs. Herbert Warren and Miss Beaman, the New Church; Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Harding, St. John's Church; Mrs. Rich and Mrs. Timbie, the Methodist Church; Mrs. Cox and Mrs. Newton, the Universalist Church.

Every second of the twenty-four hours of every day there are 389 letters dropped into letter boxes; every minute, 23,334, and every hour 1,400,000.

CREDIT BUREAU

Definite plans were formulated at a recent meeting of the Mercantile Committee of the Newton Chamber of Commerce for the immediate development of the Newton Credit Bureau, the Chamber staff already being engaged in working out the preliminary details. A substantial number of subscribers have already been secured for this service, and many others have expressed much interest in the plan to make available to the business men of Newton a credit rating service similar to that enjoyed in Boston, Worcester, Springfield, Salem, New Bedford, and others of the larger Massachusetts cities. It is expected that the proposed Bureau will be in operation and rendering service within a few weeks.

It was originally anticipated that the Credit Bureau would be established some months ago, but other activities of the Chamber have necessitated the postponement from time to time of actual development. It is felt now, however, that conditions are favorable, and the organization work is well under way. Quarters have been secured, for occupancy on June 1, subscriptions are being secured, and all advance indications promise that the Bureau will be in a position to render a distinct service to the business and professional men of the city.

That the business men of Newton feel that they have a real need for this service has been made apparent at various meetings of the Mercantile Division, and of the Mercantile Committee, when those present have invariably displayed much interest and enthusiasm regarding the project. This was first considered at a meeting of the Division as a whole, at which time a credit rating bureau was suggested, and endorsed as one of the most important types of service that could be rendered to the Mercantile membership by the Chamber. The plan was outlined by the manager of one of the most successful of the New England credit bureaus, and it was voted to organize such a service, and the matter referred to the Mercantile Committee for further development.

A majority of the larger New England cities, in common with others throughout the country, enjoy the benefits of a credit bureau, which has been organized in most instances by the chambers of commerce of the respective cities, or is permanently conducted under the auspices of those organizations. Those most conversant with the results achieved are generally agreed that credit bureaus not only render a great service to the merchants and business interests of a city, but are also a distinct benefit to the community itself.

An efficient credit bureau is said to invariably exert a noticeable and beneficial influence on the moral tone of a community, contributing to the personal and civic pride of citizens, promoting thrift, curbing extravagance on the part of those who can ill afford it, and developing new ethical standards on the part of the individual which are unlikely without this influence. There are also many benfits to the individual, enabling those who value their credit to take advantage of it without embarassment or difficulty, and enabling new residents to establish their credit with a minimum of inconvenience.

Every effort is being made to plan the development and work of the Newton Credit Bureau in such a way that it will render a service that will be efficient and meet most expectations of subscribers to this service. Credit bureaus and their methods have been investigated in other cities, and much special information secured on the subject, in accordance with a desire to incorporate in the service to be rendered those things which will be most helpful to both the business interests and the community as a whole, and insure a bureau that will compare favorably in facilities and results with the more efficient of those located in other cities.

"NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH"

One of the cleverest plays seen in Newton for a long time was given on Tuesday night at Players' Hall, West Newton, by the Newton Grade Teachers' Club, assisted by the members of the Newton High School Faculty. The performance, which was of unusual merit, could easily have been taken for a professional performance so well did the characters take their parts.

Some of us can tell some of the truth all the time, more of us are able to tell all of the truth some of the time, but few, indeed, are those of us who can tell all of the truth all of the time.

Robert M. Keeney, as Robert Bennett, found it exceedingly difficult to tell all of the truth for twenty-four hours, which, in a rash moment, he agrees to do.

Particularly good is the scene in which "Bob" is given the third degree by his three tormentors Raymond A. Green, Rolland R. Smith and Paul E. Elicker. His agonized glance at the picture of George Washington brings a hearty laugh on the part of the audience whose sympathy is with him from beginning to end.

Nor are the complications limited to business life. Bob finds it equally difficult to get along in social life. His first remarks bring down upon him the wrath of his hostess and send one of the guests to her room in tears.

Bob's position is rendered especially hard by the fact that his sweetheart herself fails to understand him although he repeatedly tells her that he is doing everything for her sake.

One of the unique character parts is that of Bishop Doran, who is swindled by one of the relentless three, and, when he discovers the truth appeals to Bob for advice and is told that he will get his money back if he only "hollers enough."

Needless to say, the Bishop proves to have good lungs, and in the end wins back not only his original money but the interest thereon. This part was very well done by Mr. George W. Dawson.

Not all of the fun is on the side of Bob's tormentors, for the hero succeeds in turning the laugh upon them when he tells the truth about some worthless stock which they are trying to get rid of. Indeed, before the twenty-four hours are over, it is they, and not Bob, who want to quit.

Mr. Keeney's rendering of the part of "Bob" was exceedingly natural and convincing. Miss Marian E. Green did the rather unpleasant part of Mrs. Ralston with poise and sincerity, and Miss Julia M. Tobin, made a fascinating "Ethel," who was proud of her singing if not of her hats.

Miss Dorothy Bushnell was a loveable heroine, and Miss Myrtle L. Nixon and Miss Helen Merrill added much to the fun, especially in the scene where "Mable" recites her famous speech, "I was an innocent girl" while "Sable" weeps.

The audience as well as the hero, eagerly watch the hands of the clock as they approach the hour of four—the hour of release for the hero and with him breathe a sigh of relief when the hour finally strikes.

Altogether the play is one which moves rapidly and holds the attention of the audience through every scene. The play was directed by Miss Evelyn Cunningham, Miss Pauline Trask was business manager, Miss Marguerite Green had charge of the properties, Miss Ethel M. Pierce was prompter as well as maid in the play, and Miss Dorothy Hamer was the chairman of the Entertainment Committee.

PROPOSED MEMORIAL LIBRARY AT WEST NEWTON

The Cabaret given at the Armory on Saturday evening, May 10, was a most successful entertainment. The Armory was gay with decorations of flags and May baskets and a crowd of almost a thousand filled the building.

The program consisted of dancing, music, and a short illustrated talk about the proposed library by Mr. H. M. Cole. He expressed the gratification of the members of the Community Service Club for the interest shown for this plan of theirs, the building of a suitable Branch Library. The need of such a building was great; and the club undertook the work as fitting to follow the activities of the West Newton women during the war.

The plan has met with the hearty co-operation of the Men's Club, and other organizations.

During Mr. Cole's remarks views showing the land on Davis and Chestnut streets, recently purchased, were shown. The present buildings being some of the oldest and poorest of the village, were followed by views of the proposed library and bank buildings on the same site. The views were suggestions only, but the hearty applause of the audience showed their appreciation.

The library fund is almost $30,000 to date and the club hopes for substantial additions in the near future.

PALS WIN SECOND GAME

The Newton Pals, who won their second game of the season Sunday afternoon, displayed their superiority over Our Lady's High School in a 10 inning contest, 6-5, on Cabot Park Diamond.

The Pals clearly outplayed their opponents in all departments of the game, and led until the eighth, when errors gave O. L. S. the lead. Two well placed hits by J. Lyman and "Larry" Campbell scored McLean and Aucoin with the winning runs.

"Chet" Aucoin twirled for the Pals with Allan McLean on the receiving, and while McArdle, Wright, Flinn and J. Lyman made up the infield with Campbell, Herlihy, and Burke in the outfield.

The Pals are a 16 year old team, and all those wishing games with them can call Manager Flynn, N. N. 1241-R, between 6—7 P. M.

COAL

Newton's "Leading" Coal Dealer
Proof

"Clipping From Transcript"

Note 359. Perhaps some of your readers may be interested to learn how they managed with peat-fire troubles in the town of Newtonville, where I lived in the early forties near a vast peat-bog.

At that time peat, next to wood, was depended upon as a common fuel, as there was not a pound of coal sold in the town. All alike were obliged to burn wood or peat. I remember witnessing the unloading of the first car of coal brought into the town on the Boston & Worcester R. R. and dumped down its steep banks in the rear of and a short distance from where now the Brackett Coal Company is. Mr. Brackett, the owner, while talking with my uncle, said to him: "I am going to see if I can sell any coal in this town." How well he succeeded can be judged from the fact that the Bracketts still continue to sell coal on the same place where they originally located in the fifties.

In many of the Newton houses were built the old-time wood-burning, brick fireplaces generally in the room used as a sitting room, while in parlors, if heated (which was seldom) high drum airtight stoves were used with wood. Peat was used in kitchen stoves and was continually being dug and stacked up in cubes to dry.

Occasionally there were such fire troubles as lately occurred at Norwood, but to prevent the loss of their fuel by fire, the people of Newtonville sectioned off the bog by digging channels or ditches through it thus taking a chance of losing but one section. No attempts were made to stop the fires; the farmers didn't worry about smoke or smells but did about their peat. These ditches were about ten feet wide always filled with water and in winter were covered with jet-black ice—fine places for us boys to skate on.

CARD OF THANKS

Especial mention must be made of the beautiful tributes paid to their deceased father and mother by His Honor, Mayor Childs.

UNDED THE GILDED DOME

We have deliberately omitted this letter the past few weeks because the Legislature has almost stool still, it moved so slowly. This week has been somewhat better, the principal matter of interest to Newton residents being the passage of the bill to require insurance, bonds, or securities to be filed by automobile owners. Ways and Means reported that this matter ought to be investigated, and Ways and Means has made the same report on numerous other subjects. Its report on this matter, however, did not please the House and bill as first reported by Mr. Saltonstall's committee was substituted and passed along to the Senate.

Yesterday the House had a field day over the disposition of the balance remaining of the money raised for paying the soldiers' bonus. The balance was about two and a half millions and Ways and Means recommended that two millions be returned to the various cities and towns, pro rata and the balance kept to meet any emergency arising from the bonus question.

There have been numerous methods proposed of handling this surplus, including one to erect a memorial in Boston, and one to use it for relief of veterans and their families.

The method proposed by Ways and Means called for payments ranging from $46.14 to the town of Mt. Washington to that of $395,706.74, Newton's share being $23,152.94. The writer opposed with a few others this disposition of the money, largely on the theory that the amount received would be used for purposes other than for the benefit of the veterans. The distribution plan was strongly endorsed by the House by a vote of 118 to 45. Representatives Early and Saltonstall voting with the majority.

The bill to pay the widow of Chief Randlett the balance of the salary for the year 1924 has passed both House and Senate and will probably go to the Governor this week or early next week.

The bill to repair Harvard Bridge has also been rushed through the House. Major Lewis E. Moore of Newtonville was one of the experts employed by the Metropolitan District Commission to examine the bridge.

A favorable report has also been made on the bill to provide a northern outlet from Boston through Somerville to the north,—a matter which has had the strongest support by Mr. Henry I. Harriman, chairman of the Metropolitan Planning Commission.

The city of Newton drew somewhat of a lemon on the matter of completing a parkway through Hammonds woods to the West Roxbury system, making a much needed short cut to the South Shore. A favorable report for this work came from the the committee on Metropolitan Affairs but Ways and Means, always on the lookout for postponing expenditures, seized upon a petition of Mayor Childs for an investigation as to the most feasible route to continue this parkway from Commonwealth avenue to the Watertown line, as a pretext to holding up the more important bill and recommended that the whole parkway proposition should be investigated. The writer foresaw this situation earlier in the session and urged the Metropolitan Affairs committee to table the further investigation bill and concentrate on the bill for actual work as far as Commonwealth avenue.

A hearing was held this week by the Public Utilities Commission on the matter of allowing 35 days for use of the 60 ride tickets at which Mr. Walter A. Barrows of Newtonville, the General Passenger Agent of the B. & A. stated that it would reduce their revenue from this source by 12 to 16 per cent. Mr. Barrows also stated that the road received more revenue from one train running from Springfield to Boston than from the 46 trains carrying 7700 passengers on the Newton Highlands Branch. The commission later reported that it was inadvisable to make this change.

—"I don't care a cent about the sermon" said Black; "I go to church to worship. But I have stopped going because when I want to worship I have to stay and listen to the preacher get up and tell me a lot of things that I know as well as he does." "I don't care much for the worship part of it," said White. "I go chiefly to hear the preacher. I like to get suggestions from a man like myself. I like to hear somebody say something out of his own heart instead of praying and worshipping in the same language people used hundreds of years ago. But I have stopped going now because I have to wait half-an-hour or even longer, going through a lot of formality before I get a chance to hear a live man talk to me." And so Black didn't go to church because the preacher was there; and White didn't go because the worship was there. And sometimes Black came and stayed until the worship was over and then went out; and sometimes White didn't come in at all until the worship was over because he wanted to hear only the sermon. What is church-going anyhow? Is it worship or sermon? In the Atlantic Monthly for May Mr. Herbert W. Horwill writes at length about this matter in an article of great interest called "The Preacher's Handicap." This article will be reviewed and discussed at the Unitarian Church in Newton Centre on next Sunday, May 18, at eleven o'clock by the minister, George Lawrence Parker. Mr. Horwill would not have written such an article if the topic were not one of present vital interest. Visitors will be heartliy welcomed at all services in this church.

LODGES

At Newtonville Odd Fellows Hall, Wednesday evening, May 14, Garden City Encampment and Waban Lodge, I. O. O. F., united in celebrating the 105th Anniversary of Odd Fellowship. About 300 members and friends were present and enjoyed one of the best entertainments and concerts ever presented in Odd Fellows Hall, Newtonville. "The Liberty Belles, 3 charming young ladies from the Boston Lyceum Bureau, were the entertainers. Miss Juanita Joly, harpist-vocalist and character artist, Miss Josephine Briggs, pianist, pianologues, and character artist, Miss Catherine Bates, violinist, vocalist, character artist, reader. Miss Joly displayed the mastery of the Irish Harp and every one of impersonations were true to the character represented. Miss Briggs' execution of the piano solo with her left hand was exceedingly fine, her pianologues and readings were snappy, humorous and distinctly rendered.

Miss Bates, as a violinist, was certainly most wonderful, and as a vocalist she was par excellent. Hearty applause after each number brought each one back many times.

The Lucille Mathers Lady Orchestra from Boston furnished most excellent music both for concert numbers and for dancing. At intermission all present found ample refreshments in the Banquet Hall. Returning to the dance hall, dancing was enjoyed until early morning.

Mason School

The "Dairy" reels were given before all the grades of the Mason School on Wednesday. They showed the entire process of making butter, and included even the care of stock, and of the milk and cream.

Club meetings again for the eighth grades in science, English and music.

The seventh and eighth grades were especially favored by hearing Mrs. Parker, on conditions in Russia,—especially so,—because they had recently been studying the earlier history of that country in the seventh grade, and the later history in the eighth. Mrs. Parker had many entertaining, actual experiences in her stay in Russia.

It was interesting to note that, during the four weeks of April, every one of the eighteen rooms in the Mason had over 90% in attendance, the highest being 97.1%, in Room 15.

REUNION OF T. L. S.

Graduates of the Newton High School and other Newton people may be interested to know of a reunion of some members of the Newton High School classes of 1885, 1886, and 1887.

On November 15, 1883, a club of boys was formed, to be known as the Thursday Literary Society. The original members of the club were Franklin M. Elms, Herbert S. Potter, Leighton Calkins and myself. This club was an outgrowth of the Bigelow Debating Society, which was formed with the consent of Mr. Sawin, then head master of the Bigelow Grammar School, and which met in the hall of the Bigelow School. Some of the members of the Bigelow Debating Society were Harry Gay, Chauncey B. Allen, and George Linder, besides those whose names have already been mentioned. When the four boys graduated from the Bigelow School and entered the High School, they formed this new society. Its membership was enlarged from time to time until it reached ten. Thereafter no more members were added. The names of the subsequent members of the club were Edmund P. Marsh, Eugene A. Crockett, Clinton L. Eddy, Harry L. Haskell, Bowen B. Smith, and Walter H. Barker. The club held weekly meetings, and two yearly events, known as the Semi-Annual, held in June, and the Annual Reception held in January. Regular meetings, sixty-six in all, were held down to 1888, and occasional meetings from then on until 1892. During the later years occasional joint meetings were held with a rival organization, the S. D. S., and with the N. H. S. D. S., (Newton High School Debating Society.) After the year 1892 its members scattered, and regular meetings were discontinued.

On Thursday, May 16, forty-one years after the organization of the club, there was a reunion at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Wolcott Calkins, 22 Bellevue street, where the club was formed. All ten members of the club were present and sat down to dinner together just as they had done when they were boys. Several members of the club motored on from New York for the purpose, starting the day before so as to be sure to arrive in season. An informal afternoon was spent at the Braeburn Club, West Newton, by those who could come; but every member showed up promptly at 6.30 at Newton; and a picture of the group was taken to compare with one taken in 1887 when the club was four years old. After dinner a regular meeting of the club was called to order, with President Herbert S. Potter in the chair. The records of the last meeting (1888) were duly read by the clerk. Reports of various committees and officers were then presented by H. H. Haskell, E. A. Crockett, and F. M. Elms. An original oration was delivered by Clinton L. Eddy. Remarks were made by Bowen B. Smith, and Walter H. Barker; and the club was entertained by songs by Edmund P. Marsh, which, from the inception of the club, had always been a feature of our meetings. It was then moved that a hiatus of nineteen years was unnecessary, before another reunion was held, our last meeting having been with Clinton L. Eddy in 1905, when all but three members were present. A committee was duly appointed by the Chairman to arrange for our next meeting. Greetings were sent to the S. D. S., and also to Mr. S. Warren Davis, the beloved master of the Newton High School, remembered by all present, whose term of service is so soon to close at the School.

ROTARY CLUB

Hon. Seward W. Jones, who has just returned from a three months' trip to Hawaii, gave a most interesting talk before the Newton Rotary Club on Monday. Boston's interest in the Islands dates back to 1819, when a group of missionaries was sent out from the Park street Church. These missionaries taught the inhabitants the three R's and to sew, gave them an alphabet, established schools, trained native teachers, and uplifted the people to a plane comparable to other lands. The speaker dwelt on the beauty of the islands, the volcanoes, the grand canyons, referred to the leper colony at Molakai, and friends from Newton he met in Honolulu. One of them was Clark Hyde, the grand-son of James F. C. Hyde's Newton's first mayor.

Thirty or more members of the club have registered to attend the annual outing at Mashnee's Island, Buzzard's Bay, on June 14 and 15th. Here the hosts are the managers of Camp Mashnee. Those who participated last year remember the enthusiastic reception and look forward to this year's outing.

WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

Saturday, May 17, is a Red Letter Day in the calendar of the Newton Girl Scouts. At the State Review which was held on that day in the Boston Arena the Newton girls won first place in two events. In the presence of the Governor, Mrs. Julliette Lowe, the founder of the American Girl Scouts, 3006 Girl Scouts and over 1500 spectators, Elizabeth Plimpton, a member of the Senior Troop of Newton Centre won the state championship in bugling. At the preliminary "try-outs" on May 3d she won first place when 40 girls from many different parts of the state, competed to determine which two should play in the finals at the state review. Lydia Williams, of New Bedford, won second place at that time and was her opponent last Saturday. Scout Plimpton is a member of the senior class at the Newton High School. She has been a scout since 1917 having joined the Newton Centre Troop when it was first organized. Besides being a member of Troop 3 seniors she is a Lieutenant in Troop 5 (the West Newton troop) and holds the same position in the Troop at the Peabody Home. She was awarded the Medal of Merit last June and has held the Newton cup for bugling, three years. A large delegation of Newton Scouts attended the State Review on Saturday and gave her a great ovation when she received the state championship cup. The competition program was as follows, First Call, Retreat, Fire Call, Quarters and a solo.

Twelve girls from Troop 2 (the Newton troop) entered the "Competition Camp Scene." Four different groups competed in this contest—Lincoln, Newton, Waltham and Norwood. Each group set up a tent, a shack made of boughs, a leanto made of poles and 2 ponchos and a flag pole. They also made a camp table and fire and when the scene was completed they hoisted up their troop flag on the pole. Newton came in first making a

NEW CARS ORDERED

The Boston & Albany Railroad has placed an order with the Osgood-Bradley Company of Worcester, for fifty new, all-steel coaches for use in the suburban service, the total cost to be more than a million dollars. The first will be delivered in October. These new coaches will seat one hundred passengers. They weigh 105,000 pounds, which is less than the weight of the steel coaches running in through service, but the cars are of ample strength. The length of the car is seventy-nine feet from platform to platform. There are forty-two cross seats and four longitudinal seats, two at each end of the car, which hold four passengers each. The cars will be electrically lighted and steam heated, and a novelty will be that there will be no arm on the aisle end of the seat, making it easier for the passenger to get in and out, and there will be on the back of the seat, on the asle end, a handle similar to those on street-car seats.

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by DOROTHY DRAKE

Newton High School

The Senior Dance of the Classical School will be held in Bray Hall, Saturday, May 24. Each senior has received two invitations, each of which will admit a couple.

Francis L. Bacon, now principal of the Classical High School, will be director of the combined high schools next year. Irving O. Palmer, principal of the three schools, and M. W. Murray, now principal of the Vocational school, will be assistant principal. These executives will assume their duties in September. The new administration will have complete charge of the Newton High School as one unified body.

The rehearsal of the chorus of the Technical school has been changed from the first half-hour on Wednesday morning to the first half hour on Monday morning. This change was made in response to a request from Mr. Bacon, principal of the Classical building, in order that Mr. Griffin might direct the Classical seniors in preparation for their graduation exercises.

The Horace Mann School

A very helpful and entertaining health play was given in the Horace Mann School last week by Miss Teele's sixth grade. It was entitled "The Land of Lollipop," and was presented in two acts. The first one took place in the palace at midnight, and the second took place in the royal kitchen garden the next morning. Taffy, the candy girl, was invited to the court of King Sweet Tooth, where the members feasted on rich foods and never slept. The tyrant king had banished the true Queen Vitamine, but she was supposed to be near the palace in disguise. Taffy fainted after the appearance of Carrots, a maid, and was thrown into the kitchen garden. There she was cared for by the Sleep Lady, and Carrots until morning when she met the vegetables, fruits and other common foods. She learned that Carrots was the true queen, and restored her to the throne. The king and his court were spared, but put away until there should be a party, when they might appear for the occasion.

The group closed their performance by singing health songs and "America." Between the acts there was a piano solo by Rosamund Bowen, a dance by Babette Shafer, and a violin solo by Frank Batstone.

The play was repeated at the Claflin school on Monday afternoon, and during intermission Marjorie Mighill played the violin, accompanied at the piano by her sister, Judish.

Mason School

The following took part in the program at the class meeting on Monday: Asa Fisk, Helen Hourihan, Robert Hayden, Stella Adams, Margaret Warren.

Three piano selections given by Cecile Rochette, Dorothy, and Hannah Bond with Ethel de Mille, completed the program.

The Mason team played a picked-up team Tuesday afternoon on the Playground and won,—score, 6-3.

Thursday afternoon, a game was played between the Mason and Bigelow on the playground.

An Audubon Club is being formed in Room 16.

Lasell

A party of Lasell students enjoyed the annual trip to Plymouth on Monday, May 19.

A program consisting of music by the Lasell Glee and Mandolin Clubs, violin and vocal, as well as readings by the Lasell students was given at the annual Ladies' Night of the Auburndale Brotherhood which was held at Lasell Seminary Tuesday evining, May 20.

At 4.30 on Wednesday afternoon will occur the annual Field Day. The meet is in charge of Miss Barbara Fenno, head of the Physical Training Department. The Seniors will serve dinner on the green following the sports for the benefit of the Endowment Fund.

Tuesday evening at Bragdon Hall members of the Junior Class will present three short plays under the direction of Miss Lora Vivian Francois of the Expression Department. The Plays are entitled, "Castles in Spain," "Three Pills in a Bottle," and "Thursday Night."

Rev. J. Edgar Park will speak at the Vesper Srevice on Sunday afternoon.

The commencement program at Lasell begins this Saturday with a Glee Club Concert. Thursday, May 29, will be River Day; Saturday, May 31st at 4.30, there will be the Annual May Fete; Wednesday, June 4th at 8 P. M., occurs the Commencement Concert; Thursday, June 5th, at 2.30 the Woodland Park School will have its Recital and Closing Exercises; Friday, June 6th, 2.30-3 P. M., there will be a swimming exhibition; 3.00-9 P. M., an Art Exhibit; Saturday, June 7, the Principal's Reception to the seniors, former students, and guests; Sunday, June 8th, will be Baccalaureate. Sermon by Rev. Philip L. Frick, L. L. D.; Commencement Vespers at 6.15 by Bishop Fred B. Fisher; Monday, June 9th, the Class Night Exercises; Tuesday, June 10, Commencement exercises with an address by Bishop Edwin H. Hughes at 10.45, and in the afternoon the reunion of Alumnae and former students.

F. A. Day Junior High School

Tuesday afternoon, May 27, the Student Council hopes to have the most successful party of the year. The proceeds will be for the benefit of our school athletics, especially to equip the teams. There will be a candy sale, refreshments and dancing. It is hoped that all F. A. Day students and alumni will show their loyalty by attending. The student committee comprises: Edward Elelhare, Charles Mackin, Faith Bull, Dorothy Merrill, Edward Tenney.

The Baseball team lost a 12 inning game to the Southern Junior High School of Somerville at Somerville Monday by a score of 3-2. The game was that of strong play the entire 12 innings. Lyman, pitching for the F. A. Day team, did an excellent piece of work.

So far the local team has been playing in hard luck, but the boys are bound to break their losing streak and hit their stride.

The teachers of the school gathered Wednesday afternoon at a "White Elephant" party in the Library. The mysterious packages passed on in traditional style provoked much hilarity. To Miss Virginia Mason, however, went the day's prize. Miss Mason, who is leaving the school at the end of this year to be married, was presented a gift from her fellow-teachers —hammered silver candlesticks and basket. The presentation poem of kindly advice and loving esteem was written by a member of the Faculty in her inimitable style. The acceptances in rhyme which were asked for in the verse invitations were read by Miss Pierce. Refreshments were served in the cooking room somewhat transformed by its gala yellow decorations.

Classical High

The senior dance will be held Saturday evening at Bray Hall, Newton Centre, with Bert Lowe's Orchestra furnishing the music.

"English," by Katherine S. Scott, was pronounced this week's best editorial by Mr. Donald R. Waugh and Mr. Paul Foster, both of the Boston Herald-Traveler.

The Newton baseball team added another victory to its string, when it deefated Haverhill High, 13-8, on last Saturday at Claflin Field, Newton.

Dorothy Clarke was elected president of the Alpha Gamma at its meeting Monday of last week in room 11. Other officers were, Abbot Speare, first vice-president; Marion Tapper, second vice-president; Helen Spurrier, secretary; Henry Wood, treasurer; and Katherine Holmes, chairman of the program committee.

Williams School

The Williams school is proud to announce 100 per cent children holding school bank books taken out in the West Newton Savings Bank. This means that every boy and girl in the first six grades is now banking in the spirit of thrift.

Week by week grades IV and VI have received the banner indicating 100 per cent depositers in the school bank. In grade VI, Mrs. Spooner's class has deposited 100 per cent every week since the system was installed last February.

In all the different rooms of the Williams school are ample signs of interest in Spring. This is shown particularly in artistic borders and drawings, as well as in booklets being made up by the children.

The two sixth grades of the Williams school are holding a series of interesting competitive relay races at recess.

Mrs. Fiske's room, grade IV, held the highest percentage attendance (96) during the month of April.

The teachers and pupils of the kindergarten and primary grades have been paying attention to the problem of tardiness this year, and good work has been accomplished along this line.

Devices of all sorts have helped. In the second grade, Miss Gardner's room —is a device in which the children are keenly interested. It is a card, size 9 x 3, on which is placed at the end of each week a seal representing the season or holidays (birds, flowers, flags, stars, etc.) The goal is to see at the end of the year how many have succeeded in having each of the required spaces filled.

The same device has given many other pupils equal pleasure, and the children still retain them in after years.

The child who makes the best attendance record receives a book to begin his or her own library, if one has not already been started before entering school.

Technical High

Mr. Palmer, principal of the Technical high school for fourteen years, was presented with a gold watch for his birthday last Friday, by the members of the faculty. This was a token of appreciation and loyalty to his teaching.

Mr. Griffin has recently organized a girls' Glee Club which has since become a very popular feature of school life.

Arrangements have been completed by the entertainment committee of the Alumni Association for the vaudeville show to be given in the high school hall this evening at 8 P. M. There will be a musical program by the same orchestra which played at the performance of "Come Out of the Kitchen." Dancing in the gymnasium will follow the entertainment.

Country Day School

The Country Day School Dramatic Club has elected the following new members:

Reed Harwood, Brookline; Frank H. Soule, Newton; Fiske Rollins, Chestnut Hill; James DeNormandie, 2d, Boston; Olsen Field, Weston; Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., Newton; and J. Madden, Newton. The officers for the coming year are as follows: President, Robert B. Gowing, Longwood; secretary-treasurer, Reed Harwood, Brookline; property manager, Frank H. Soule, Newton, and stage manager, Guy Currier, Boston.

In connection with the senior class course in public speaking these boys have spoken before the school recently:

Edward P. White, Brookline, "The Western Roundups"; Edward S. J. Neally, Boston, "The Japanese Immigration Question"; Robert Morse, Brookline, "Sailing"; Fiske Rollins, Chestnut Hill, "Poison Gas in Warfare"; William O. Blaney, Waban, "The History of Baseball," and David L. Garrison, West Newton, "Human Analysis."

The "Footlight" Orchestra and boys from the Country Day School orchestra gave a unique concert at the Country Day School on Saturday. Several members of the Footlight Orchestra are fathers of boys in the Country Day musical clubs.

CONCERT AT NORUMBEGA

An enjoyabe concert was held at Norumbega Park Theatre Sunday evening, under the auspices of the Holy Name Society of Corpus Christi Church. The program consisted of a piano solo by William O'Donnell of Auburndale; vocal selections, by Miss Katherine MacDermott of Waltham, and George Dolan of Waltham, accompanied by Mrs. Dolan and Miss Mary Murphy of Newton Lower Falls, accompanied by Miss Taafe. The artists were introduced by Mr. George Brophy. A comedy and five reel picture completed the program, and the dance auditorium was very well filled. Arrangements were in charge of James J. Feerick, president of the society, and Thomas Feaney.

NEWTON AND CAMBRIDGE "Y" GIRLS JOIN FORCES

The business and professional girls of the local Young Women's Christian Association were entertained last Tuesday evening by the Business Girls' Club at the Cambridge "Y." The girls left in autos at six o'clock and arrived in time for supper at 6.30. After supper, games and stunts were enjoyed. Miss Alta Blakely of the Newton club sang several amusing solos and Miss Charlotte Spencer, Business and Industrial Secretary of the Cambridge Young Women's Christian Association, read. There were also stunts by Edith Anderson and Elsie Bennett, Ruth Freeman and Melba Peterson and other girls. It is hoped that this will be the first of many joint meetings between the two clubs.

On Saturday, the 24th, there is to be a very fine dance recital, given by Miss Manship, on the estate of Mrs. Henry I. Harriman, who is a member of the Board of Directors. The proceeds of the recital will be used for the work of the local Young Women's Christian Association.

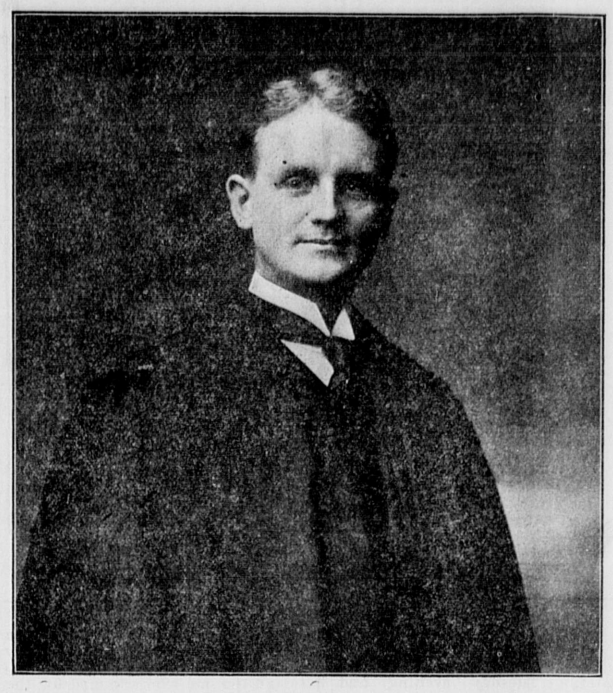

To meet the growth of the Association another room in the Nonantum Building will be rented beginning the main office and on the front of the June 1st. The room is directly opposite building and is to be used as a Committee and Conference room. Contributions of comfortable chairs, etc. for the furnishing of the room will be acceptable.

NEW PASTOR AT ELIOT CHURCH

this time, and in making our report we trust that the solution of this problem will be as satisfactory to you as it is to us.

The Committee of Eliot Church

REV. HENRY A. ARNOLD

unanimously recommend and nominate as Pastor of the Eliot Church and Society, Rev. Henry A. Arnold, Pastor of the Washington Congregational Church of Toledo, Ohio. Washington Church has a membership of over 1300 and a Sunday School of nearly 1000, and is one of the larger churches in the denomination.

The Rev. Henry A. Arnold, was born in Oak Park, Illinois, April 23, 1885. He became interested in scientific agriculture after graduating from High School, and took a year at Iowa State College, but later feeling that he would enter some branch of Christian Service he matriculated at Beloit College, from which he was graduated magna cum laude in 1909. For the following three years he was associated with Dr. Charles H. Beale at Grand Ave. Congregational Church, Milwaukee, Wis., in charge of young people's work and the Sunday School. As part of this service he coached the football and track teams of the West Division High School. In 1912 he entered Yale Divinity School, completing the three year course in two years and graduating magna cum laude in 1914. For every term of his study at Yale he was the recipient of the Fogg scholarship, the highest award offered by the School.

During his last year at Yale, Mr. Arnold was pastor of the church at Middle Haddam, Ct. Upon graduation he was called to First Church of Christ, Bradford in Haverhill, Mass., where he was ordained in 1914, and where he served until March, 1919. This church cherishes the memory that the American Board had its birth in 1810. From Bradford, Mr. Arnold was called to the Washington Congregational Church of Toledo, Ohio, where he is pastor at the present time. During the five years of this pastorate a new Community Building, Chapel and Church have been built, the last unit being dedicated on Easter Day of this year.

Mr. Arnold has been actively engaged in civic and cooperative undertakings both in Haverhill, where he was President of the Haverhill Union Mission Board, and where he assisted in the formation of the Church Federation, and in Toledo, where he has been for three years chairman of the Social Service Committee of the Toledo Council of Churches, member of the Board of Advisors of the Women's Protective Association, member of the Mayor's Commission on the Suppression of Vice, President of the Toledo City Club, etc. He is a member of the Social Service Commission of the National Council, and chairman of the Social Service Commission of the Ohio Congregational Conference.

Mr. Arnold was born into a devout Methodist home, but his training in a college of Congregational atmosphere, his experience in Grand Avenue Congregational Church, Milwaukee, and his study at Yale, made it natural to find a place in the church of the Pilgrim fathers. During college days he played four years on the baseball team and was captain one year, sang on the Glee Club four years and was leader one year, held the college indoor record for the 220 yard dash, was a member of the Sigma Chi and Turtle Mound fraternities.

Mrs. Arnold is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, and is a member of the Delta Gamma sorority. In preparation for her life work as a minister's wife, she studied a year at the Hartford School of Religious Pedagogy.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold have four children, Wilbur (10), Sidney (7), Hugh (4), and Alice (9 months.)

In seeking for information concerning Mr. Arnold, we naturally turn first to his instructors and to his record while at the Divinity School. Dr. Charles R. Brown, dean of the Yale Seminary says, "He is a man of fine appearance, of interesting personality, full of vigor and a man with a well trained, well stocked mind. One of the best preachers in his class of thirty at Yale, a man of deep and beautiful spiritual life. I look upon him as one of the best men we have sent out in the twelve years I have been at Yale." Dean Brown wished him to take his old pulpit at Oakland, Cal.

I quote from Dr. Henry H. Tweedy, also of Yale:

"Among our graduates in the last fourteen years, there is no one whom I could commend more heartily for Eliot Church than Mr. Arnold. A man of Character and training, of genuine culture and knowledge of the world. Even in his school days, he was a preacher of remarkable ability, and he has grown much since then. He is vigorous, efficient, resourceful and a fine executive, around whom young people and old will rally in admiration and affection."

From Bradford, we hear that he was a bright, clear and effective preacher, having positive convictions which he is not afraid to express. An energetic, capable and resourceful leader in church activities, particularly among the young people. His hold among the young people in Toledo is also very strong and they are most loyal to him.

We have many other testimonials from widely different sources. Ecclesiastic and Lay and all speak in similar terms of appreciation. We also inquired of Laymen both in and out of his Parish, and all were unanimous in their good opinion of him as preacher, pastor and citizen.

The Committee has heard him in nine different sermons which were delivered with few notes, and with a distinct enunciation which assures us that he will be heard without difficulty in Eliot Church. His sermons are clear, distinct and effective, given with an optimism and enthusiasm that is challenging. His work is beautiful and strong, satisfactory to the critical sermon tester and always helpful and inspiring to ordinary people.

He is not so much concerned over controversial subjects as he is in trying to instill into the hearts of men the spirit of Christ, which will dominate their whole life in all its relations—religious, social, business, National and International.

Mrs. Arnold has a grace of person and charm of manner that makes her very attractive and companionable, a worthy helpmate to her husband.

We, therefore, as above stated, unanimously recommend Mr. Arnold to the Church and Society as Pastor, and to the Society that he be called at a salary of $7,000 yearly, with a vacation of two months, and that the Society share equally with him in the annual expense necessary to his membership in the Congregational Annuity Fund.

Edith G. Harriman, Wm. F. Bacon, Benj. S. Hinckley, Frank A. Day, Committee of Church.
Walter H. Barker, Helen M. Towle, C. D. Kepner, Committee of Society.

ANOTHER CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE

Public interest in the subject of Christian Science is well gauged by the large and increasing attendance at the explanatory lectures for defining its teachings and practice. One of these lectures as announced in another column will have unusual interest as the lecturer, Mr. John Randall Dunn, C. S. B., is from Boston, and as former President of the Christian Science Organization, and for three years First Reader of the Mother Church, is well known to our community.

His subject, "Christian Science: The Solution of the World's Problems," will appeal to all of an open mind, for the world's problems are just now challenging the attention of thoughtful people, particularly those who look for a solution along more spiritual lines. The lecture will be given in the Community Theatre Sunday, June 1st, at 3 P. M.

SKAALE—EVANS

A wedding of much interest to residents of Brookline and Newton Highlands took place on Wednesday, when Miss Eleanor Isabella Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Evans of 11 Plymouth road, Newton Highlands, formerly of Brookline, became the bride of Arthur J. Skaale of Berkeley, Calif.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. Earl Marlatt of Boston University officiating.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by her cousin, Miss Rita E. Phillips of Brookline. William Evans, brother of the bride, was best man. Marion E. Cole was flower girl and Harry Campbell was ring bearer. The double ring service was used.

The bride was gowned in white satin with rhinestone trimmings. She wore an embroidered veil and carried a bouquet of sweet peas and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore nile green georgette crepe, embroidered with gold beads.

Mr. Skaale is the son of Mrs. Emma Skaale of Berkeley. He is connected with the Western Electric Company. He and his bride will make their home temporarily at Las Plumas, Calif. They leave today for the West.

DEATH OF EDWARD P. LEAVITT

Edward P. Leavitt of 151 Pearl street, Newton, who Monday morning fell from the staging on the First Baptist Church at Charles and Moody street, Waltham, and struck a pile of iron radiators in the church yard, died at 3.25 Monday afternoon at the Waltham Hospital. His name was placed on the dangerous list at the hospital immediately on his arrival and he did not recover consciousness before he passed away. A fracture of the skull was the immediate cause of death and no hope for his recovery was entertained, although he lingered for more than five hours.

EDWARD P. LEAVITT

Mr. Leavit, who was president of the William P. Leavitt Sons Co., widely known roofing contractors of Newton and Boston, had the contract for re-slating the roof of the First Baptist Church in Waltham. The work of erecting the staging was in progress and he fell from a portion just erected below the eaves of the building.

Mr. Leavitt was 60 years old and a native of Newton, where he has always made his home. His father was William P. Leavitt, prominent among the early rofing contractors in this section of the state. He was a member of Newton Lodge of Elks, and Middlesex Court, M. C. O. F.; vice-president of the Master Sheet Metal and Roofing Association of Greater Boston, member of the Board of Councillors of the Building Trades Employers Association and of the National Association of Roofing Contractors.

His daughter, Miss Margaret Leavitt, a nurse who served two years overseas with the Harvard Unit, was summoned from Walpole and was at her father's bedside at the hospital.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Leavitt, two sons, William P. and Edward Leavitt, and three daughters, Mrs. Thomas F. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Fred W. Morgan, and Miss Margaret R. Leavitt.

The funeral was held on Thursday morning at 8 o'clock from his late home with solemn high mass of requiem at the Church of Our Lady at 9. Rev. Fr. Walter J. Roche was celebrant, Rev. Fr. Conrad Quirbach, deacon, and Rev. Fr. Robert Mantle, subdeacon. It was largely attended, a delegation of fifty from Newton Lodge of Elks being among those present. The pallbearers were Hon. James T. Moriarty, representing Local Union No. 17, Sheet Metal Workers; John F. Walsh, representing the Building Trades Employers Association; Frank L. Maguire, representing the Master Sheet Metal and Roofers' Association; Jas. P.MacKey, representing the National Association of Sheet Metal Employers; J. Edward Callanan, representing B. P. O. E. 1327; and John Hanlon, representing the Leavitt Company Employees and M. C. O. F. The interment was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

DEATH OF REV. GEORGE H. CATE

Rev. George H. Cate of Watertown street, West Newton, a retired minister, died suddenly in Boston on Wednesday in his 73rd year.

Mr. Cate was born in Wolfeboro, N. H., but has lived in Newton thirty years. He graduated from Harvard College in the year 1874. He was a member of the Phi Beta Kappa Fraternity. Mr. Cate was also a member of the Second Church, West Newton, and of the Congregational Club of Boston.

Among the various parishes which he has held are Bloomington, Ill., Travers City, Michigan, and Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Surviving him are his widow, Lois Read Cate, a son, Sheridan Read Cate of Pittsfield, Mass., and a daughter, Miss Olivia Cate of West Newton.

Services are to be held at the Second Church this afternoon at 2.15, Rev. J. Edgar Park officiating, and the burial will be in the Newton Cemetery.

GOOD SHOWING MADE

Young Allan Hinkle of 29 Vernon street, Newton, the marble champion of all the Newtons made an excellent showing in the greater Boston Tournament last Saturday morning, May 17th. Young Hinkle played four rounds and was only disqualified in the semi-finals by an opponent from Chelsea.

Mr. George E. Caswell, director of the Burr Playground in Newton from where Young Hinkle was qualified went to the tournament as one of the judges. Young Hinkle, we are told, had the backing of a great many visitors from Newton and the good will of the boy contestants. He was unfortunate in being defeated in his last game by a score of 7-6.

The tournament as conducted in Newton for the first time was very successful and we hope that this will be an annual affair. Young Hinkle will be presented with a medal bearing the City of Newton seal. His name and Local Champion will be engraved on the backside.

NEWTON PALS

The Newton Pals won their third straight game by defeating the fast St. Cecelia's of Back Bay to the tune of 11 to 3.

"Chet" Aucoin twirled masterfully for the Pals, and outside of a few errors the team play behind him was excellent.

The Pals hit freely the Sts. pitcher and a double by McArdle and a pretty home-run by McCarron decided the issue. "Timmy" Finn made a few sensational stops at third keeping up the good work of his previous games. "Berny" Lyman, a new addition to our team, played well at short-stop.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

The Executive Committee met at the Newton Club Tuesday evening and took action on several important matters regarding the incorporation of the Council; a vote of thanks to Mr. William B. Pratt, retiring commissioner for use of the headquarters and also for the donation of a very fine steel case for the entire Council record cards. Mr. J. M. Carley was elected Executive, in addition to Commissioner, in order to comply with certain requirements.

Troop 4 of Newton Highlands are to set up a camp kitchen in the "Ohio," the Council Camping ground Saturday at the "Open House" day, and serve hot "hunters' stew" and coffee to all.

West Newton has made a very substantial donation to the Council through the Church School of the Second Church, to be used at the discretion of the Commissioner and this will be used to provide a further addition to the lunch prepared by troop 4.

More automobiles are needed to transport visitors from Needham Square to the camp. Will any wishing to donate the use of their cars please call J. M. Carley, Newton North 1072-W Friday night or Saturday morning?

The next Court of Honor will be held at the headquarters of Troop 1, High School Gym, Newtonville, Monday, June 2nd at 7.30 P. M.

Mr. Marshall I. Stone of Newton Centre has been appointed Deputy Commissioner for the south of Newton. Mr. Stone made a great success as Scoutmaster of troop 5, from which he resigned last fall and his many friends will be glad to know of his entering the work in this active and important post.

Mr. Chas. H. Woodworth, Assistant Deputy Commissioner, will have office hours at room 8, Newton Classical High school, Wednesdays, from 2.30 to 4.30 for examination work. Scouts should see their scoutmaster before reporting to Mr. Woodworth for any examination.

Stearns School Centre

The Reach-a-Point Club at the Centre entertained the Boys' Club on Friday evening, May 16th.

The chairman of the entertainment committee was Eltha De Costi and May Terrio also served on the committee. The refreshment committee chairman was Alice Le Fevre, and she was assisted by Alice De Wolfe. The entertainment committee furnished such a "peppy" evening that not a minute of the evening dragged from the first game, "I went to a Party" to the climax of the evening when the Hat Parade was introduced. Several boys were chosen and each were given a ladies' hat with a few trimmings; they were given five minutes to trim the hats and the one who trimmed his the funniest got the prize. Melvin Westgate well deserved it when he appeared with his hat that had feathers on it and his arms flapped back and forth resembling a hen in motion.

The Boys' Club is expecting to meet even though their leader Mr. Case is unable to be with them.

The Senior Girls are preparing for their banquet that is to be next Tuesday, May 27.

The Brownies have had their last meeting.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

MISS GRACE M. BURT, Editor

With this issue the Women's Clubs department closes its nineteenth season. For the hearty co-operation of the clubs, without which this department would be impossible, the Club Editor again is deeply grateful. Taken by and large, the year has been a banner one for the clubs of Newton, and the workers have earned a liberal vacation. Go out into the open, down by the sea, up into the mountains, anywhere there is a broad horizon. Breathe deep of nature's pure air, exhale all the foul air of congestion, and take time to think. Review the past year's accomplishments away from their intimate surroundings and see more clearly wherein have been the mistakes and wherein the successes. Drop anxious thought, relax, lie fallow for a little while, be content to vegetate, eat, sleep, read, walk, above all seek some quiet spot upon a cliff overlooking the sea, down in a meadow, or on top of some high hill or mountain where you may be alone, and thus, through communion with nature, give the Infinite a chance to recreate you. Then you will come back again refreshed and ready to take up the old tasks with new enthusiasm, and a broader and wiser vision, just because you have escaped from the ruts for a while. Only in this way can men and women live out their days amidst the hurry and bustle of modern times.

Mrs. George Hutchinson of West Newton is a candidate for one of the vice-presidents, and Mrs. H. Addington Bruce for chairman of the Middlesex County committee, Mrs. Grace M. Poole a member of the nominating committee for 1925.

Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird, president of the club, will preside, and will use for the first time a new gavel, made from pieces of the historic Washington Elm, which has been presented to the club by a member.

Following the business meeting there will be a luncheon at which the candidates for nomination for the principal offices at the September primaries will be the guests and speakers. Among those who have accepted the invitation of the club are Alvan T. Fuller, James Jackson, Louis A. Coolidge, Frederick W. Dallinger, Horace A. Keith, Charles L. Burrill, Frederick W. Cook and Jay R. Benton. Frank G. Allen and B. Loring Young will also speak.

Newton Federation

At the meeting of the executive board last Monday morning the request for withdrawal of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. from the Federation was presented and accepted with regret. The chairmen of standing committees for the new year were appointed as follows: Conservation, Mrs. D. M. Goodridge; Civics, Mrs. W. D. Startweather; Education, Mrs. J. Porter Russell; Finance, Mrs. Louis W. Arnold; Legislative, Miss Emma D. Coolidge; Public Health, Mrs. W. A. Bedford; Social, Mrs. E. H. Rugg; Christmas Health Seals, Mrs. Harry Winslow; Program, Mrs. Harry Cabot; Program Exchange, Mrs. F. L. Miller; Federation Secretary, Miss Grace M. Burt. It was voted to make the Public Health committee a standing committee. Upon recommendation of the Finance committee these appropriations for philanthropic work were made: Welfare Bureau, $500; $25 each to the West Newton Music School, the Hospital Aid Assocaition, the District Nursing Association, the Mothers' Rest, and the balance of the fund to be divided equally between the Woman's Auxiliary for the Y. M. C. A., and the Newton W. C. T. U., both organizations being associate members of the Federation, the total distributed being $6344. Upon recommendation of the Public Health committee a further resolution was sent to the Board of Health stating that the executive board desires that a milk ordinance be passed similar to that in force in Brookline, Quincy and Somerville. Plans of work for next year were considered, but no action was taken.

Club Delegates at Swampscott

Once again the New Ocean House at Swampscott was the Mecca for the Massachusetts Club women on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of last week, and rarely, if ever, has there been such attendance, one afternoon it being over 1500. The hotel was full to overflowing with many in nearby private houses, while the numbers who came for single sessions, or commuted during the whole convention, far exceeded those doing so last year. Newton clubs were well represented, and everywhere the Club Editor turned, home friends were in evidence. No single Newton club, however, save the Auburndale Women's Club the night its chorus sang, could boast of a delegation of twenty-five, as did one club from the South Shore. Winthrop, too, had a large group, as well as the local clubs. The convention hall has had exits opened on the sides of the building, greatly improving the facilities for clearing it in case of emergency. The platform this year was placed on the short side of the room, thus bringing the audience more compactly in front of the speakers, but even then each one had to be placed by the president in the "psychological spot" in order to be heard to the best advantage. The hall was gay with the national colors, and with a beautiful flag correctly placed behind the platform, which was also made attractive with potted palms. So much for the setting.

Promptness marked the whole conduct of the sessions. No speaker could have run over the alloted time, for the corresponding secretary held her watch in one hand with a bell in the other, ready to give the warning signal. But few were the times that it was necessary to sound it. In this matter frequenters of Federation annual meetings could but note the marked advance made during the last ten years in the way of condensation of reports by committee chairmen. In earlier times even the bell was sometimes unsuccessful in silencing an enthusiastic chairman. In subject matter, too, as well as in form, these reports are greatly ahead of former years, that, however, does not mean that even briefer ones, with leave to print, would not serve the same purpose and relieve the tension of the delegates. For the mind cannot absorb more than a certain amount, the saturation point reached, the audience becomes restless.

A new feature at the opening of each day was the use of the Club Ritual prepared by Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, for the opening of club conventions, a responsive service drawn from scripture led by the president, responded to by the officers upon the platform in the absence of sufficient copies for the whole convention, and concluding with the Lord's Prayer in unison. This was followed by the singing of "America, the Beautiful," and the salute to the flag.

All through the meetings Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, the president, was particularly happy in relieving the austerity with witty remarks. Those who had expended large sums in purchasing new millinery or, in the words of one of the chairmen, "spent valuable time in retrimming old hats for the occasion" were doomed to disappointment so far as exhibiting was concerned, for the rule of "hats-off" was strictly observed throughout. There was no ban upon footwear, however, and these became a source of unfailing diversion for those in the front seats. Every style that has ever appeared in a Tremont street shop window was in evidence and then some, for there surely were no two exactly alike.

In addition to the gain made in the reports, the program itself was more full of meat than is sometimes true of these annual meetings. The speakers brought vital messages, even though the audience did not always agree with the point of view presented by them. In fact one of them came in for more diverse opinions than almost any one who has been heard for a long time. Some felt the force of the arguments and information presented, unwelcome though they were, while others were heard to say that they did not like anything at all about the speaker,—the manner, the delivery, the subject matter, even.

The business of the convention consisted of a slight amendment to the by-laws, whereby the re-appointment of a trustee of the Endowment Fund is permissible, the election of officers, and the adoption of several resolutions, which are given elsewhere. Mrs. George C. Morton was elected a trustee of the Endowment Fund.

The musical features of the convention were peculiarly delightful this year. The revival of community singing under the leadership of Mrs. Mabel F. Barstow, of Malden, a member of the Music department, served as an antidote for brain fag and weariness of flesh occasioned from the camp chairs. Mrs. Barstow is full of "pep" and brought out a quality of tone from the huge audience that was wonderfully sweet and melodious, and would have delighted even the most fastidious. Wednesday evening the hearts of the Newton women swelled with pride when the chorus of the Auburndale Woman's Club, directed by Mrs. John Ritter McCormick, and accompanied by Mrs. L. D. MacNutt,, furnished a half-hour's musical. A local reporter before the meeting opened, had expressed regret that a chorus of combined talent from several local clubs had not been asked to sing, but upon hearing the Auburndale chorus remarked, "She did not wonder that this one had been chosen." Thursday evening the Federation, following its own suggestion that rising young musicians be patronized by the clubs, brought for the enjoyment of the delegates a group of talented young people from whom more will doubtless be heard as time goes on: Mr. P. Henry Lynsky, tenor, whose beautiful voice aroused a storm of applause and repeated requests for more; Mr. Alessandro Niccolli, violin, whose masterly playing was equally appreciated, and Miss Rose Francelia Burke, piano, a young Brockton girl, the daughter of a former committee chairman in the Federation, whose skillful fingers brought satisfying results.

In opening the convention Mrs. Poole welcomed the vast audience and expressed the desire that this should be the happiest meeting yet, and that no one should go away from the meeting feeling that it had not been worth while from a social standpoint. Her farewell address she chose to deliver on the first afternoon, because, as she said, they were likely to be a bit emotional at the end, and she hated emotion, that she would have no brains left by Friday morning, and lastly, because she preferred to do it then.

"Many of my dreams," she continued, "have never come to pass, many mistakes have been made. I am far from satisfied with my personal record. But you as a Federation have grown more wonderful in every way. The State has been redistricted, the chairmen of departments have been admitted to sit in at meetings of the executive board, and have since been made voting members. A department of Press and Publicity has been created. State Headquarters have been established, and the next need is a permanent secretary. Publicity is the keynote of teamwork, and the growth of Federation Topics attests the appreciation of this fact on the part of the clubs."'

Mrs. Poole paid special tribute to the co-operation of the press of the State. In speaking of the conferences, she said, it is our aim to stress quality and not quantity. Legislation is still a problem. Shall we endorse principles rather than bills, she asked, and if so, how many? The sum of $3,000 has been contributed for furnising the reception room at the General Federation headquarters. Referring to the death of Mrs. George Minot Baker, she said, "Every day we think of her and every day we miss her."

She urged that the Endowment Fund be a growing fund to which clubs, as they join Federation or increase in numbers, make further contributions.

"The joy of service will long remain with me," she concluded, "the scent of the beautiful flowers you have given me will be like the scent of an old-fashioned rose jar, and the many friendships and associations formed will follow me into the pathway of tomorrow, the land we always seek but never find."

Notes From Reports

Letters written by officers and committee chairmen have passed the 1000 mark in many instances. Fifteen new clubs have joined during the year, with two withdrawals, making a total of 358 clubs, of which 206 were represented at the meeting by 545 delegates, together with the State delegates made a voting body of 581.

Two hundred and fifty-nine press chairmen are working to put over club publicity. Subscriptions to Federation Topics have exceeded 3000.

Regarding the bill for classification of prisoners the chairman of Legislation stated, "While we did not get all we had asked for, we feel that we have made a beginning, and there can always be further legislation when necessary." She quoted Governor Cox as saying that he considered it a step forward in the right direction, and that the women of the State should feel proud that they have been able to accomplish it.

The Civil Service chairman mentioned the vital need for the extension of Civil Service laws to entire Federal prohibition forces, as has been recognized by all groups interested in the efficient administration of the Volstead act. She commended the firm stand of President Coolidge relative to the Merits System.

"Every woman a registered voter" is the slogan of the Community Service department. The past year has seen an increase of 15% over last year. The constructive work on motion pictures done by the Newton Federation was commended.

All who have been touched by the sight of cripples begging on the street need have no particular sympathy for them, because they are not ex-service men, but impostors seeking to "do the public," since Boston is considered an "easy mark." Such instances of wearing the uniform is unlawful, and they should be immediately reported to the police. The delegates were urged to patronize the shop on Boylston street, Boston, where goods made by disabled men are on sale.

The traveling exhibit of examples of good and bad art has been shown by 14 clubs, and may be had for the asking from the Art department.

Better English has been stressed by the Literature department. A list of 200 books for a home library has been compiled.

About 90 clubs offer scholarships. Education more widely diffused and more effective is the one means of upward growth for the future.

There is no better way to meet the need for an increased wood supply than through the establishment of town forests. More than 50 such have been created this year. The outlook for conservation never seemed so bright as at the present time.

The chairman of Home Economics reported that the subject is becoming popular. That there is a more optimistic outlook for a happier home atmosphere, for a home is not just a house.

Mothercraft, it is predicted, will in the future have its place in the curriculum for school children as definite as arithmetic has today. Mrs. Walter McNab Miller, chairman of Public Health in the General Federation who made an extended visit in Massachusetts last winter, writes relative to Public Health work in this state, "The farther I go, the more I appreciate the work you are doing."

Items of Business

The Conference Committee on Moral Education for Girls, many of its members having passed away, has dissolved and a fund of $2,279.73 held by it has been turned over to the Federation to be known as the Shannon Fund, the interest of which will be used for some work along the line of the moral education of girls. The convention voted to accept the fund in accordance with the agreement made by the executive board.

The Marion Chase Baker Fellowship has reached $2290.41, and will be kept open so long as anyone cares to make a contribution.

Over $1000 have been contributed by the clubs to the Children's Hospital during the year, and the Federation voted that, if possible, it be applied to establish another free bed there, this making the third one established by the Federation.

During the convention greetings were received from Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, and from the State Federation of North Dakota, Maryland, Idaho,

TWENTY-EIGHTH ANNIVERSARY

The 28th anniversary banquet of Newton Council, K. of C., was held last week in the Catholic Club Hall, with an attendance of over 300 members of the council and invited guests. A fine speaking program was enjoyed, and the two recently retired grand knights, Thomas Hession and Henry J. Kinchla, were presented with watches and charms by Hon. Daniel J. Gallagher, PSD, in behalf of the members.

William Gerity, GK, was toastmaster. Rev. David B. Waters of St. Patrick's Church, Roxbury, spoke for the clergy, and delivered a stirring address on one of the principles of the order, "Unity."

Mayor Edwin O. Childs paid tribute to the K. of C. in Newton and took occasion to refer specially to the late William H. Thomas, who died recently. He invited the members of the council to attend the Elks' memorial services in December, when the orator will be Hon. Daniel J. Gallagher, PSD, the first grand knight of Newton Council. The Mayor closed with an expression of appreciation for the treatment always accorded him by Newton Council, remarking that it typified a spirit of Americanism, "marked by a capacity to live for an ideal, to give service and to extend rather than grasp privileges."

Brig. Gen. Charles H. Cole was introduced to the strains of "East Side, West Side," and he responded with an address touching many vital questions.

Peter Collins, national lecturer of the Knights of Columbus, spoke on Catholicism and Americanization, with particular reference to American history and the part played in it by those of Catholic faith from the time of Columbus, patron of the order.

Hon. Daniel J. Gallagher, PSD, and first grand knight of Newton Council, 28 years ago, indulged in reminiscences of the early days of the council. He spoke of the menace of the K. K. K. Arthur Corbett, secretary to Mayor Curley, was the last speaker. An orchestra entertained, and there were vocal selections with a recitation by Maurice Fitzgerald of South Boston. Among those seated at the head table, besides the speakers, were Rev. T. P. MacManmon, pastor of the Church of Corpus Christi, Auburndale; Bernard Early, John J. Cronin, DD; John Gordon, Rev. Francis Cronin, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, East Boston; Rev. William J. Dwyer of St. Bernard's Church, West Newton.

25th ANNIVERSARY

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the ordination of the Rev. Richard T. Loring to the Priesthood falls on May 28th. This is also the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ministry at St. John's Church. In recognition of both of these events the Vestry is arranging a special Morning Service Sunday, May 25th, and a Reception to Mr. and Mrs. Loring at the Parish House on Wednesday evening, May 28th. Bishop Lawrence will be present and speak at the Sunday Service, and the Rev. Henry B. Washburn, D. D., Dean of the Cambridge School, of which the Rector is a graduate, will preach the sermon. The service will be at 11 o'clock. There will be special music.

POLICE COURT

In court last week Wednesday James W. Fitzgerald of 56 Lexington street, Watertown, was charged with assault on an officer, Patrolman Ben Thomas. Monday evening Patrolman Thomas went to arrest Terrio at the corner of Washington street and Commonwealth avenue for being drunk and for operating under the influence of liquor. Three other young fellows were in the car with Terrio. Thomas alleges that Terrio struck him and that after he had taken Terrio from the car, Fitzgerald assaulted him in an attempt to prevent him from making the arrest. Terrio's case was continued to May 17, as was Fitzgerald's who was arrested on a John Doe warrant.

John T. Leonard of 12 Hammond street, Somerville, was in court last week Wednesday, charged by Patrolman Marriner with being drunk and with operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor, in Chestnut Hill. He was fined $5 for being drunk and sentenced to 30 days in the House of Correction for operating under the influence. Leonard appealed and was ordered to furnish bonds of $400.

George A. Hope of 75 Crafts street, Newtonville, was fined $20 for operating an automobile so that the lives and safety of the public might be endangered, on the night of April 8. Two women, Mrs. Annie Collins of 580 California street, Newtonville, and Miss Annie Cotter of 75 Wyoming road, Newtonville, testified that at about 9 that evening, Hope turned from Crafts street into Clinton street, close to the left-hand side of the street, where they were standing, and knocked them both down, so that they suffered minor injuries. Hope appealed his fine and was held in $400 bonds.

George H. Virtue of 3 Bradford road, Newton Highlands, was in Court the same day on the complaint of Patrolman Hoyt on three charges of violations of the automobile laws. He was fined $10 for operating an automobile at an excessive rate of speed. A charge of operating an automobile after license to do so had expired was placed on file. He was fined $5 for operating an automobile through a thickly settled district with muffler open. Virtue paid the fines.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Leverett D. G. Bentley

Members of the Newton Highlands Improvement Association have been outspoken in their criticism of the zoning ordinance which, they assert, is not working to the best advantage of our city. It has been voted to ascertain the opinions of the improvement associations of other villages with a view to taking some united action.

We would offer the following and suggest that it be sung by the Highland Glee Club at a mass meeting of remonstrants:

"Well, Yes and No"

Yes, we have no zoning ordinance,
We don't run our city that way;
We still have our troubles with the singles and doubles,
And soon there'll be duce to pay!
Our laws are too scanty,
To keep out the shanty,
Yes, we have no zoning ordinance,
At least that's what folks say.

Of all the twists and turns of life none, it seems to us, are more perplexing than those of the telephone cord. And the worst of it is, we cannot with justice blame the operator or the company. It is simple enough when most telephone matters fail to go just as we should wish to call the chief operator and recite our troubles. But when the telephone cord gets all snarled up there's no one to listen to your complaint. You must get busy yourself and straighten things out the best way you can. Based upon our own experience we have come to the conclusion that a cord can acquire a half-dozen kinks over night. Somehow it seems that when we pick up the instrument to answer a call for somebody else the shrinkage unexpectedly reveals itself. We say to the party on the other end of the line, "Just a minute, please" and we start forward a few steps to summons the member of the family for whom the call has come. When last we saw the cord it seemed fairly lengthy, but from some condition or other it has taken to coil itself into a knot. The result is that when we move forward a few feet we find ourselves jerked backwards and the instrument is almost torn from our hands. Then we look for the cause of the difficulty and see a snarled-up cord. Usually we start a little snarling on our own account. But soon we found that fussing and fuming won't accomplish anything. We thereupon proceed to try to untangle the cord. If there is any puzzle on the market that takes more time than a twisted and knotted telephone cord we have yet to see it. No problem we have confronted has ever so resisted an honest attempt at solution. We try to pull to the right, only to find we should be pulling to the left. We pull to the left, only to find we are merely tying the knot tighter. Then we decide we should pass the instrument through the largest loop. It takes a clever person to hold the receiver down and manipulate the instrument at the same time. Almost invariably the receiver jumps off the hook and strikes against our shins. We grab it and place it on for fear the operator may think we are putting in a call. Having recovered the receiver we turn to the cord again to find it firmer than ever. About this time it is necessary to call for help. Two heads are better than none and four hands are better than two. The combined efforts of two persons soon produces a state of affairs sufficiently satisfactory for you to say, "Well, let it go at that for now." But the knot has not entirely disappeared.

By reason of the character of our daily routine we have been permitted for several years to observe closely the work of State boards, both paid and unpaid. Some time ago we came to the conclusion that an unpaid board was fully as successful as a paid board, providing its members were industrious and sincere. And often it has been proved that the unpaid board was made up of men whose services could not be engaged by the State for any monetary consideration. They, as it happened, more frequently turned out better work, or as good, as highly-skilled and highly-paid experts. We think that one of the most interesting examples of the work of an unpaid board is revealed in the operations of the Metropolitan Planning Division, of which Henry I. Harriman of Newton is the head. The board was created by an act of the 1923 Legislature, and was selected by the Governor during the early Summer. In an incredibly short time, Mr. Harriman called his associates together, and their studies were at once begun. Our own former city engineer, Mr. Rogers, was placed on the staff. A preliminary report was made public almost before some of last year's special commissions had started. Mr. Harriman and his associates told the Governor and incidentally the people of Massachusetts, what the problem affecting transportation in Metropolitan Boston really amounted to, and how it might be solved. Then they tackled specific conditions and brought their findings to the Legislature. We have noticed that some unpaid boards, and paid boards as well, have a facility for suggesting all kinds of ways to spend the public money without defining a comprehensive program. Mr. Harriman and his colleagues not only told what should be done, but brought with them bills for enactment which were so sound and well drawn the committees to whom they were referred didn't have to struggle with the drafts. They had merely to report the original measures. Not only has the Metropolitan Planning Division been called upon to study questions, but its chairman (Mr. Harriman) has had to go before various committees at public hearings and explain the details. In that, too, Mr. Harriman has been eminently successful, making his ideas understood in brief speeches and concise and simple language. We speak of this because it is good for us Newtonians to know that we have prominent citizens who are willing to sacrifice their own interests for their fellow citizens and without any hope of reward or even public acknowledgment.

Many of us are looking forward with tenderest thoughts to Memorial Day, which comes next week Friday. We may expect that Newton will observe the day appropriately and with fitting recognition of the valor of those who fought their country's cause and have passed on. If there is any day upon which the people of the United States should pause and reflect the significance of a Nation's struggle that day, in our opinion, is the thirtieth of May. We used to hear it called "Decoration Day" but we are inclined to believe "Memorial Day" has a deeper meaning. However, words mean nothing when the people of the country are of one spirit and one mind. Newton, it has always seemed to us, has been, through nature's favor, better suited than many other cities as the scene for Memorial Day services. We are a "Garden City" in name and in fact. Only in the larger village squares are our thoroughfares without trees. Grass borders on our streets and lawns surrounding our houses. Picturesque and beautiful this combination, and all reflecting the wisdom of our citizens and their desires for attractive home conditions. We have been privileged to witness for a number of years the simple exercises on Memorial Day which have been led by the Grand Army. We have a distinct and a pleasing vision on these days of "Sam" Langley of West Newton and John Flood of Newton, both prominent in the observance conducted by Charles Ward Post, and it is gratifying to know they have been spared to still perform those services. We were once a neighbor of Mr. Flood, whose friendship, like that of Mr. Langley, we have esteemed since boyhood. To us it was a sight that made our eyes become moist when we saw John Flood in his Grand Army uniform, bearing great armfuls of flowers he had gathered for decorating graves. Always active and alert to the interests of Charles Ward Post, Mr. Flood worked for days ahead to see the graves were tended on Memorial Day. He would travel to the most distant cemetery in these parts where lay the body of a member of Charles Ward Post, and there place the little flag and the brightest blossoms. Mr. Langley, we recall, as the adjutant who was kept busiest when the parade was forming, and who labored diligently from sunrise to sunset in order the program might be carried out without interruption. Both these men did a great deal to teach us the lessons of Memorial Day, which we shall always remember.

It now appears that the General Court will have been prorouged before the end of this month. To any who may ask, "Why the delay?" we will be obliged to say, "Ask somebody who knows!" And should we say that it will be merely an evasion because way down in our heart, we do not believe there is anybody who does know. The thing to remember is that representative government represents more than government. It gives selfish people a chance to play the game for their own advancement and thereby represents "peanut politics" more times than one. There is, however, nothing concerning which the people should feel doleful. The Legislature is not perfect, but inasmuch as it is made up of human beings, no one can expect it to be. In our opinion the right thing is done in the end. By this we mean that the greatest good for the greatest number is usually the product of the annual grind of the General Court. Conscientious members of both political parties struggle through weeks and weeks and months and months to put through the bills they believe are necessary and worth while. Politicians in both parties throw obstructions in the path in order that they may get newspaper publicity, or make themselves stronger with their constituents, or maybe something else. But the whole thing works out about as well as anything that is operated by the hand of man. Furthermore, Massachusetts is a great deal better off as regards its collection of legislators than many other States, and that helps.

New Hampshire, Connecticut, (the last two being then in session), Louisiana, and Florida, and from Mrs. Mina del Castilb, the chairman of Music, who with a party of club women is enroute for the Los Angeles Biennial by automobile, stating they had reached Terre Haute, Ind., without incident.

The President's questionnaire regarding philanthropic contributions of the clubs revealed that from the 225 clubs responding they have given $85,402.72. With 125 clubs not heard from it is easy to estimate that the total philanthropies of the clubs of the state must reach $100,000.

Resolutions in Brief

That the Massachusetts State Federation go on record as heartily favoring the entrance of the United States into the World Court; and that it appeal to every club and to each individual member to make articulate to the United States Senate and to the two Senators from Massachusetts their opinion concerning the World Court.

That the Federation adopt the following declaration of policy made by the Board of Directors of the General Federation of Women's Clubs:

While the General Federation of Women's Clubs is an ardent adherent of measures that will lead to the firm establishment of international understanding and peace; and while it realizes that aggressive warfare is quite outside of the policy of the United States—it believes that in the tumultuous state of the present world, the government of this country should maintain an army and a navy adequate to preserve the security and dignity of the country; such dignity and security being themeselves a great contribution to international stability.

The State Federation also voted to register its approval of the decision of the United States goverenment to send representatives to the forthcoming International Opium conference for the purpose of putting into practical effect the resolutions presented by Representative Stephen G. Porter at the meeting of the Opium Advisory committee held in Geneva last June.

It further resolved: "That if the purpose of the Hague convention is to be achieved according to its spirit and true intent and the ever-increasing menace of drugs is to be checked, the production of the poppy and cocoa plants must be restricted to the medicinal and scientific needs of the world."

Be it further resolved: That a copy of these resolutions be mailed to all Representatives in Congress and all Senators urging them to support the resolution authorizing the appropriation of the necessary funds to enable the president to send reperesentatives of the United States to the forthcoming conference and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to Hon. Charles E. Hughes, secretary of state, Washington, D. C.

Along with the usual courtesy resolutions came this one from the Brockton Woman's Club, accompanied by a beautiful bouquet of roses for the retiring president:

Whereas: You think a 50-50 president you've been
WHEREAS: The home town club thinks you the best they've ever seen,
Whereas: We hope to see you home attending every meeting,
We send this little token to convey our loving greeting:
Resolved We are so proud of you
We like your "pep."
Resolved: That on to Washington we'd like to see you step,
We like your work, we like your smile,
We even like your frowns,
We like your poise, and O! my dear,
Resolved: We love your gowns.

Speakers at the convention included, Mr. Sherman Rogers, who under the topic, "Leaders versus Drivers," pointed out that, if capital and labor could only know each other and become folks, there would be no need for warfare of the classes and strikes would be unknown. Mrs. Nancy M. Schoonmaker urged the women to work more than ever for the entrance of the United States into the World Court, saying that at the present time it is only ten out of the eighteen members of the Foreign Relations committee of the Senate that is holding it up; that a recent poll of the Senate shows that the necessary two-thirds vote of the Senators is assured, if only it could be gotten out of committee. Mrs. Caesar Misch, president of the Rhode Island State Federation, gave a very scholarly address on "The Evolution of Education," in which she traced it from the earliest times and told what has been and is being done in countries all over the world. On Friday morning Miss Helen B. Risdon explained the Better Homes Movement, saying that it is a force of great importance in the education of the American people to higher standards of living. She asserted that 92 per cent of the women of the country do their own housework, and that 46 per cent own their homes. The stress is not upon larger nor more expensive homes, but that the keynotes are simplicity and economy.

The slate as presented by the Nominating Committee was elected with but few scattering votes.

Mrs. Poole relinquishing the gavel welcomed the new president, Mrs. Frederick G. Smith, of Somerville, to the ship of state, and said that she herself was glad to be once more a member of the crew.

Showered and almost snowed under with flowers until the platform became a veritable bower both incoming and outgoing officers and other workers laid down their duties, and the convention of 1924 was a thing of the past,—a joyful memory of work well done and a host still awaiting them for the coming year.

Unlucky.

A few climb the ladder of fame; the most of us walk under it.—Boston Transcript.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN

Widening of Sumner Street at Langley Road Cause of Lengthy Discussion

There were many hearings listed on the docket of the Board of Aldermen for Monday evening, the one causing the most discussion being the matter of widening the corner of Sumner street and Langley road, Newton Centre. Mr. Allan S. White, representing the Newton Centre Improvement Association, stated that this was a dangerous corner, particularly on account of the proximity of the fire station, and believed that the corner should be rounded, and also that a building line should be established on Sumner street from Beacon street to Lyman street, with a view to widening in the future. William J. Miller, representing the owner of the property at the corner, who has started excavating for a block of stores, stated that they wanted to be fair to the city, and wanted the city to be fair with them. Robert T. Healy and H. T. Lane were opposed to the establishment of the building line, but in favor of the corner being rounded. Mr. J. Albert Cole was in favor of something being done at this corner to make it less dangerous, and also believed that the grade of Langley road at this point should be changed. Doctor Andrews believed that it was a dangerous corner at present, and that the widening should be made. The Finance Committee reported that it was inexpedient to construct a sewer in Valentine street, West Newton.

Sewers were ordered laid in Winnetaska road, Milton street, Underwood avenue, Mt. Alvernia road, Ridge avenue, Daniel street, Walter street, Parker street, Nevada street, Cotton street and Waverley avenue, Ward street.

THE presses that printed this newspaper were driven by electricity; its type was set on electric linotype machines under electric droplights; its pictures were reproduced from electro-plates; a red electric lamp in the dark-room guided the photographer; you read this message, perhaps, by electric light. HYMN FESTIVAL OF NORUMBEGA S. S. ASSOCIATION

The weather proved most auspicious for the Sixth Annual Music Festival, conducted by the Norumbega District, last Sunday afternoon at Eliot Church, Newton. The beautiful chimes of Grace Church were used for the outdoor processional across Farlow Park, preceding the indoor program. Crosses, flags and banners, and vested choirs—altogether seven to eight hundred children and their teachers from 30 or more Sunday Schools, participated.

PARTICIPANTS IN THE MUSIC FESTIVAL HYMN DRAMATIZATION

The program was pronounced by many to be the best ever. It used as a theme, "The Life of Christ in Hymn and Scripture." After the singing of hymns to represent Nativity, Boyhood, and Manhood, the congregation was asked to sing antiphonally, stanza by stanza, the two hymns "Jesus Calls Us," and "Just as I am, Thine Own to Be," the first hymn stanza giving the call of the Christ, the next the response of the people.

As an effective climax, and in order to interpret certain hymns, a touch of pageantry was used. A cross-bearer, clad in shining crimson and purple, to symbolize majesty, came to the centre of the platform, during the singing of "In the Cross of Christ I Glory." Two angels in white followed. These figures remained during the next hymn, "From Greenland's Icy Mountains," to receive the foreign children in costume, who came down the church aisles. Following these were American children with Bibles and lighted candles. All formed a tableau for a short time, as the congregation sang "We March to Victory."

There were some new hymns included this year in the Festival, for the express purpose of introducing new material into the Sunday Schools of the District, and thus raising the standards of Sunday School music. The Festival Committee plan to issue next year's hymns much earlier than usual, in order that there may be more practice of these in many Sunday Schools previous to the Festival itself.

The thanks of the committee are due to marshals, ushers, and pageantry assistants, as well as to the director, Mr. Bates, whose cordial co-operation and assistance are gratefully acknowledged.

W. C. T. U. CONVENTION

The Spring convention of the Middlesex County W. C. T. U., was held at the Unitarian church, Newton Centre, on Wednesday.

At 10 A. M., the convention was called to order by the President, Mrs. Grace M. Hamilton of Winchester. After the routine of business "Greetings from the Church" were given by Mrs. Geo. L. Parker; Greetings from the Newton W. C. T. U., by the President, Mrs. J. A. Groves. This was followed by a response in behalf of the County by Mrs. F. L. Perry of Wellesley.

A most interesting talk was given by Mrs. Jeanette H. Mann on "Membership Drive." This was followed by the noontime prayer service.

At noon a very delicious lunch was served by the "Alliance" of the church.

In the afternoon two plays were given, "Healthville" and "the City of Attainment." Both were very much enjoyed.

Mrs. G. L. Parker was most forceful in her splendid talk on "Law Enforcement." This was followed by a reading, "Killing the Dragon," by Mrs. Ernest Cobb.

"America the Beautiful," set to the new music written by Mrs. Elsie Eaton, was sung in a very impressive manner by Mrs. White of Milton.

Mrs. Bernard Adams was one of the soloists of the afternoon. The Convention was a very profitable and pleasant one.

25th ANNIVERSARY

Rev. Richard T. Loring Celebrates Installation as Rector of St. John's Episcopal Church of Newtonville

On Wednesday, May 28th, the Rev. Richard Tuttle Loring of St. John's Church, Newtonville, celebrated the twenty-fifth annniversary of his ordination as rector of St. John's Episcopal Church, Newtonville.

Mr. Loring has had an interesting life. He was born in Walpole, Mass., and received his early education in the Roxbury Latin School and then went abroad for 6 years.

In 1892 he graduated from Harvard College where he was a member of the "Institute 71" and of the Harvard Musical Club.

After his graduation, he made a second trip abroad studying music and art. Returning to Boston, he attended the Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge, working his way through by playing the organ and teaching. He was also a Lay Reader in Woburn.

OLD FOLKS' CONCERT

"Ye Olden Times" came to Eliot Church last Friday night in the form of an Old Folks' Concert.

Members of the choir of Eliot Church looked very charming in the costumes of a by-gone age, some of which were of unusual beauty. Lace shawls, bonnets lined with flowers, mits, cascades of lace, fichus and frills, added their touch of feminine loveliness.

The costume worn by Miss Estabrook of black and lilac satin, with black panels embroidered in tea roses, was of special interest. This costume belonged to Mrs. Vincent of the old Boston Museum Co., for whom the Vincent Club was named and was worn by her in, "She Stoops to Conquer."

The costume worn by Miss Gertrude Ensign was also very beautiful. It was of green watered silk, over which she wore an exquisite white lace shawl.

Nor were the men to be outdone. Curling wig, knee breeches, fancy vests and ties, made such a gay appearance that one hardly recognized the staid citizens of today.

The first part of the program was given over to the Old Folks' Concert, led by Mr. Truette, organist of Eliot Church. The songs were of great variety. Some were of much dignity and poise, and others in lighter vein. All were sung with spirit and evident enjoyment.

Especially well done was the Sextet from "Lucia" in which the chorus was led by Miss Brown, Miss French, Mr. Stone, and Mr. Kidder.

Mr. Ferry delighted his audience by his solo, in which he told them that he was "just as young as he used to be." He received hearty applause and a bouquet. Indeed, all of the soloists were much appreciated and enthusiastically encored.

Between Parts 1 and 2, the "Star Spangled Banner" was unfurled, and the audience joined in the national anthem.

Dr. Arthur E. Holt as the "tithing man" who "enforced ye rules" and corrected the boys who behaved themselves in an "Unseemly" manner, carried out his duties in a most painstaking manner, much to the amusement of the audience.

Part 2 was given over to a Toy Symphony, in which 44 instruments, most of them of the toy variety, were used. In this, Mr. Truette was assisted by Miss Gertrude Ensign at the piano.

Before the concert began, Mr. Truette in a very clever speech touched with humor, told of the purpose of each instrument, and had each member play upon his instrument. He also told of the History of the Toy Symphony and its development.

The selection chosen for this occasion was the "Toy Symphony" by Bernard Romberg, a most interesting composition, in which a theme could clearly be traced.

Each instrument did its part nobly, proving that the choir of Eliot Church is most versatile, being composed of players as well as singers.

There was no reason to complain of the audience, which filled every seat in the chapel. His Honor, Mayor Childs, and Mr. Isaac Porter "in theyre best clothes" helped the "wimmen folks to theyre seates."

A goodly sum was realized for the benefit of the Near East Relief.

THE NEWTON ARCHERS

Archery on the Newton Centre range last Saturday was rather difficult on account of the high wind. Nevertheless, about two dozen people were shooting, and some rather good scores were made.

A group of Wellesley College Archers came down to shoot with the Newton Archers. Two of the visitors and two of the home archers were assigned to each target, so interesting comparison of scores and methods of shooting were made. The Wellesley girls compared very favorably with the Newton archers, making scores that came pretty well toward the top of the list, and shooting in good form. Shooting at 60 yards was especially enjoyed, as the college range permits a maximum of only 50 yards. A novelty shoot at the end added to the fun.

LODGES

Newton Lodge, K. of P., had a good time Wednesday evening, when several members attended the St. James Theatre.

FIRE AT PLAYERS' HALL

The tower of Players' Hall, in West Newton Square, was badly damaged by fire just before noon last Saturday, and the blaze became so threatening that a second alarm was sent in, summoning all the apparatus in the city, with the exception of Stations 9 and 7 on the South Side. It was the first dangerous fire since Chief Clarence Randlett assumed his new rank.

The fire started about 11 o'clock and is believed to have been caused

BOY SCOUTS

On Saturday, May 24th, Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, which covers the city of Newton and the town of Wellesley, had a "get together" day at their new camping grounds, known as the Ohio, in Dover about three miles south of Needham. This property, consisting of about thirty-two acres, has been purchased by the Council, and the President set aside the twenty-fourth as a day for the scouts, officers, parents and friends

COMMUNITY CONFERENCE PLANNED

Newton Welfare Organizations Lay Plans for Fall Program

Plans for a city-wide Community Conference on Social Welfare, to be held in Newton in October, 1924, were enthusiastically approved at a meeting of the Newton Central Council, held at the Community Welfare Centre, 12 Austin street, Newtonville, on Tuesday afternoon, May 27.

According to the general outline of the plans presented, the Community Conference would consist of an all-day program of meetings on various topics relating to the social welfare problems of the city and to the programs of the social and health agencies of Newton. In particular, the Conference would afford an opportunity to bring before the people of the city the findings and recom-are "forward looking men" seeing beyond the present pleasure of spending to the future satisfaction and comfort of having.

Modern business enterprises make strenuous efforts to eliminate as much waste as possible. It has been found that concentration on the utilization of wastes and the stopping of leaks is almost equally important with the development of new business.

Savings Deposits draw interest from the 1st day of each month.

FOR GOD AND COUNTRY

"We shall preserve our Liberties" said George Washington, "only by the religious education of our youth"

¶ The great united work for religious education of the youth of our city is done through the Norumbega District Sunday School Association and Council of Religious Education.

¶ For six years the work has been in progress with increasing success. It includes:

1. Community Training School of Religious Education for Sunday School Teachers.
2. Young People's Conference.
3. Annual Musical Festival of Great Church Hymns.
4. Advice and assistance of Executive Secretary to individual churches.

¶ The association does not duplicate nor overlap the work of any other organization.

¶ It does only those things which cannot be done by any individual church acting alone.

¶ The annual budget is $4,500, of which $3,000 must come from individuals. Many hundred gifts in amounts from $1.00 to $25 are needed at once.

Will you send your check—in accordance with your ability and the measure of your belief in the importance of the religious education of the young people of our city—to

THE MISSES ALLEN SCHOOL

Commencement week was ushered in with two plays given by the young ladies: "The Golden Eagle" and "The Maker of Dreams," given by the Misses Harriet Bernie, Helen Bent, Betty Hurd, Hildrith Keep, Susan White and Evelyn South, at which there were many guests.

The Senior banquet, to which many recent graduates were asked, was a delightful occasion at the Brae Burn Country Club, where toasts were responded to by many of the graduates.

The seniors occupied two tables at the Smith College Pop Concert on Tuesday night. The graduating exercises were attended by a large number on Tuesday, when Dr. George A. Gordon addressed the young ladies and their friends.

Songs by the school chorus, and piano and song selections were rendered before Miss Lucy Allen presented the diplomas to the following graduates and post graduates: Helen Bent of Taunton; Eleanor Barker of Taunton; Harriet Birnie of Springfield; Elizabeth Hurd of Troy, N. Y.; Evelyn Smith of Springfield; Virginia Fitts of Boston; Isabel Sproul of Waban; Sarah Taylor of Wellesley Hills; Susan White of Iowa; Martha Webb of Lisbon, N. H.; Gertrude Wilder of West Newton.

A reception to the Seniors was given later, at which many were present. A number of the Seniors expect to enter Smith and Wellesley Colleges in the Fall. Others are to travel.

Miss Sarah Taylor received first Honorable Mention in the Atlantic Prize Contest, which boys and girls competed for in all parts of the U. S.

Saturday afternoon the lawn at Bancroft will be the scene of the annual May Fete. The May Queen, having been chosen by previous secret ballot, will be crowned. The winding of the May pole will be followed by other dances by pupils from the Physical Training Department of the Senior and Junior Classes.

LEGION FIELD DAY

Newton Post No. 48, American Legion, will hold its first field day at Claflin Field, Newtonville, on Saturday, June 14. Features of the affair will be a baby show in the afternoon and a sham battle at night. Countless other attractions, for young and old, will be staged during the day.

As time passes the need of a relief fund is more urgently felt, and the purpose of the field day is to place the post's treasury in condition to meet the ever-increasing, worthy demands upon it.

This is easily the biggest affair of its kind ever attempted by the Newton Legion. Commander Thomas A. Franey is general chairman of the committee in charge. The Auxiliary to the post is taking an active part in handling the various refreshment booths.

A hope chest, filled with donations from public spirited merchants and residents of the city, will be awarded to some fortunate person on the night of the field day. This chest will contain hundreds of dollars worth of valuable articles.

The baby show in the afternoon is expected to draw hundreds of Newton's best babies. The winner will be designated "Baby Newton of 1924." Three handsome cups will be awarded the first, second and third selections of the judges.

Mayor Edwin O. Childs will be chairman of the judges. Assisting him will be two baby specialists from different parts of the city.

Baby prize winners will be selected for general appearance, health and physique. Only Newton children will be eligible for prizes.

A corps of nurses from the Newton District Nursing Association will be in attendance, to aid mothers in caring for the children during and after the baby contest.

Sports for boys and girls will be another feature of the afternoon program. A long list of prizes has been donated for the winners. The committee as also arranged for several "surprise" features for the youngsters.

Shortly before dusk a heavy smoke screen will settle over Claflin Field, marking the opening of the mimic warfare. Two companies of Infantry, including Company C, 101st Infantry of Newton, commanded by Captain Thomas F. Hickey, a machine gun company, one-pounder section and a chemical warfare unit will participate in the sham battle.

For obvious reasons the "battle" cannot be carried out from a strictly tactical point of view, but will be staged for the main purpose of showing the citizens of Newton how Uncle Sam's doughboys act under fire.

The "battle" will give the uninitiated some idea of how St. Miheil, Chateau Thierry, the Argonne and other American objectives in the World War went down before the onslaughter of the Yanks.

Company C will be in the center of the "battle." Assisted by Lt. George F. Hennrikus and Lt. Frank L. Wilcox, Captain Hickey will lead his company in an attack on a machine gun nest. Flares, Verry Lights and other signals will be used to direct the attackers. A bayonet charge, the most thrilling of all military manouvers, will be introduced in the "fight."

Dancing afternoon and evening will be conducted, with a first class orchestra furnishing the music. Two large dancing floors have been secured for the occasion. The so-called modern dances will be interspersed with the dances of yesterday, so that young and old alike may enjoy this part of the program.

WILL CHARGE FOR SMALL ACCOUNTS

Beginning June 1st all commercial accounts in Boston banks and trust companies having an average balance during the month of less than $300, will be subjected to a charge of $1. a month. The matter has been before a committee of the Boston Clearing House Association for some time, with the above result.

It is understood that all commercial banks in suburban Boston will at the same time adopt a similar plan, except that in the case of suburban banks the charge will be made on collected balances averaging less than $200. during the month.

Bankers have long contended that they lose money on small accounts, and the high cost of doing business and the low rates for money are said to be the reasons for the departure.

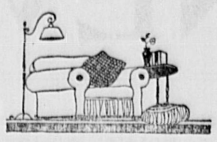

The service charge will be computed on average balances for the month. An account may be below the required amount a number of days, but if the daily average for the month is above the limit there will be no charge. Moreover, each month will be treated by itself. If an account averages above the required amount for some months and below it during others, the service charge will only be made for the particular months when the balances are low.

The suburban banks will exempt accounts of religious, charitable, and fraternal organizations from service charges. None of the banks will make service charges of any kind on savings accounts.

It is known that service charges similar to those provided for by the rules recently adopted in Boston have been in force in many cities and towns throughout the country for several years.

No Savings Account is Affected

In response to many inquiries that the regulations effective June 1st, relative to commercial accounts of under $200.00, it is understood in no way affects Savings accounts in any of the Newton banks. The Service Charge of $1.00 a month on accounts of less than $200. applies only to those accounts subject to check.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NOTES

The consistent development of the membership of the Newton Chamber is progressing in accordance with the plans of the membership committee for the current year, passing the 2500 mark recently, and giving the Chamber a present membership of 2512. The 1924 membership objective is 3000, after which time it is probable that the efforts of the membership committee will be chiefly directed to the permanent maintenance of the membership on that basis.

Much encouragement is being given the Chamber staff in its efforts to make uniform the summer half holiday closing plan in connection with the Newton stores. This plan was worked out more effectively in the summer of 1923 than in any previous year, and all present indications point to as general an endorsement of the plan by local business men as last year.

Quarters have been secured for the new Newton Credit Bureau on the third floor of the Bacon Building at 277 Washington street, Newton, in which structure the Chamber office is maintained on the second floor. Arrangements have been made for the credit bureau to occupy its new office on June 1, and it is expected that the development of the bureau and its work will be reasonably rapid, as soon as it is permanently located. While the quarters must necessarily be modest because of the plan to make the bureau a self sustaining institution, they are pleasant, and promise to prove ample space accommodations for the bureau for some time to come.

The Chamber committee appointed to consider the development of a plan through which it is hoped the so-called "Commonwealth Avenue Triangle" may be acquired by, or for, the city, will resume its meetings in the immediate future. This committee has been awaiting the completion of the work of a sub-committee, appointed to determine the probable reimbursement that could reasonably be expected from tax levies on increased valuation.

The Chamber Committee to consider the proposed modification of the Newton Building Code is making substantial progress in its recent meetings, when Buildings Commissioner Cecil C. Chadwick has met in conference with the committee.

Those who have been interested in the efforts of the Newton Chamber of Commerce to secure desirable facilities for horseback riding in reasonably close proximity to the city will be gratified to know that permission has been given by the Metropolitan District Commission to make use of the natural facilities provided along the Charles River Reservation, on the south side of the river from a point near the Watertown bridge to Albemarle road, in West Newton.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Written by Leverett D. G. Bentley

There is certain to be observed on this Memorial Day the custom of displaying the flag of our country. Newton people, we have found, are ever thoughtful of this silent tribute to the soldier dead. Somewhat puzzled ourselves as to the proper way of displaying the flag on Memorial Day, we have consulted the book "Our Flag," prepared by the Secretary of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Under the caption "Flag Etiquette" we find the following:

"On Memorial Day the flag should be displayed at half-staff from sunrise until noon, and at the peak from noon until sunset."

We are certain that the State flag will also be flung to the breeze on official buildings and in other places. It bears the motto, in Latin, "Ense petit placidam sub libertate quietem," which, translated, means "By the sword we seek peace, but peace only under liberty." Though having frequently reflected on this motto, we always find a thrill in those words which we believe is felt by all our citizens.

With a feeling of impatience, almost as keen as that of the youngsters on Christmas eve, we await the operation of the Boston & Albany's new equipment "of all-steel coaches for use in the suburban service." We read in last week's Graphic many interesting details as to the cost, weight, seating capacity, etc. What most impressed us were the words "there will be no arm on the aisle end of the seat, making it easier for the passenger to get in and out." After our eye had caught that line we paused and put down the paper for a moment of reflection. We wandered if after all that precious arm may well be spared. In abandoning it so ruthlessly, have the officials of the road forgotten the uses of said arm, we wonder. Only this week, while riding in a crowded train, we saw some of the young folks were using these arms for a roost, because all other seats were taken. Of course they had the permission of the occupants of the seat—some of their "own crowd"—and yet it provided a satisfactory perch for a not-too-long journey. Nor is this the only good purpose served by the arm. Suppose it is early evening and you are one of those to climb aboard as soon as the train has been backed into the South Station and the gates opened. Haven't you hurried forward to select a seat directly beneath one of the car lamps, backed yourself against the arm and turned sort of sidewise in order that the light might shine over your shoulder while reading your evening paper? We thought you had. Well, what are you going to do when there is no arm on the seat against which you may brace yourself for a quiet perusal of the day's news? We don't know and we don't know anybody who does. But suppose you are one of those who make the train just before it leaves Boston, and there is a crowd and you are obliged to stand. On what are you going to rest your traveling bag, your bundles or your suit case if there is no arm. The article we read points out there will be a handle on the back of the seat which a passenger may grip. That cannot, as we visualize it, serve as a shelf for hand baggage or a prop for one's swaying body. Still, we have no desire to be looked upon as old-fashioned. We want to have these newfangled cars as much as anybody. Yet we shall miss the fine, old solid arms that have served us so faithfully in the past, and we have no doubt others will join our lament at their passing.

The year 1924, although less than half gone, has enriched the vocabulary of slang-users with the phrase "hay-shakers." A hay-maker is an individual who is usually situated in the rural sections, but at the same time has proved himself a man of industry and a "go-getter." It is also used in describing a certain form of punch employed by accomplished pugilists. However and whenever applied "hay-maker" means action and is a complimentary term. "Hay-shaker," on the other hand, is nothing more or less than a mean insinuation, a slur upon one's humble station in life, an expression of contempt implying rustic simplicity—in short a "dirty dig." We gather that the man who uses it seeks to place upon the object of his scorn the ridicule of his fellow men. He would have him sneered at as one who is capable of nothing higher than pitching hay in the field or barn loft, or of spreading it in the horses' feed-box. To insist that a man who shakes hay is necessarily a dullard and otherwise afflicted and unfortunate, is about as unsound a policy as we have encountered. Starting with the President of the United States it is possible to enumerate a list of genuine "hay-shakers" whose efforts and successes have astounded the world, and inspired the respect and confidence of all English-speaking people. Recently members of the Boston City Council made an attack at their weekly field day of oratory on the country members of the Massachusetts Legislature. These wise dwellers in the city bitterly arraigned the up-State solons as "hay-shakers" and unable to make laws suitable for Boston. We snickered as we read the hot-air blast from School street (Boston) for we knew there would be a come-back. We have never met a so-called farmer or countryman who couldn't handle himself when it came to using appropriate or emphatic language. It was no surprise when one of the members of the General Court from a town in Southeastern Massachusetts said on the floor of the Senate, "I'd rather be a 'hay-shaker' in the Legislature than a 'dough-chaser' in the Boston City Council." For the benefit of the uninitiated we will say that the word "dough-chaser," as used by the member of the Honorable Senate, had no allusion to a bakery.

"Your discussion of the complexities of a snarled-up telephone cord reminds me of another telephone trouble which I would like to see aired," writes R. O. B. "The telephone company is not responsible for this one either, and cannot help itself any more than it can stop a telephone cord from becoming tangled. The kick I have coming deals with the pest who, when you answer as politely as you know how, demands, 'What number is this?' or 'Who are you?' Nothing riles me as much as that. It is evident that this pest doesn't recognize your voice when you answer. Instead of saying, 'Is this number soandso?' or 'Am I speaking to Mr. Soandso?' either query being legitimate, he bawls out, 'Who is this?' just as if you had no right to answer your own telephone. Nothing is more offensive than the manner of this rude individual. I may say that I cannot control my patience under such circumstances. Invariably I snap back, 'You have the advantage of me' and hang up the receiver. I am not a reformer by nature, but I believe that if a sufficient number of telephone subscribers who are victims of this boorish practice would join a revolt we might change conditions. To me it is a simple matter to inquire of a strange voice at the other end of the wire as to the name and number. Most anybody is willing to say 'yes' or 'no' and frequently will volunteer the information that it is not the number sought. Do what you can in your column and you will earn my everlasting gratitude."

The following will probably be familiar to many readers of this column, who, like ourselves, have been forced to listen to conversations not our own. It might be called, "Why do they do it?" Here it is:

"Going away for the Summer, I suppose?"

"Yes, I expect so."

"Same place you went last year?"

"Don't know yet; we haven't made up our minds."

"Let's see, you owned a place somewhere on the shore didn't you?"

"I did, but I sold that place."

"You did?"

"Yes, man came along and offered me more than twice what I paid for it and I let him have it."

"Don't blame you. Going to buy another one?"

"Thinking about it."

"Got anything in mind?"

"Been looking at two or three places."

"Can't make up your mind, eh?"

"It isn't that, but they want such high prices for the smallest kind of a dump. These fellows that take advantage of a man with a little money get my goat. They're a bunch of robbers."

"I think you're right."

"I know I am."

We observe that in our city there were a sufficient number of automobile accidents in one week to warrant a contemporary in grouping them under the single heading, "Auto Accidents." There seems to be good reason to believe that these mishaps are becoming so frequent as to justify a special department for them in every newspaper. We expect most any time to find that the dailies have created the office of "Auto Accident Editor."

We got a long laugh out of the Boston Review's line, "the scrap-book of Frank A. Goodwin, famous scrapper."

SCHOOL NOTES

Edited by DOROTHY DRAKE

Classical High

At a meeting of the Seniors of the Classical High School last week, it was voted that a tablet be erected in memory of Mr. Enoch C. Adams, principal of the Newton High School from 1897-1921.

It is hoped that the tablet may be ready so that it may be unveiled at graduation. It is to be of bronze, 2 ft., x 2 ft., x 10 in. with a rise at the top on which a three inch copy of the school seal will be placed. The tablet will be located in the north stairway in a similar position to that of the war memorial on the south one.

Miss Irene Gallagher has been chosen valedictorian of the Senior Class.

Baseball Honors

The Newton baseball team added another victory to its string when it took the Rindge team into camp by the score of 7-1, Monday of last week on Claflin field.

Newton outplayed Rindge all the way through and deserved the win.

Newton scored three runs in the first on Lawless's single, Gilligan was hit by the pitcher, O'Donnell was safe, Mahoney singled, and then Tedesco doubled. Holbrook flied to short for the third out.

Rindge scored in her half on Sweeney's double and a single by Elcewitz. This was Rindge's only run of the game. In the fourth, Newton scored three more runs. Holbrook and Howard Whitmore singled, Shaw sacrificed, with Holbrook scoring. Lawless doubled scoring Howard Whitmore and later scored himself on a hit and run play, with Gilligan at bat.

Newton's final tally came in the ninth, when Consodine singled, stole second, went to third on the catcher's error and came home on an error by the center fielder.

For Rindge, Sweeney and Elcewitz performed best. Lawless, O'Donnell, Tedesco, and Shaw went well for Newton.

Howard Whitmore pitched strongly for seven innings, and was replaced by Sullivan, who struck out four batters in the last two innings.

Girls' Tennis Team

The Newton girls' tennis team is now leading the Greater Boston Interscholastic Tennis League. The team defeated Winchester at Winchester 7-0 on May 14, winning every match. It also defeated Melrose at the Brae Burn Club 7-0 last Thursday, winning three doubles and two singles. Newton played Lexington at Lexington Tuesday. This is the last of the league games.

The team is composed of Muriel MacClelland, '24, captain and manager; Marjorie Weare, '24, Avis Trowbridge, '24, Catherine Bolster, '27, Annabel Kneeland, '25, and Doris Rowe, '26. This team was chosen after many try-outs held in April at the Dewitt Clinton indoor courts, and is in charge of Mrs. Kuntz.

Horace Mann School

Memorial Day exercises were held in our school on Tuesday morning in the hall, with Mr. Emerson H. Stoddard of the Grand Army of the Republic visiting. Mr. Crowell, the principal, spoke briefly concerning the observance of the day, the displaying of the flag and the need of true American citizens. He urged the children to strive to be strong physically, keen mentally, and honest always.

He then led the school in the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner." Natalie Welch recited "The Weaving of the Flag." Patriotic songs were sung with much good spirit by the fifth and sixth grades. Lester Potter recited "Barbara Frietchie," and Joan Welch, "Abraham Lincoln."

F. A. Day Junior High School

Monday, May 26, the F. A. Day baseball team defeated the Country Day team of Newton in a well played game. The opponents scored in the ninth inning, 13-5.

Tuesday the school assembly hall was the scene of a very successful dance held by the Student Council for the benefit of the Boys' Association.

Wednesday a very fitting and beautiful memorial service was observed in commemoration of the nation's absent ones. The address was delivered by Mr. Stoddard.

Hyde School

During Health Week the seventh grade girls gave up their cooking classes for talks on health. Several members read poems, stories, and clippings from papers and magazines. Following these was given a very interesting stereoptican lecture on "Foods for Health" by Miss Foster, of the Food and Dairy Council of Boston. The eighth grades also attended the lecture as a part of their science work.

Eugenia Martin of grade six, and Albert Hutchinson of grave seven, have had perfect attendance for the past four years.

Appropriate exercises for Memorial Day were held in the school hall yesterday morning, when the following program was given:

In 1898 he was married in Trinity Church, Boston, by Bishop Lawrence and Dr. Donald, to Miss Mary Armory Leland of Boston. In 1899 he accepted a call as rector of St. John's Church, Newtonville, the position he still holds.

For the last fifteen years, Mr. Loring has been Chaplain of the Sherborn Reformatory, and rector of the German mission of the Church of the Ascension, East Cambridge, preaching in German.

Mr. and Mrs. Loring have three children, Richard T. Loring, Jr., Oliver L. Loring, and John Loring, ing.

In recognition of his services to church and community for the last twenty-five years, a reception was tendered Rev. and Mrs. Loring on Wednesday night in the Parish House on Lowell avenue, Newtonville, by the wardens and vestrymen of the church.

Rev. and Mrs. Loring were assisted in receiving by the Honorable Marcus Morton and Mrs. Enoch Adams.

Mrs. Loring wore a bouquet of orchids and white roses. The Parish House was beautifully decorated with lilacs and other Spring flowers.

On the platform was a large photograph of Mr. Loring, which has been presented to the church by the Men's Club.

Among those present was Mayor Childs, and a delegation from the State Guard.

During the evening Miss Gladys Avery gave several vocal selections, which were much enjoyed. An orchestra and refreshments also added to the occasion.

by a spark from a chimney or a locomotive. The strong southwest wind kindled the entire top floor of the wooden tower, which is four stories in height, and within a few minutes it was a flaming torch, and black smoke belching from the shutters. Box 31 was sounded from Police Headquarters and on the arrival of Assistant George Stacy, a second alarm was sent.

The first lines were laid outside the building, but in a minute it was seen that the fire had to be fought from within and lines were brought up the ladders within the tower to the top floor. With the exception of water damage no harm came to the building below the top floor of the tower. A tin floor prevented the flames from descending. By 12 o'clock, the fire was entirely under control.

The main hall, used by the Players, Inc., and many other dramatic organizations, was not harmed, nor was any damage done back stage. The hall used by the First Church of Christ, Scientist, also escaped any damage. Considerable scenery stored in the rooms below the tower, furniture and props were damaged by water. The heat of the flames was such that asphalt shingles on the roof near the tower were melted, but despite the high wind no other buildings in the vicinity were harmed. Traffic was tied up for an hour and a half, and shuttle cars were run from Newton to West Newton and West Newton to Waltham and Framingham.

Damage is estimated at about $2000.

TRUE HEROES

The words of Lincoln are as true now as they were sixty years ago. "It is for us, the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom; and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

The men and women who honestly serve in public capacities, often in the face of unmerited and vicious abuse, are perhaps no less heroes than those who served on the field of battle; and their services are as necessary to the safety and welfare of us all. Now, more than ever before, when we are beset with distrust and corruption within our civic organization, with vast business and social problems to be solved, with uncertainties in our foreign relations, every man, woman and child needs to understand as much as possible of the details of government, that we may know best how to meet conditions as they are. The following are a very few of many books to be found in the Newton Free Library which throw light on the processes by which our country is governed, our relations with one another and with people outside our own country.

Bishop: Presidential nominations and elections (an informal history of conventions, campaigns and inaugurations, illustrated with photographs and cartoons)—JKN-B64

Fess: The history of political theory and Party Organization in the United States (a textbook emphasizing platforms and personalities)—JUS3-F42

Haynes: Social politics in the United States (on minor parties and the economic and social movements out of which they grow; chapters on socialism, single tax, the Progressive Party, the Non-partisan League, and the Agricultural Bloc.)—H-H334s

Johnston: History of American politics (brief yet detailed, with emphasis on the interpretation of the Constitution)—JUS3-J64

Jones: Readings on parties and elections in the United States (short articles selected from books, newspapers and other sources. Several of them deal with exciting events of a national convention)—JUS3-J71

Kent: The Great Game of Politics (Entertaining chapters on practical politics: How the precinct executive works, how he is promoted, how the city boss selects candidates, and the machinery of state and national politics.)—JUS3-K41g

Ellison Hall has just been renovated, and is most charming with a fresh coat of white paint, and shiny oak floor. The chief feature of Ellison Hall is the large brick fire place. The windows look out on the tennis courts, and a neatly curbed granolothic path leads away from the door, making one of the prettiest views on the hospital grounds.

One of the accident cases at the hospital last week was a rather unusual one. Saturday, while on his way to Philadelphia, a Roxbury young man who had joined the United States Coast Guard, went to the rear platform of the train while it was between West Newton and Auburndale, and because of the high wind and the lash of the train, lost his balance and was thrown to the track. His injuries were serious, but there is hope for his recovery.

ST. JAMES THEATRE — Judging from the enthusiastic reception which has greeted the second week of "The Alarm Clock" at the St. James, it seems destined for a long and brilliant run. This farce by Avery Hopwood is considered one of the finest of his late farces, and has a theme that is conducive of prolonged hilarity. This production at the St. James during the next few weeks will bring to a close the third season of the Boston Stock Company, virtually the entire cast remaining in this post-season run. Walter Gilbert is admirably cast as Bobby Brandon, the gay young bachelor, while Ann Mason, Anna Layng, Houston Richards and Harold Chase make an excellent back-woods quartet from Kamm's Corners, who arrive at Bobby's New York apartment to furnish him the proper stimulus for the simple life Bobby must lead on account of his attack of gout, brought about by his gay night life along the Broadway haunts.

MR. AUSTIN H. DECATUR

DEATH OF MR. DECATUR

Mr. Austin H. Decatur, one of the best-known hardware merchants in New England, died late Saturday night at his late home, 242 Otis street, West Newton. Death was due to cerebral hemorrhage.

Mr. Decatur had been ill for three days, but the illness was not thought to be fatal.

Mr. Decatur was born in Barrington, N. H., Feb. 9, 1858, the son of Horace G. Decatur and Lucy Hayes Decatur. He received his education in the common schools and at Dover Academy. At the age of 18 years he began his career in the hardware business as a retail clerk in Dover, N. H.

He came to Boston in 1881 and for the following several years was associated with Benjamin Calendar and Brooks Baldwin and Robbins, in the wholesale hardware trade. Eventually this latter firm developed into the present firm of Decatur and Hopkins.

Mr. Decatur's church affiliations had been for many years with the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville. He was a past president of the National Hardware Jobbers' Association, the Boston Credit Men's Association, and the Boston Rotary Club. Of the Masonic bodies, he was a past high chief of the Newton Royal Arch Chapter, past commander of the Gethsemane Commandery, the active president of the Newton Masonic executive council, a member of Dalhousie Lodge, A. F. and A. M., of Cryptic Council, R. and S. M., and of Aleppo Temple, Mystic Shrine.

He was a member of the board of directors of the Boylston National Bank and of the Boston Penny Savings Bank. He was a member of the Brae-Burn Country Club, the West Newton Neighborhood Club, the Paint and Oil Golf Club, and the Boston City Club.

In 1884 Mr. Decatur married Mary B. Wheeler of Exeter, N. H., who died some years ago. In 1918 he married Florence M. Stacey of Springfield, who survives him. He is also survived by two brothers, Henry E. Decatur of Brookline and Frank I. Decatur of Barrington, N. H.

Wholesale hardware houses in Boston and other places suspended business Tuesday afternoon, while the funeral services were in progress. The store of Decatur & Hopkins Company was closed all day. The services were held in his home at 242 Otis street, West Newton, and were conducted by Rev. D. Brewer Eddy of Newtonville.

In addition to many of Mr. Decatur's associates in business, there were present representatives of the Boston Rotary Club, the Hardware Jobbers' Association, the Boston Credit Men's Association, of Gethsemane Commandery, K. T., Newton Royal Arch Chapter, the Newton Masonic Executive Council, Dalhousie Lodge, A. F. and A. M., Cryptic Council, R. and S. M., and Aleppo Temple of the Mystic Shrine.

The honorary pallbearers were George Bacon of Auburndale, who is eminent commander of Gethsemane Commandery; William D. Harvey of Brookline, Albert M. Lyon of Newtonville, George C. Morton of Roxbury, Edward P. Tuttle of Newton and Robert S. Weston of Boston. The pallbearers, all of whom are connected with the Decatur & Hopkins organization, were G. Sumner Wilson, George Perry, Arthur Briggs, Frank Gray, Herbert Stetson and Edward Smith.

Burial was in the Newton Cemetery, where Rev. Mr. Eddy conducted the committal service.

High School Tennis Team

Newton High's crack tennis team won the Connecticut State Interscholastic Tennis Tournament from Loomis School, 16 points to 13.

Besides winning the final match the Newton team placed two men in the semi-finals.

Turner of Newton who won the final match, played Captain Johnson in the semi-final round and won, while Malcolm Hill of Loomis School had no trouble in disposing of the other semi-finalist, Semple of Roxbury.

The final was a bitterly fought contest throughout, but Turner emerged the victor after three sets, the score being 4-6, 6-0, 6-3.

This year's victory makes the second successive one for the Orange and Black men.

RECITAL

An evening of pianoforte music given by the pupils of Margaret Reeves, assisted by Mary Clarke, harpist, was enjoyed by a large audience at the Newton Centre Woman's Club, on Friday evening, May 23rd.

The program was well assembled and included compositions by Schubert, Horvath, Schumann, Mozart, Mendelssohn, Beethoven, MacDowell and Chopin. One of the novel features was a Lullabye played with such charm and grace by five-year-old Louis Cox of Brookline, that his audience was captivated.

The pupils received favors at the close of the performance, and ices were enjoyed by all.

The room was tastefully decorated with roses and lilacs. Miss Reeves, who is a pupil of Dai Buell, was assisted by Miss Mary Clifford, Miss Anna Farrell, Miss Alice Scott, and Miss Evelyn Reeves and the ushers, Mr. William Kneeland and Mr. Leo Reeves.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

of the scouts and other interested persons to meet there and go over the property. Troop 11 of Newton, 5 of Newton Centre, 2 of Auburndale and 1 of Newtonville all have permanent camps on the property, and space has been assigned the other troops to build camps or to make temporary camps as they see fit. Troop 4 of Newton Highlands, have a camp just south of the south line of the property. The land is covered with mostly second growth, but there are some fine pines, and the view from some of the large rocks is very beautiful, it being possible to see several towns and the winding way of the Charles for some distance.

The different troops were assembled at three o'clock to clear out a space in front of "Council Rock," after which everyone was invited to an excellent supper of "Hunters' Stew," Rolls, coffee and doughnuts, which was provided and served by troop 4, Mr. F. E. Lichtenthaler, Scoutmaster, of Newton Highlands. The supper was cooked over a new camp kitchen which has been donated to this troop by Mr. Marcy, a member of the troop committee. After supper a short meeting, in place of a campfire which was prevented by a high wind, was held, and the day was ended by "taps" sounded from different points.

The arrangements were in charge of Mr. J. M. Carley, Scout Commissioner, who was assisted by Deputy Commissioners Varney and Stone. In addition to about 140 scouts and officers, there were over forty guests present, including wives and families of the officers and members of the executive committee.

The executive committee was represented by Mr. Jas. C. Irwin, President, Mr. W. S. Radway, Vice-president, and Mr. John H. Eddy, Treasurer of the Council.

FOURTH STRAIGHT FOR NEWTON PALS

The Newton Pals chalked up their fourth straight victory Sunday, May 25, by defeating the well-known Fitton Jrs., of East Boston by the score of 10 to 4. The Fittons had won quite a few games previous to their meeting the Pals, but they proved easy victims to the fine playing of the home team.

"Chet" Aucoin twirled for the Pals and did an unusually good job of it, having 14 strikeouts to his credit. "Sam" McLean turned in a good day's work at catch, and had a field day at bat getting three hits out of four times at bat. "Timmy" Finn, our little third baseman, played a wonderful game at third, and some of his many stops were of the sensational variety. "Berny" Lyman, our husky little shortstop, played his usual good game at short and the playing of these two lads in their respective positions was a pleasure to see.

Outside of a few errors the fielding behind Aucoin was excellent, every lad playing his position in big-league form. Truly Newton may well be proud of this fighting aggregation which so nobly represents her, and each of the players and their manager deserve special credit for the splendid work they have accomplished.

SQUASH TENNIS CLUB

Six first-round matches and two in the second in the State doubles tournament were played last Saturday on the courts of the Newton Centre Squash Tennis Club.

R. Baker and E. Benedict were forced to go three sets in order to beat A. Sturgis and O. Williams in the first round.

P. B. Parker and F. C. MacKrell won their scheduled contest with P. Cummings and D. Strahan by default.

Another first round match, S. Rockwell and W. H. Rice vs. R. Cooke and P. K. Ellis, also went three sets before the former combination won.

Have Own Mica Mines

Mica, the transparent, heat-resisting mineral, familiar to many through its use for windows in heating stoves, has now become so essential in electrical industry that the larger electrical-supply manufacturing companies own and operate their own mines.

mendations which are emerging from the Newton Community Study or survey which has been carried on by the Central Council during the past winter.

It is proposed that the all-day Conference program should include several small "section meetings" or conferences to be held simultaneously during the morning; a "picnic lunch" in the middle of the day for those who wished to attend both morning and afternoon sessions; a general session in the afternoon; a dinner; and a large public meeting in the evening. An exhibit of the work and activities of the various welfare agencies of the city and "come-and-see" auto trips to certain of these organizations were suggested as additional elements of the Conference.

After representatives of a number of the leading welfare and civic organizations of the city had spoken in favor of the plan and had pledged the support of their organizations, the Council voted unanimously in favor of the Conference. The Executive Committee of the Council was instructed to appoint a special committee to plan and direct the Conference, with the full co-operation and assistance of the member-organizations of the Council.

The Council's meeting on May 27 was a round-table conference at which various matters of importance were discussed and acted upon. Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, Vice-President of the Council, presided in the absence of President George M. Angier.

Announcement was made of the names of the officers elected by the four divisions of the Council to serve during the coming year, as follows:

Civic Division: Chairman, Hon. Thomas Weston, Jr., Secretary, William M. Noone.

Community Division: Chairman, Mrs. Ralph C. Henry; Secretary, Miss Caroline Peirce.

Health Division: Chairman, Dr. Fred M. Lowe; Secretary, Miss Marie M. Knowles.

Welfare Division: Chairman, Mrs. Irving O. Palmer; Secretary, Mrs. Carrie A. Hull.

The Governor John A. Andrew Home Association was admitted to the Council, bringing the total organization membership up to thirty-eight.

The Council approved a plan presented by the Executive Committee providing for a preliminary study of the financing of Newton social agencies. The Council will attempt to ascertain, through this study, how much money is being spent on social work in Newton, what are the sources of income of the various agencies (that is, taxation, earnings, endowments, voluntary subscriptions, etc.), what methods are used in raising money, what are the problems encountered by the agencies in raising their budgets, etc. In connection with the discussion regarding this plan, Mr. Frank E. Wing, Director of the Boston Dispensary and delegate-at-large to the Newton Council, spoke briefly of some of the experiences of the Boston social agencies in connection with similar studies.

Mrs. Ralph C. Henry, chairman of the Recreation Survey Committee, presented three recommendations, all of which were adopted by the Council. The first of these recommendations provided "that the Newton Central Council seek to bring about the organization, in each village of the city, of a Village Committee which will co-operate with the Council in studying and securing appropriate action in regard to the social and civic problems affecting the people of that village." The village committees will be asked to review the reports of the various sections of the Community Study, considering especially such recommendations as bear upon the problems of the village and their relation to the problems of the city as a whole. The work of each Village Committee is to be linked up closely with existing organizations in the village, and wherever it seems most expedient, an existing committee rather than a new committee may be utilized.

Another recommendation of the Committee emphasized the need for better publicity on the part of Newton social agencies, and provided that the Council should make "Better Publicity" one of its main objectives during the coming year, considering, among other things, the organization of a study-group to study publicity principles and methods in relation to welfare work.

The Committee recommended also that the Central Council, in co-operation with the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, should study the question as to whether some system of city-wide volunteer registration might be devised, to promote volunteer service in social work.

Reports of progress were made for all of the survey committees. It was announced that the Health Survey Committee had recently reviewed an excellent report of a special survey of the School Health Service, carried out by Miss Florence H. M. Emory and Miss Helen D. Freeborn, who have been studying in the field of Public Health at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. This survey was carried on under the supervision of Professor Murray P. Horwood, who is acting as Consultant for the Health Section of the Newton Community Study. Another factor in the Health Study was a recent survey of the Newton District Nursing Association by Miss Frances V. Brink, Field Secretary of the National Organization for Public Health Nursing, whose offices are located in New York. The President of the District Nursing Association, Mrs. George W. St. Amant, announced that the Association will consider this report in detail at a special meeting to be held on June 9.

NEWTON HIGH ALUMNI ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

A meeting of the Alumni of the Newton High School and others interested in Athletics, was held last Monday night at the High School, Mr. S. A. Wood, presiding. A constitution was discussed and partly adopted. There was an excellent attendance and much enthusiasm.

Next Monday night a meeting will be held at the Newton Club, to which all who are interested in Athletics in the schools of Newton are cordially invited, whether graduates of the schools or not. This is a very important subject, and should be of interest to all parents.
